This Child's Gonna Live Contemporary Classics By Women:

This Child's Gonna Live Sarah E. Wright, 2002-05-01 An exploration of the black experience from a woman's perspective anticipating fiction by writers like Toni Morrison and Alice Walker The New York Times Originally published in 1969 to broad critical acclaim This Child's Gonna Live is an unsurpassed testament to human endurance in the face of poverty racism and despair Set in a fishing village on Maryland's Eastern Shore in the 1930s this story has as its main character the unforgettable Mariah Upshur a hard working sensual resilient woman full of hope and determination despite living in a society that conspires to keep her down In her mind she carries on a conversation with Jesus who like Mariah herself is passionate and compassionate at times funny and resolutely resilient to fatalism Often compared to Zora Neale Hurston for her lyrical and sure handed use of local dialect Wright like Hurston powerfully depicts the predicament of poor African American women who confront the multiple oppressions of class race and gender In every respect an impressive achievement The canon of American folk epic is enriched by this small masterpiece The New York Times Book Review It has always been my contention that the Black woman in America will write the greatest of the American novels For it is the Black woman forced to survive at the bottom rung of American society who is compelled to survey by the very extremity of her existence the depths of the American soul In reading Sarah Wright's searing novel I am convinced that my assessment was correct Rosa Guy author of The Friends This Child's Gonna Live Sarah E. Wright, 2002 Classic novel of an African American woman's survival amidst poverty called a small masterpiece by the New York Times Daddy Was a Number Runner Louise Meriwether, 2002-12-01 This modern classic is a tough tender bitter novel of a black girl struggling towards womanhood in 1930s Harlem with a foreword by James Baldwin Publishers Weekly Depression era Harlem is home for twelve year old Francie Coffin and her family and it's both a place of refuge and the source of untold dangers for her and her poor working class family The beloved daddy of the title indeed becomes a number runner when he is unable to find legal work and while one of Francie's brothers dreams of becoming a chemist the other is already in a gang Francie is a dreamer too but there are risks in everything from going to the movies to walking down the block and her pragmatism eventually outweighs her hope We was all poor and black and apt to stay that way and that was that First published in 1970 Daddy Was a Number Runner is one of the seminal novels of the black experience in America The New York Times Book Review proclaimed it a most important novel G.K. Hall Interdisciplinary Bibliographic Guide to Black Studies Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture, 2003 Allegra Maud Goldman Edith Konecky, 2001 One of those bright eye catching things that come in small packages Allegra Maud Goldman is a charming nudzh Notice her Kirkus Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2002 Trini Estella Portillo Trambley, 2017-03-15 The sole novel of beloved Chicana author Estela Portillo Trambley Trini is the epic story of one girl's journey across borders and into womanhood Born in the rural region of the Tarahumara Raramuri people in Mexico Trini shares her family's struggle to squeeze a living out of her beautiful but inhospitable land But she is sustained by the rich traditions of her Mestiza heritage the adopted traditions of the Tarahumara and by her own intelligence and spirit As a young woman she crosses into the United States to pursue her dreams of independence and land ownership Trini is a novel distinguished by the richness and beauty of its language and by its rare depiction of life in the Borderlands in the 1940s and 1950s Most remarkable of all is its portrait of a sensitive and courageous young Chicana woman whose quiet heroism resonates from every page Here restored to print with a new foreword this early novel of the Mexican American experience is bound to take its rightful place among contemporary classics of multicultural American literature American Book Publishing Record, 2002 Reading Black, Reading Feminist Henry Louis

Gates, 1990-10-30 A unique and comprehensive collection of 26 literary essays that explore the rich cultural history of black women in America Black women's writing has finally emerged as one of the most dynamic fields of American literature Here leading literary critics both male and female black and white look at fiction nonfiction poetry slave narratives and autobiographies in a totally new way In essence they reconstruct a literary history that documents black women as artists intellectuals symbol makers teachers and survivors Important writers whose work and lives are explored include Toni Morrison Gloria Gaynor Maya Angelou and Alice Walker and the fascinating list of essays range from Nellie Y McKay's The Souls of Black Women Folk in the Writings of W E B Du Bois to Jewelle L Gomez's very personal tribute to Lorraine Hansberry as a dramatist and crusader for social justice Henry Louis Gates Jr the editor of this anthology and a noted authority on African American literature has provided a thought provoking introduction that celebrates the experience of reading black reading feminist A penetrating look at women's writing from a unique perspective this superb collection brings to light the rich heritage of literary creativity among African American women Why is the fugitive slave the fiery orator the political activist the abolitionist always represented as a black man How does the heroic voice and heroic image of the black woman get suppressed in a culture that depended on her heroism for survival Mary Helen Washington from her essay in Reading Black Reading Feminist Toward Wholeness in Paule Marshall's Fiction Joyce Owens Pettis, 1995 An examination of Marshall's work and its place in the tradition of African American women's fiction and of black American and Caribbean literature and culture Explores the intersecting patterns of race class and gender oppressions that contribute to her characters problems and their attempts to transcend this oppression For readers in women's Caribbean and African American literature Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Towards a New Womanhood Usha Puri, 1989

Silences Tillie Olsen, 2003 A landmark survey of disenfranchised literary voices and the forces that seek to silence them from the influential activist and author of Tell Me a Riddle With this groundbreaking work Olsen revolutionized the study of literature by shedding critical light on the writings of marginalized women and working class people From the excavated testimony of authors letters and diaries Olsen shows us the many ways the creative spirit especially in those disadvantaged by gender class or race has been suppressed through the years Olsen recounts the torments of Herman Melville the shame that brought Willa Cather to a dead halt and the struggles of Olsen's personal heroine Virginia Woolf the greatest exemplar of a writer who confronted the forces that worked to silence her First published in 1978 Silences expanded the literary canon and the ways readers engage with literature This 25th anniversary edition includes Olsen's classic reading lists of forgotten authors and a new introduction Bracing and prescient Silences remains of primary importance to those who want to understand how art is generated or subverted and to those trying to create it themselves Margaret Atwood The New York Times Book Review A valuable book an angry book a call to action Maxine Hong Kingston Silences helped me to keep my sanity many a day Gloria Naylor author of Mama Day Silences is the Bible I constantly return to it Sandra Cisneros author of The House on Mango Street Silences will like A Room of One's Own be quoted where there is talk of the circumstances in which literature is possible Adrienne Rich author of Diving into the Wreck The Methuen Drama Guide to Contemporary American Playwrights Christopher Innes, Peter Paul Schnierer, Martin Middeke, Matthew C.
