How does a society commence the project of gender equality after a brutal history of conflict dislocation dispossession exclusion distinction and discrimination How are the foundations laid and legal strategies adopted and cultivated How does a society balance what is perceived as the secular nature of rights enforcement within a context of deeply entrenched religious mores or customary norms And ultimately why does there persist such subordination disadvantage and discrimination despite the existence of constitutional and legal protections for women Utilizing the South African process of legal transformation as a paradigm author Penelope Andrews applies this model to Afghanistan another contemporary context of transformation These two societies serve as counterpoints through which she engages in a nuanced and novel way with the many broader issues that flow from the attempts in newly democratic societies to give effect to the promise of gender equality
