Thinking Architecture Edition Peter Zumthor:

Thinking Architecture Peter Zumthor, 1998 Featuring four essays by Peter Zumthor this volume exhibits the essence of Zumthor's architectural ideas Thinking Architecture Peter Zumthor, 1999-01-01 In order to design a building with a sensuous connection to life one must think in a way that goes far beyond form and construction In these essays Peter Zumthor expresses his motivation in designing buildings which speak to our emotions and understanding in so many ways and possess a powerful and unmistakable presence and personality This book whose first edition has been out of print for years has been expanded to include three new essays Does Beauty Have a Form The Magic of the Real and Light in the Landscape It has been freshly illustrated throughout with new color photographs of Zumthor's new home and studio in Haldenstein taken specially for this edition by Laura Padgett and received a new typography by Hannele Grönlund

Thinking Architecture Peter Zumthor, 2006 The Pritzker winning architect offers insight into what motivates his design process explaining how he creates environments that appeal to a visitor's heart and mind in different ways while instilling a sense of presence in a third edition that has two additional essays including Architecture and Landscape and The Leis Houses

Twenty Buildings Every Architect Should Understand Simon Unwin, 2010-02-25 Have you ever wondered how the ideas behind the world's greatest architectural designs came about What process does an architect go through to design buildings which become world renowned for their excellence This book reveals the secrets behind these buildings He asks you to read the building and understand its starting point by analyzing its final form Through the gradual revelations made by an understanding of the thinking behind the form you learn a unique methodology which can be used every time you look at any building Twenty-Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand Simon Unwin, 2014-11-17 Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is an essential companion to Simon Unwin's Analysing Architecture and part of the trilogy which also includes his Exercises in Architecture Learning to Think as an Architect Together the three books offer an introduction to the workings of architecture providing for the three aspects of learning theory examples and practice Twenty Five Buildings focusses on analysing examples using the methodology offered by Analysing Architecture which operates primarily through the medium of drawing In this second edition five further buildings have been added to the original twenty from an even wider geographical area which now includes the USA France Italy Mexico Switzerland Spain Finland Germany Australia Norway Sweden India and Japan The underlying theme of Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is the relationship of architecture to the human being how it frames our lives and orchestrates our experiences how it can help us make sense of the world and contribute to our senses of identity and place Exploring these dimensions through a wide range of case studies that illustrate the rich diversity of twentieth and twenty first century architecture this book is essential reading for every architect The Environmental Imagination Dean Hawkes, 2008 This volume presents a chronologically ordered and detailed account of the developing relationship between technics and poetics in environmental design in architecture through a consideration of the work of major names in the field Architects Today Kester Rattenbury, Robert Bevan, Kieran Long, 2006-08-10 This volume offers both an introduction to and an insight into key contemporary architects as well as giving a snapshot of the varied nature of architecture today For each architect there are details of their life and work and illustrations of their most representative and iconic buildings Materials and Meaning in Architecture Nathaniel Coleman, 2020-02-20 Interweaving architecture philosophy and cultural history Materials and Meaning in Architecture develops a rich and multi dimensional exploration of materials and materiality in an age when architectural practice seems otherwise preoccupied with image and visual representation Arguing that architecture is primarily experienced by the whole body rather than chiefly with the eyes this broad ranging study shows how the most engaging built works are as tactile as they are sensuous communicating directly with the bodily senses especially touch It explores the theme of material imagination and the power of establishing place identity in an architect s work to consider the enduring expressive possibilities of material use in architecture The book s chapters can be dipped into each individual chapter providing close readings of built works by selected modern masters Scarpa Zumthor Williams and Tsien insights into key texts and theories Ruskin Loos Bachelard or short cultural histories of materials wood brick concrete steel and glass And yet taken together the chapters build to a powerful book length argument about how meaning accrues to materials through time and about the need to reinsert the bodily experience of materiality into architectural design It is thus also in part a manifesto arguing for architecture to act as a bulwark against the tide of an increasingly depersonalised built environment With insights for a wide range of readers ranging from students through to researchers and professional designers Materials and Meaning in Architecture will cause theorists to rethink their assumptions and designers to see new potential for their projects Beyond Environmental Comfort Boon Lay Ong, 2013-06-26 Beyond Environmental Comfort highlights some of the key ideas that form the foundation of the field of environmental comfort and at the same time gives voice to some of the concerns and considerations on the limitations of the field as it stands today Bringing together a range of foremost thinkers in their respective fields Michel Cabanac Derek Clements Croome Nick Baker Harold Marshall Juhani Pallasmaa Dean Hawkes and Constance Classen this book argues for a deeper appreciation of how environmental comfort may be understood in terms of our relationship with the environment rather than as independent qualities For the first time these diverse views are brought together by Editor Boon Lay Ong to present insights into a world beyond what is normally covered in academic research In the process an attempt is made to define the field for the future This book shows that it is by understanding just how environmental design needs to go beyond mere comfort and deal with well being that we can meaningfully design our future The Architectural Detail Edward R. Ford, 2012-08-10 The Architectural Detail is author Edward R Ford s life s work and this may be his most important book to date Ford walks the reader through five widely accepted and wildly different definitions of detail in an attempt to find once and for all the quintessential definition of detail in architecture

Living Architecture Jonny Sage, Precedented Environmental Futures Colin Porteous, 2019-04-17 This book addresses the built environment through the lens of environmental architecture and in a holistic manner It moves gradually from psychophysiology and thinking doing feeling modalities through environmental criteria to environmental modulation concluding with a debate around mitigation and adaptation Much use is made of re interpreting past quotations seen as relevant for environmental architecture No definitive conclusions are reached but rather broad discursive messages are offered The text will have lasting luminance for new generations involved with the built environment ARCHDESIGN '19

/ VI. INTERNATIONAL ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS Ortak Yayın (Mutual Publication), 2019-01-01 VI INTERNATIONAL ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN CONFERENCE 2019 The Architect's Brain Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2011-05-25 The Architect's Brain Neuroscience Creativity and Architecture is the first book to consider the relationship between the neurosciences and architecture offering a compelling and provocative study in the field of architectural theory Explores various moments of architectural thought over the last 500 years as a cognitive manifestation of philosophical psychological and physiological theory Looks at architectural thought through the lens of the remarkable insights of contemporary neuroscience particularly as they have advanced within the last decade Demonstrates the neurological justification for some very timeless architectural ideas from the multisensory nature of the architectural experience to the essential relationship of ambiguity and metaphor to creative thinking Mountains and Megastructures Martin Beattie, Christos Kakalis, Matthew Ozga-Lawn, 2020-12-21 This book explores the shared qualities of mountains as naturally formed landscapes and of megastructures as manmade landscapes seeking to unravel how each can be understood as an open system of complex network relationships human natural and artificial By looking at mountains and megastructures in an interchangeable way the book negotiates the fixed boundaries of natural and artificial worlds to suggest a more complex relationship between landscape and architecture It suggests an ecological understanding of the interconnectedness of architecture and landscape and an entangled network of relations Urban colonialist fictional rural and historical landscapes are interwoven into this fabric that also involves discontinuities tensions and conflicts as parts of a system that is never linear but rather fluid and organic as driven by human endeavor Artistic Practices and Cultural Transfer in Early Modern Italy Allison Sherman, 2017-07-05 For too long the centre of the Renaissance has been considered to be Rome and the art produced in or inspired by it This collection of essays dedicated to Deborah Howard brings together an impressive group of internationally recognised scholars of art and architecture to showcase both the diversity within and the porosity between the centre and periphery in Renaissance art Without abandoning Rome but together with other centres of art production the essays both shift their focus away from conventional categories and bring together recent trends in Renaissance studies notably a focus on cultural contact material culture and historiography They explore the material mechanisms for the transmission and evolution of ideas artistic training and networks as well as the dynamics of collaboration and exchange between artists theorists and patrons The chapters each with a wealth of groundbreaking research and previously unpublished documentary evidence as well as innovative methodologies reinterpret Italian art relating to canonical sites and artists such as Michelangelo Titian Tintoretto Veronese and Sebastiano del Piombo in addition to showcasing the work of several hitherto neglected architects painters and an inimitable engineer inventor

Teaching Carbon Neutral Design in North America Robin Z. Puttock, 2025-03-12 This book brings to light a diverse range of innovative architectural design studio methodologies formulated to educate future graduates to combat the climate crisis through carbon neutral design Award winning professors detail tried and tested studio methodologies outlining their philosophical rationale the role of precedent study design concept and professional partnerships the approach to analytics and software design development required readings assignment and student work examples and anticipated future innovation Chapters are grouped under varying focal points including community empowerment bioclimatic response performance analytics design build and urban scale all adopting a holistic view of sustainable design that incorporates technical challenges as well as those of equity and social justice This heterogeneous compilation of strategies encourages wide accessibility to and acceptance by studio professors as well as administrators and faculty developing architecture curricula This will in turn maximize the impact on curtailing carbon emissions resulting from the construction and operations of our built environment

Introducing Architectural Theory Korydon Smith, Miguel Guitart, 2024-01-22 Building on the success of the first edition an engaging and reader friendly work on complex ideas Introducing Architectural Theory Expanding the Disciplinary Debate broadens the range of themes voices and geographies represented to provide a more comprehensive and contemporary theory book This book presents major discourses in architectural theory and design in a debate like format integrating a series of edited texts across architectural history with context and newly written commentaries by the authors This new edition has been fully revised updated and expanded to include long standing debates such as simplicity vs complexity or the relationship between form and function as well as newer discussions on innovation globalization and social equity Authors Smith and Guitart provide a comprehensive means and conceptual framework for readers to compare multiple points of view The chapter structure discussion questions and additional resources allow teachers to facilitate in class discussions and writing assignments This book remains the most accessible architectural theory textbook written for beginning architecture students and those outside the discipline Its reflective and critical approach will equally engage the minds of upper level students and experts

Landscapes of Affect and Emotion , 2021-10-25 The volume Landscapes of Affect and Emotion maps out the current approaches on emotion and affect in environmental humanities and interdisciplinary landscape studies It discusses the contemporary emotional turn in humanities and its relation to space place and landscape Emotions and affects are addressed from three main angles representation and symbolic landscape place experience and lifeworlds and landscape as an embodied set of practices These are studied in terms of the changing human nature relationship focusing on politicisations and contestations of landscape as well as boundaries and hybridity between culture and nature

The Material Imagination Matthew Mindrup, 2016-03-03

In recent years architectural discourse has witnessed a renewed interest in materiality under the guise of such familiar tropes as material honesty form finding or digital materiality Motivated in part by the development of new materials and an increasing integration of designers in fabricating architecture a proliferation of recent publications from both practice and academia explore the pragmatics of materiality and its role as a protagonist of architectural form Yet as the ethos of material pragmatism gains more popularity theorizations about the poetic imagination of architecture continue to recede Compared to an emphasis on the design of visual form in architectural practice the material imagination is employed when the architect thinks matter dreams in it lives in it or in other words materializes the imaginary As an alternative to a formal approach in architectural design this book challenges readers to rethink the reverie of materials in architecture through an examination of historical precedent architectural practice literary sources philosophical analyses and everyday experience Focusing on matter as the premise of an architect's imagination each chapter identifies and graphically illustrates how material imagination defines the conceptual premises for making architecture
