Thomas Wingfold George MacDonald,2021-04-11 She had just finished the novel of the day and was suffering a mild reaction the milder perhaps that she was not altogether satisfied with the consummation For the heroine had after much sorrow and patient endurance at length married a man whom she could not help knowing to be not worth having For the author even knew it only such was his reading of life and such his theory of artistic duty that what it was a disappointment to Helen to peruse it seemed to have been a comfort to him to write Indeed her dissatisfaction went so far that although the fire kept burning away in perfect content before her enhanced by the bellowing complaint of the wind in the chimney she yet came nearer thinking than she had ever been in her life Now thinking especially to one who tries it for the first time is seldom or never a quite comfortable operation and hence Helen was very near becoming actually uncomfortable She was even on the borders of making the unpleasant discovery that the business of life and that not only for North Pole expeditions African explorers pyramid inspectors and such like but for every man and woman born into the blindness of the planet is to discover after which discovery there is little more comfort to be had of the sort with which Helen was chiefly conversant But she escaped for the time after a very simple and primitive fashion although it was indeed a narrow escape Let me not be misunderstood however and supposed to imply that Helen was dull in faculty or that she contributed nothing to the bubbling of the intellectual pool in the social gatherings at Glaston Far from it When I say that she came near thinking I say more for her than any but the few who know what thinking is will understand for that which chiefly distinguishes man from those he calls the lower animals is the faculty he most rarely exercises True Helen supposed she could think like other people because the thoughts of other people had passed through her in tolerable plenty leaving many a phantom conclusion behind but this was THEIR thinking not hers She had thought no more than was necessary now and then to the persuasion that she saw what a sentence meant after which her acceptance or rejection of what was contained in it never more than lukewarm depended solely upon its relation to what she had somehow or other she could seldom have told how come to regard as the proper style of opinion to hold upon things in general

MacDonald immerses readers in the lives of his protagonists. The narratives each unfold in a Victorian context reflecting the social and religious upheavals of the era while delving into the complexities of human relationships and divine grace. The interwoven tales focus on pastoral duty, the struggles of faith, and the pursuit of redemption, inviting readers into an intimate exploration of character and ethical dilemmas.

George MacDonald, a pivotal figure in the 19th-century Scottish literary scene, penned these stories during a time of personal and spiritual upheaval in his own life. Embracing his role as a minister and his literary vocation, MacDonald sought to articulate the tensions between duty, faith, and personal conscience, influenced by his own experiences in the church and his keen observations on Victorian society. His unique ability to synthesize fantasy with deeply philosophical questions offers a rich backdrop for these narratives. This complete series is a must-read for those interested in the intersection of literature and spirituality. MacDonald's profound insights into human nature and his compelling storytelling bring forth timeless questions that resonate with contemporary readers. Engaging with these texts equips one with a greater understanding of both the individual and collective spiritual journey, making it a significant addition to the library of any literature enthusiast.

Thomas Wingfold, Curate George MacDonald, 2020-06-25

The curate remained with the organ. It was silent, and so were his lips, but his heart—the music was not latent there for his praise and thanksgiving ascended without voice or instrument, essential harmony to the ear that hears, thought and the heart that vibrates to every chord of feeling in the hearts it has created. Ah, what is it we send up thither where our thoughts are either a dissonance or a sweetness and a grace. Alone in the dusky church, the curate's ascended like a song of the angels for his heart was all a thanksgiving, not for any perfected gift but for many a lovely hope. He knelt down by the organ and worshipped the God and Father of the Lord Jesus Christ, that God and no other was the God of his expectation. When he rose from his knees, the church was dark, but through the windows of the clerestory, many stars were shining.

Embracing the Tune of Phrase: An Emotional Symphony within Thomas Wingfold Curate

In a global taken by displays and the ceaseless chatter of instant interaction, the melodic elegance and psychological symphony produced by the published word frequently fade into the background, eclipsed by the constant noise and disruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, set within the pages of Thomas Wingfold Curate a wonderful fictional value full of fresh feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful composer of language, this interesting masterpiece conducts visitors on a psychological trip, skillfully unraveling the hidden songs and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths with this moving evaluation, we can discover the book is central harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing type, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
