

THIS TOO SHALL PASS!

When the times of fear
Make you lose all hope, my dear,
When all your prayers,
He seems to unhear,
When you feel that you have nowhere else to go
And the sadness seems to overflow,
Remember that this despair shall not last long,
For you shall endure all chaos and come out strong,
My friend, carry on and then at last,
This too shall pass.

For as they say,
To enjoy a rainbow you must endure the storm,
For without struggle, there's no reform,
It's okay my dear, to feel afraid,
These dark times have left no one unscathed,
So, you need to take your stand and fight
Draw your sword and your sheild as you're a warrior, march on
And remember that this despair shall not last long,
For you shall endure all chaos and come out strong,
My friend, carry on and then at last,
This too shall pass.

This Too Shall Last K.J. Ramsey, 2020-05-12 This book is not a before and after story Our culture treats suffering like a problem to fix a blight to hide or the sad start of a transformation story We silently secretly wither under the pressure of living as though suffering is a predicament we can avoid or annihilate by working hard enough or having enough faith When your prayers for healing haven't been answered the fog of depression isn't lifting your marriage is ending in divorce or grief won't go away it's easy to feel you've failed God and worse he's failed you If God loves us why does he allow us to hurt Over a decade ago chronic illness plunged therapist and writer K J Ramsey straight into this paradox Before her illness faith made sense But when pain came and never left K J had to find a way across the widening canyon that seemed to separate God's goodness from her excruciating circumstances She wanted to conquer suffering Instead she encountered the God who chose it She wanted to make pain past tense Instead God invited her into a bigger story This Too Shall Last offers an antidote to our cultural idolatry of effort and ease Through personal story and insights from neuroscience and theology Ramsey invites us to let our tears become lenses of the wonder that before God ever rescues us he stands in solidarity with us We are all mid story in circumstances we did not choose wondering when our hard things will end and where grace will come if they don't We don't need to make suffering a before and after story Together we can encounter the grace that enters the middle of our stories where living with suffering that lingers means receiving God's presence that lasts
