Introductory Accounting Daniel P. Tinkelman, 2015-12-22 Introductory Accounting adopts a measurement approach to teaching graduate students the basics of accounting. Integrating both financial and managerial principles from the U.S. and around the globe, it links accounting to other areas of business such as finance, operations, and management. Providing students with the context to understand how and why accounting is a valuable part of business, readers will gain an understanding of accounting's role in financial analysis and managerial decision making. Tinkelman discusses accounting as an imperfect measurement system, offering guidance on how quantitative data can benefit analysts and managers when used with an understanding of its limitations. The book is strongly grounded in research and also draws on plenty of examples and cases to bring these issues to life. The conversational style of Introductory Accounting will appeal to MBA students, while key terms and illustrative problems make assignments easy for instructors. Additional materials for students and instructors are available on the book's companion website. Castells in Africa Muller, Johan, Cloete, Nico, 2017-11-28 Castells in Africa: Universities and Development collects the papers produced by Manuel Castells on his visits to South Africa and publishes them in a single volume for the first time. The book also publishes a series of empirically based papers which together display the multi-faceted and far-sighted scope of his theoretical framework and its fecundity for fine-grained, detailed empirical investigations on universities and development in Africa. Castells, in his afterword to this book, always looking forward, assesses the role of the university in the wake of the upheavals to the global economic order. He decides the university's function not only remains but is more important than ever. This book will serve as an introduction to the relevance of his work for higher education in Africa for postgraduate students, reflective practitioners, and researchers. Includes two previously unpublished public lectures and an Afterword by Manuel Castells. Knowledge Production and Contradictory

Functions in African Higher Education Nico Cloete, Peter Maassen, 2015-03-01 The dominant global discourse in higher education now focuses on world-class universities inevitably located predominantly in North America, Europe, and increasingly East Asia. The rest of the world, including Africa, is left to play catch up. But that discourse should focus rather on the tensions, even contradictions, between excellence and engagement with which all universities must grapple. Here the African experience has much to offer the high participation and generously resourced systems of the so-called developed world This book offers a critical review of that experience and so makes a major contribution to our understanding of higher education

Philosophical Foundations of Tax Law Monica Bhandari, 2017-02-23 Tax law changes at a startling rate not only does societal change bring with it demands for change in the tax system but changes in the political climate will force change as will many other competing pressures With this pace of change it is easy to focus on the practical and forget the core underpinnings of the tax system and their philosophical justifications Taking a pause to remind ourselves of those principles and how they can operate in the modern tax system is crucial to ensuring that the tax system does not diverge too far from what it should be or could be It is essential to understand the answers to some of the seemingly basic questions that surround tax before we can even begin to think about what a tax system should look like This collection brings together major themes and difficult questions in the philosophical foundations of tax law The chapters consider practical issues such as justification enforcement design and mechanics and provide a full and coherent analysis of the basis for tax law Philosophical Foundations of Tax Law allows the reader to consider how tax systems should move forward in the modern world with a sound philosophical basis to provide the practical tax system that the state requires and citizens deserve
