R. Bowker LLC,1977 LJ, Library Journal ,1975 From Red to Green? Paul Donovan,Julie Hudson,2013-01-11 Written by an economist and an investment professional this book addresses the twin crises that the world is facing in the form of a simultaneous financial and environmental credit crunch Financially consumers are less able to consume now and pay later Environmentally we may have already reached our credit limit and the bill for past financial and environmental consumption is falling due Whether the financial credit crunch constrains consumers in a way that will be environmentally supportive naturally slowing the consumption of finite resources or hinders any effective resolution of the environmental credit crunch is of crucial importance Policy responses to the financial crisis are likely to be constrained by the political need to support the economic status quo and when combined with a global reduction in available investment capital there are serious challenges ahead if the economic and environmental damage of the environmental credit crunch is to be minimised This book asks whether financial crunch induced changes in consumer behaviour will be enough to avoid or reduce the environmental crunch many believe is just round the corner Donovan and Hudson combine their respective economic and environmental perspectives to address this key question reviewing this tale of two crunches from the perspective of different economic sectors The answer to the conundrum this book poses may lie in the only unlimited resource on the planet human ingenuity Cooking Lessons Sherrie A. Inness,2001 Meatloaf fried chicken Jell O cake because foods are so very common we rarely think about them much in depth The authors of Cooking Lessons however believe that food is deserving of our critical scrutiny and that such analysis yields many important lessons about American society and its values This book explores the relationship between food and gender Contributors draw from diverse sources both contemporary and historical and look at women from various cultural backgrounds including Hispanic traditional southern White and African American Each chapter focuses on a certain food teasing out its cultural meanings and showing its effect on women s identity and lives For example food has often offered women a traditional way to gain power and influence in their households and larger communities For women without access to other forms of creative expression preparing a superior cake or batch of fried chicken was a traditional way to display their talent in an acceptable venue On the other hand foods and the stereotypes attached to them have also been used to keep women and men too from different races ethnicities and social classes in their place
