The Tin Ticket The Heroic Journey Of Australias Convict Women:

The Tin Ticket Deborah J. Swiss, 2010-10-05 The convict women who built a continent A moving and fascinating story Adam Hochschild author of King Leopold's Ghost Historian Deborah J Swiss tells the heartbreaking horrifying and ultimately triumphant story of the women exiled from the British Isles and forced into slavery and savagery who created the most liberated society of their time The Tin Ticket takes us to the dawn of the nineteenth century and into the lives of Agnes McMillan whose defiance and resilience carried her to a far more dramatic rebellion Agnes's best friend Janet Houston who rescued her from the Glasgow wynds and was also transported to Van Diemen's Land Ludlow Tedder forced to choose just one of her four children to accompany her to the other side of the world Bridget Mulligan who gave birth to a line of powerful women stretching to the present day It also tells the tale of Elizabeth Gurney Fry a Quaker reformer who touched all their lives Ultimately it is the story of women discarded by their homeland and forgotten by history who by sheer force of will become the heart and soul of a new nation

The Wreck of the Neva: The Horrifying Fate of a Convict Ship and the Women Aboard Cal McCarthy, Kevin Todd, 2013-04-10 The Neva sailed from Cork on 8 January 1835 destined for the prisons of Botany Bay There were 240 people on board most of them either female convicts or the wives of already deported convicts and their children On 13 May 1835 the ship hit a reef just north of King's Island in Australia and sank with the loss of 224 lives one of the worst shipwrecks in maritime history The authors have comprehensively researched sources in Ireland Australia and the UK to reconstruct in fascinating detail the stories of these women Most perished beneath the ocean waves but for others the journey from their poverty stricken and criminal pasts continued towards hope of freedom and prosperity on the far side of the world At a time when Australia is once again becoming a new home for a generation of migrating Irish it is appropriate that the formative historical links between the two countries be remembered

Play Among Books Miro Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

Solomon's Noose Steve Harris, 2018-09-01 The story of a young convict Solomon Blay who became Her Majesty's hangman in Van Diemen's Land the man who personally had to deliver an Empire's judgment on 200 men and women and endured his own noose of personal demons and demonisation in order to survive all in the context of the great struggles of good evil life death hope despair which drew the attention of Darwin Twain Trollope and Dickens as Van Diemen's Land evolved from a Hades of Evil to sow the seeds of nationhood The book paints a vivid picture of the society and poverty from which Blay's character was forged in England and the desperate brutal nature of being a convict in Van Diemen's Land Solomon's Noose is an important book in exposing the dark underbelly in the formation of modern Australia From the furthest corner of that foreign country the past comes the haunting story of the convict who became the British Empire's youngest executioner Beware the shock of the true Andrew Rule award winning journalist and author Impressive research and a story that challenges the imagination except that it's true A prisoner elects to become a hangman to improve his lot in life All this set against the Gothic world of Van Diemen's Land in the time of convicts bushrangers and rough justice Les Carlyon bestselling author of Gallipoli and The Great War Britain's Industrial Revolution in 100 Objects John Broom,2023-02-22 The period of Britain's Industrial Revolution was perhaps the most transformative era in the nation's history Between about 1750 and 1914 life and work home and school church and community changed irreversibly for Britain's rapidly expanding population Lives were transformed some for the better but many endured abysmal domestic and workplace conditions Eventually improvements were made to Britain's social fabric which led to the prospect of richer and more fulfilled lives for working men women and even children Focusing on 100 objects that either directly influenced or arose from these changes John Broom offers a distinctive insight into this fascinating age With plentiful illustrations and suggestions for visits to hundreds of places of historical interest this book makes an ideal companion for a journey into Britain's industrial past Lawless Ladies Trish Colton,Diane Holloway,2025-03-20 This fascinating book looks at various crimes perpetrated in all four countries of the UK over ten centuries the stories of almost 200 of the many women who committed them and the punishments they received From before William the Conqueror arrived until now there has been very little change in the types of crimes women commit In March AD 978 Queen Aelfthryth murdered her stepson and in the 1940s a transgender woman was in one of her funny moods so she brutally murdered her neighbour In the intervening centuries women were committing a variety of crimes and getting punished for them if they got caught This book tells the story of some of them Research Through, With and As Storying Louise Gwenneth Phillips,Tracey Bunda,2018-01-19 Research Through With and As Storying explores how Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars can engage with storying as a tool that disassembles conventions of research The authors explore the concept of storying across different cultures times and places and discuss principles of storying and storying research considering Indigenous feminist and critical theory standpoints Through the book Phillips and Bunda provide an invitation to locate storying as a valuable ontological epistemological and methodological contribution to the academy across disciplines arguing that storying research gives voice to the marginalised in the academy Providing rich and interesting coverage of the approaches to the field of storying research from Aboriginal and white Australian perspectives this text seeks to enable a profound understanding of the significance of stories and storying This book will prove valuable for scholars students and practitioners who seek to develop alternate and creative contributions to the production of knowledge The Sparrow Tessa Duder,2023-05-02 An exciting new novel from the author of Alex In September 1840 two ships arrive on the shores of the

Voices Babette Smith, 2021-04 Between 1788 and 1868 approximately 25 000 women were transported to Australia For nearly 200 years there has been a chorus of outrage at their vulgarity their depravity and their promiscuity Babette Smith takes the reader beyond this traditional casting of convict women looking for evidence of their humanity and individuality Certainly some were desperate overwhelmed by a relentless chain of criminal convictions drunkenness and despair But others were heroic defiant Smith offers fresh insights the women s use of sound and voice to harass officials for example the extent of their deliberate resistance against authority This resistance she argues has contributed significantly to broader Australian culture The women s stories begin when their fates are decided by the British Crown We are introduced to women who stole set fires rioted committed insurance fraud murdered mothers of six and 12 year old girls women who refused to show deference to the Court instead giving mock curtsies jumping and capering about A sailor wrote ship s surgeon Peter Cunningham was more an object of pity than wrath To see twenty wicked fingers beckoning to him and twenty wicked eyes winking at him at one and the same time no wonder his virtue should sometimes experience a fall Among the hysterical accounts of bad behaviour aboard female convict ships written by concerned reverends surgeons and others are scenes that show female camaraderie fun and intrepid spirit Washing clothes became a grand water party caught in a storm women came up on deck to help their fellow convicts haul water women sang and danced before bed putting on concerts for each other dressed out in their gayest plumage This camaraderie continued in Australia In Tasmania s overcrowded Cascades factory the superintendent complained about women corrupting each other in nightly conversation laced with obscenity Another interpretation is that women sought the comfort of sharing their woes with one another telling war stories of life on assignment and generally enjoying each other s company in language that was everyday for them Defiant Voices tells the story of the Crown trying and failing to make its prisoners subservient to a harsh penal system Convict women challenged the authorities by living in perpetual disobedience which was often flagrant sometimes sexual and always loud They were not all the most abandoned prostitutes but their sexual mores were certainly different from the observers who labelled them From factory rioters to individuals like Ann Wilson whose response That will not hurt me provoked a magistrate to pile punishment after punishment onto her the women of Defiant Voices fought like tigers and drove men to breaking point with their collective voices the lewd songs and disorderly shouting resounding from the page
