Fertile Visions

Anne Carruthers, 2021-07-15 Fertile Visions conceptualises the uterus as a narrative space so that the female reproductive body can be understood beyond the constraints of a gendered analysis Unravelling pregnancy from notions of maternity and mothering demands that we think differently about narratives of reproduction This is crucial in the current global political climate wherein the gender specificity of pregnancy contributes to how bodies that reproduce are marginalised controlled and criminalised Anne Carruthers demonstrates fascinating and insightful close analyses of films such as Juno Birth Ixcanul and Arrival as examples of the uterus as a narrative space Fertile Visions engages with research on the foetal ultrasound scan as well as phenomenologies affect and spectatorship in film studies to offer a new way to look think and analyse pregnancy and the pregnant body in cinema from the Americas

Stories on Skin Terry Baxter, Libby Coyner-Tsosie, 2025-01-23 Helping expand archival studies into impermanent media like body art this book suggests that archiving must be considered a form of storytelling Tattoos are not merely decorative they contain deep meaning for individuals and communities They document their wearers personal histories and position in families or society and they engage with a communal understanding of symbols This unique book makes the case that archivists who want to preserve as full a human story as possible must recognize the rich documentation provided by tattoos It also argues in a broader sense that traditional archives are not representative of the ways human beings transmit information through time and that they must be augmented by other types of storytelling to provide a more complete record of our species Authors Baxter and Coyner touch on timely topics such as historical narratives storytelling cultural traditions the body as a text social control and memorialization by considering tattoos as a personal and community archive Discussing tattoos as a storytelling tool the authors also challenge how history is kept and who gets included Stories on Skin is committed to the rights of communities to tell their stories in their own way and to the power that right brings adults in the USA who have tattoos these are by far the most popular choices Tattoos like these are cute small and can be easily hidden and they fit right in with society's preconceived notions about what is gender appropriate for women But what about women who are heavily tattooed Or women who visibly wear imagery like skulls that can be perceived as masculine or ugly when inked on their skin Drawing on autoethnography and extensive interviews with heavily tattooed women Covered in Ink provides insight into the increasingly visible subculture of women with tattoos Author Beverly Thompson visits tattoo parlors talking to female tattoo artists and the women they ink and she attends tattoo conventions and Miss Tattoo pageants where heavily tattooed women congregate to share their mutual love for the art form Along the way she brings to life women's love of ink their very personal choices of tattoo art and the meaning tattooing has come to carry in their lives as well as their struggles with gender norms employment discrimination and family rejection Thompson finds that despite the stigma and social opposition heavily tattooed women face many feel empowered by their tattoos and strongly believe they are creating a space for self expression that also presents a positive body image A riveting and unique study Covered in Ink provides important insight into the often unseen world of women and tattooing
