When the Truth Lies Timothy Michael Carson, 2009-01 Where the Truth Lies Margaret Tomkins, 2012-02-01 This a collection of short stories written over ten years They range from the supernatural to human relationships from childhood to extreme old age from fantasy to satire They deal with reincarnation loss shattered dreams guilt love and other aspects of the human condition There is the plain spinster who lives in a secret fantasy world through her writings there is the baby snatcher there is the ghost of a wronged woman at her own funeral The man at the supermarket checkout exacts his own revenge on his tormentors the teacher is summarily suspended on the word of one of his pupils Undelivered telegrams change lives a stone statue plays a central part in a boy's life Other stories take place in post War Berlin before the removal of the Wall and in Venice where a coupling leads to years of guilt and uncertainty There is a satirical fairy story mocking the modern world there is an inept counsellor seeking the help of her friends The mystery of the meaning of life is examined in a story of reincarnation which centres on the idea that at the moment of birth a baby knows all her previous existences and desperately wants to return to the womb A common theme is deception hence the title Where the Truth Lies Where the Truth Lies Shane R. Cudney, 2021-11-23 Johannes de Silentio the pseudonymous author of Fear and Trembling concludes that faith is absurd irrational and therefore lies beyond the scope of reason But if we ascribe authorship ultimately to Kierkegaard as is common practice we must conclude that he himself is an irrationalist Given the myriad of competing voices throughout Kierkegaard's writings this seems highly questionable at best If however we take the pseudonymous author strictly at his authorial word it changes the shape and dynamic of the text inviting us to read it instead as a thought experiment In this way the text demonstrates both the absurdity and sin of reason in its bid to fully grasp the mystery of faith on its own rational terms Where the Truth Lies Julie Corbin, 2010-09-02 How far would you go to protect your family A read in one sitting psychological suspense novel for fans of The Teacher and Behind Closed Doors I didn't see it coming No black cats crossed my path No clear eyed crows cawed alarm from the trees There was nothing to warn me about what was up ahead An invisible clock was ticking each beat drawing my family closer to danger and I was oblivious Busy with the normal everyday things that make up a life I didn't know about the threats or the blackmail or about the brutal turn our lives were about to take I didn't know that someone close to me was on course to devastate my family I thought my home was a safe place that danger kept its distance I thought wrong Claire's husband has been keeping secrets About the whereabouts of the witness to the murder trial he's prosecuting And about the letters he's been getting threatening to kill their four year old unless he tells the blackmailer where the witness is hiding With their daughter's life at stake it is left to Claire to untangle the web of lies and half truths and find out just who might be responsible And to stop them Before it's too late Praise for WHERE THE TRUTH LIES The pace never halts not for a minute and it is impossible to stop reading Book Reviews by Jackie An exploration of the dark themes of blackmail lies and loyalty Euro Crime Where the Truth Lies Rosemary Ingham, 2011-10-18 At forty Isabel has finally given up on her cheating husband She's a single parent with two teenage children and a tough job running a London comprehensive school Tougher still for a woman in 1981 Especially as her predecessor Will Fullwood remains the school's hero His natural successor was his Deputy the irresistible Max Truman who kept the school going during Will's last illness So how come the Governors appointed a woman Staff loyalties are with Max but Second Deputy Jack Redfern is definitely on Isabel's side Within weeks he's in her bed as well Max claims to be her loyal supporter and she wants to believe him yet her suspicions grow Until she can prove his guilt Max is officially innocent But suppose just suppose he is innocent Maybe Isabel has invented it all to discredit her rival A paedophile
