E.J. Wals, Peter Blaze Corcoran, 2023-09-04 We live in turbulent times our world is changing at accelerating speed Information is everywhere but wisdom appears in short supply when trying to address key inter related challenges of our time such as runaway climate change the loss of biodiversity the depletion of natural resources the on going homogenization of culture and rising inequity Living in such times has implications for education and learning This book explores the possibilities of designing and facilitating learning based change and transitions towards sustainability In 31 chapters contributors from across the world discuss re emerging forms of learning that not only assist in breaking down unsustainable routines forms of governance production and consumption but also can help create ones that are more sustainable The book has been divided into three parts re orienting science and society re connecting people and planet and re imagining education and learning This is essential reading for educators educational designers change agents researchers students policymakers and entrepreneurs alike who are concerned about the well being of the planet and convinced of our ability to do better The content and related issues can be discussed on the blog by editor Arjen Wals Transformative learning We are living in times of incertitude complexity and contestation but also of connectivity responsibility and new opportunities This book analyses the consequences of these times for learning in formal non formal and informal education It explores the possibilities offered by the concept of sustainability as a central category of a holistic paradigm which harmonizes human beings with Earth To change people and to change the world are interdependent processes this book contributes to both Moacir Gadotti Director of Paulo Freire Institute S o Paulo Brazil I hope you share my excitement about the innovations for sustainability that this book catalogues and analyses While the ecological news is grim the human news is not Even in a time of accelerating change people are showing their enormous capacities to learn adapt restore and protect From the Foreword by Juliet Schor author of True Wealth how and why millions of Americans are creating a time rich ecologically light small scale high satisfaction economy This book implies a culture of critical commitment in educational thinking and practice engaged enough to make a real difference to social ecological resilience and sustainability but reflexively critical enough to learn constantly from experience and to keep options open in working for a sustainability transformation From the Afterword by Stephen Sterling Professor of Sustainability Education Centre for Sustainable Futures Plymouth University United Kingdom

The Politics of Air Pollution George A. Gonzalez, 2012-02-01 Who has been at the political forefront of clean air policy development in the United States In The Politics of Air Pollution George A Gonzalez argues that the answer is neither the federal government nor environmental groups but rather locally oriented economic elites in conjunction with state and local governments These local growth coalitions composed of mostly large landholders land developers and the owners of regional media and utility firms support clean air policies insofar as they contribute to the creation of a positive investment climate and in turn bring about greater profits through increased land values and an Freyfogle, 2008-10-01 Critics of environmental laws complain that such rules often burden people unequally restrict individual liberty and undercut private property rights In formulating responses to these criticisms the conservation effort has stumbled badly says Eric T Freyfogle in this thought provoking book Conservationists and environmentalists haven't done their intellectual homework he contends and they have failed to offer an understandable compelling vision of healthy lands and healthy human communities Freyfogle explores why the conservation movement has responded ineffectually to the many cultural and economic criticisms leveled against it He addresses the meaning of good land use describes the many shortcomings of sustainability and outlines six key tasks that the cause must address Among these is the crafting of an overall goal and a vision of responsible private ownership The book concludes with a stirring message that situates conservation within America's story of itself and with an extensive annotated bibliography of conservation's most valuable voices and texts important information for readers prepared to take conservation more seriously Asia-Pacific Geopolitics Joseph A. Camilleri, 2007-01-01 Despite significant cultural exchange mutual trust and understanding remains fragile between Asia Pacific countries. The community faces complex and seemingly intractable problems: violent civil conflicts, geopolitical tensions, and economic uncertainties; proliferation of nuclear weapons and flashpoints that may lead to war. The authors of this book argue that common reflection and dialogue is imperative. Their achieved aim is to bring together distinguished scholars and experts on public policy, social ethics, defence, human security, and sustainability to consider the future of the Asia Pacific region and appropriate responses by both states and civil society.
