Troubling Love Elena Ferrante, 2006-09-01 A woman goes home to Naples after her mother's mysterious death in a tour de force by the New York Times bestselling author of My Brilliant Friend Seattle Times Following her mother's untimely and unexplained drowning which was preceded by a series of strange phone calls forty five year old Delia leaves Rome and embarks on a voyage of discovery through the beguiling yet often hostile streets of her native Naples. She is searching for the truth about her family and the men in her mother's life past and present including an abusive husband. What she discovers will be more unsettling than she imagines but will also reveal truths about herself in this psychological mystery marked by tactile beautifully restrained prose. Publishers Weekly about mothers and daughters and the complicated knot of lies and emotions that binds them. Ferrante's polished language belies the rawness of her imagery. The New Yorker With the quick paced mystery guiding the story Delia explores her relationship with her mother unraveling memories and secrets repressed since childhood and coming to terms with an upbringing filled with jealousy and violence. Troubling Love is vivid and powerful. Library Journal

The Days of Abandonment Elena Ferrante, 2005-09-01 From the New York Times bestselling author of My Brilliant Friend this novel of a deserted wife's descent into despair and rage is a masterpiece. The Philadelphia Inquirer One of the New York Times's 100 Best Books of the 21st Century. The Days of Abandonment is the gripping story of an Italian woman's experiences after being suddenly left by her husband after fifteen years of marriage. With two young children to care for Olga finds it more and more difficult to do the things she used to keep a spotless house, cook meals with creativity and passion, refrain from using obscenities. After running into her husband with his much younger new lover in public she cannot even refrain from assaulting him physically. In a raging torrential voice The New York Times Olga conveys her journey from denial to devastating emptiness and when she finds herself literally trapped within the four walls of their high rise apartment she is forced to confront her ghosts, the potential loss of her own identity and the possibility that life may never return to normal. Quick, furious, simultaneously steely and unhinged and completely mesmerizing. The New York Times Intelligent and darkly comic. Publishers Weekly Remarkable, lucid, austere, honest. The New Yorker

How to Craft Autoethnography Marcus B. Weaver-Hightower, 2025-10-10 How to Craft Autoethnography is a comprehensive and engaging guide to the art and science of autoethnography, a qualitative research method that blends personal narrative with cultural analysis. Designed to be both practical and theoretically grounded, the book offers a structured yet flexible approach to developing good autoethnographic research. Throughout the book Weaver Hightower addresses the essential components of autoethnographic research including when to use or not use the method, how to generate and analyze data, and how to assess quality and ethics in an autoethnography. The book carefully explores different forms of autoethnography: evocative, analytic, critical, and arts based, providing readers with concrete examples and exemplars. Practical chapters detail strategies for planning studies, generating data through self-reflection and memory work, engaging with social theory, and writing in ways that resonate with readers both inside and outside academia. This book provides an indispensable resource for students, scholars, and practitioners seeking to deepen their understanding of autoethnography and to use it effectively in their research. The book also includes a range of pedagogical features such as learning objectives, exercises, and exemplars to support readers in developing their own autoethnographic projects.

Knowledge-Making from a Postgraduate Writers'

Circle Lucia Thesen, 2024-06-11 This book seeks to disrupt the narrative about the process of academic writing and the written products which are currently valued in the university by juxtaposing the messiness and deletions of the writing process with the hegemonic imaginary of what research writing should look like The author uses writing as both a subject and a method of enquiry in an ethnographic deep dive into her long term engagement with a postgraduate writers circle in an elite South African university The book engages with growing global interest in the geopolitics of research writing and its relationship to patterns of epistemic privilege drawing on current work on decolonising knowledge production It opens a space to widen and deepen how we imagine the relationship between writing and knowledge making Detransition,
