Remapping Gender, Place and Mobility Stine Thidemann Faber, Helene Pristed Nielsen, 2016-03-03 Enhancing our understanding of how people and places are affected by globalization at the level of everyday interactions within Nordic Peripheries this book sheds light on local particularities as well as global confluences by illuminating how gender mobility and belonging contribute to ruptures and or stability in the lives of men and women living in and or moving within these northern localities Crossing disciplinary and geographical boundaries the focus of the book is specifically on how global processes shape and influence the Nordic countries at the social level Denmark Norway Sweden Iceland Finland as well as the Faroe Islands The book starts from the premise that the Nordic peripheries offer an especially powerful lens on peripherality in a globalized and globalizing world because the region as a whole is traditionally perceived as relatively affluent stable and with high levels of social equality Yet as the different chapters in the book demonstrate with case studies that illuminate diverse gendered processes globalization produces ruptures and new social constellations also at the rims of Nordic societies well beyond the cushioning of comprehensive social welfare regimes By elevating the empirical findings to more general debates about the gendered effects of globalization the book invites the reader to reflect upon not only Nordic particularities but also how insights from this part of the world can be instructive for understanding the nuances and complexities of global confluences at large
