Zhiqing Stories From Chinas Special Generation:

Zhiqing Kang Xuepei Kang,2014-11-10 Zhiqing Stories from China s Special Generation presents the recollections of fourteen men and women who were sent down to the countryside during China s Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution 1966 1976 Teenagers or young adults at the time the authors left school to heed Mao s call for China s educated youth zhiqing to go to the poorest provinces and distant borders where they worked with the local people in villages or on military farms and construction teams From the Great Northern Wilderness to Hainan Island their true to life stories illustrate the harsh realities of rural existence and Cultural Revolution politics while focusing on personal joys and miseries While not meant as a political statement these stories serve as a powerful testimony to the experience of an entire Chinese generation It was my distinct pleasure to have served as in house editor of Kang Xuepei s In the Countryside which was initially her masters of arts thesis at SHSU It was hard to imagine the horrors that these Chinese youth had to go through during that period of Mao s experiment in social engineering and more amazing to realize that most of them came through it all without intense bitterness toward those who thrust them into such perilous and uncomfortable circumstances In this book you will find a sampling of the experiences of zhiqing from many perspectives written in strikingly fine prose Paul Ruffin director Texas Review Press

Shanghai Tai Chi Hanchao Lu,2023-05-11 A captivating social and political history of Shanghai under high socialism Lu explores the lived experience of Mao s China Out of the Crucible Zuoya Cao,2003-01-01 Out of the Crucible offers an informative and inviting study of the novels and short stories of the lives of the zhiqing the Chinese urban youth who were sent to rural areas during the rustication movement in the second phase of the Cultural Revolution Author Zuoya Cao a former zhiqing herself covers the works authors themes characters and plots of zhiqing literary writing from the late 1970s to the late 1990s She teases out the significant themes of zhiqing literature heroism and idealism suffering and internal transformation moral dilemmas and the loss of innocence love and cultural difference sexual and spiritual oppression zhiqing peasant relations the relationship between man and nature and the conflict between the desire to leave the countryside and the attachment to it Through a perceptive analysis of the treatment of these themes drawing on her extensive knowledge of Chinese literary and social history in addition to her own experiences Cao reveals the emotional aspects of the rustication movement and the humanistic significance of the zhiqing experience and enriches our understanding of modern Chinese literature and history

The Red Guard Generation and Political Activism in China Guobin Yang,2016-05-17 Raised to be flowers of the nation the first generation born after the founding of the People s Republic of China was united in its political outlook and at first embraced the Cultural Revolution of 1966 but then split into warring factions Investigating the causes of this fracture Guobin Yang argues that Chinese youth engaged in an imaginary revolution from 1966 to 1968 enacting a political mythology that encouraged violence as a way to prove one s revolutionary credentials This same competitive dynamic would later turn the Red Guard against the communist government Throughout the 1970s the majority of Red Guard youth were sent to work in rural villages where they developed an appreciation for the values of ordinary life From this experience an underground cultural movement was born Rejecting idolatry these relocated revolutionaries developed a new form of resistance that signaled a new era of enlightenment culminating in the Democracy Wall movement of the late 1970s and the Tiananmen protest of 1989 Yang's final chapter on the politics of history and memory argues that contemporary memories of the Cultural Revolution are factionalized along these lines of political division formed fifty years before Chairman Mao's Children Bin Xu,2021-06-17 In the 1960s and 1970s around 17 million Chinese youths were mobilized or forced by the state to migrate to rural villages and China's frontiers Bin Xu tells the story of how this sent down generation have come to terms with their difficult past Exploring representations of memory including personal life stories literature museum exhibits and acts of commemoration he argues that these representations are defined by a struggle to reconcile worthiness with the political upheavals of the Mao years These memories however are used by the state to construct an official narrative that weaves this generation's experiences into an upbeat story of the China dream This marginalizes those still suffering and obscures voices of self reflection on their moral political responsibility for their actions Xu provides careful analysis of this generation of Chairman Mao's children caught between the political and the personal past and present nostalgia and regret and pride and trauma Tempered in the Revolutionary Furnace Yihong Pan,2009-01-01 In Tempered in the Revolutionary Furnace Yihong Pan tells her personal story and the story of her generation of urban middle school graduates sent to the countryside during China's Rustication Movement Based on interviews reminiscences diaries letters and newspaper accounts the work examines the varied and often perplexing experiences of the seventeen million Chinese students sent to work in the countryside between 1953 and 1980 Rich in human drama Pan's book illustrates how life in the countryside transformed the children of Mao from innocent ignorant yet often passionate believers in the Communist Party into independent adults Those same adults would go on to lead the nationwide protests in the winter of 1978-1979 that forced the government to abandon its policy of rustication Richly textured this work successfully blends biography with a wealth of historical insight to bring to life the trials of a generation and to offer Chinese studies scholars a fascinating window into Mao Zedong's China Book jacket Chinese Literature: Essays, Articles, Reviews,2003 Urban Youth in China: Modernity, the Internet and the Self Fengshu Liu,2011-01-25 Fengshu Liu situates the lives of Chinese youth and the growth of the Internet against the backdrop of rapid and profound social transformation in China In 2008 the total of Internet users in China had reached 253 million in comparison with 22.5 million in 2001 Yet despite rapid growth the Internet in China is so far a predominantly urban youth phenomenon with young people under thirty especially those under twenty-four mostly members of the only child generation as the main group of the netizens population As both youth and the Internet hold the potential to inflict or at least contribute to far reaching economic social cultural and political changes this book fulfills a pressing need for a systematical investigation of how youth and the Internet are interacting with each other in a Chinese context In so doing Liu sheds light on what it means to be a Chinese today how Chineseness may be re constructed in the Internet Age and what the implications of the emerging form of identity are for contemporary and future Chinese societies as well as the world

The Left in China Ralf Ruckus, 2023-02-20 Does a great service by shifting our attention to the oppositional movements of Chinese workers peasants students and women who have contested inequality and exploitation Manfred Elfstrom Tracing the fascinating history of left wing subversive and oppositional forces in China over the last 70 years Ralf Ruckus pulls back the curtain on Chinese politics He looks at the interconnected movements since the founding of the People s Republic of China in 1949 drawing out the main actors ideas and actions Taking us through the Hundred Flowers Movement in the 1950s the Cultural Revolution in the 1960s the democracy movements of the 1970s and 1980s and the workers movements that accompanied these events he draws a clear picture of the political currents of China its ruling party and leaders through to Xi Jinping with a spotlight on contemporary struggles Is the country still socialist the Chinese Communist Party a left wing organisation and the leadership indeed Marxist The book will sort out the confusion present the true history of social movements and left politics in China up to the present day

Popular Memories of the Mao Era Sebastian Veg, 2019-01-10 The present volume provides an overview of new forms of popular memory in particular critical memory of the Mao era Focusing on the processes of private production public dissemination and social sanctioning of narratives of the past in contemporary China it examines the relation between popular memories and their social construction as historical knowledge The three parts of the book are devoted to the shifting boundary between private and public in the press and media the reconfiguration of elite and popular discourses in cultural productions film visual art and literature and the emergence of new discourses of knowledge through innovative readings of unofficial sources Popular memories pose a challenge to the existing historiography of the first thirty years of the People s Republic of China Despite the recent backlash these more critical reflections are beginning to transform the mainstream narrative of the Mao era in China Public discussions of key episodes in the history of the People s Republic in particular the Anti Rightist Movement of 1957 the Great Famine of 1959 1961 and the Cultural Revolution have proliferated in the last fifteen years These discussions are qualitatively different from previous expressions of traumatic or nostalgic memories of Mao in the 1980s and the 1990s respectively They reflect a growing dissatisfaction with the authoritarian control over history exercised by the Chinese state and often they make use of the new spaces provided for counter hegemonic narratives by social media and the growing private economy in the 2000s Unofficial or independent journals self published books social media groups independent documentary films private museums oral history projects and archival research by amateur historians all of which analyzed in this collection have contributed to these embryonic public or semi public dialogues An excellent guide to the independent journalism cultural production and amateur histories that are transforming the mainstream narrative of the Mao era in China Rich in detail and sound in analysis these studies document the emergence of critical memory in Chinese society A valuable resource for students and scholars Timothy Cheek University of British Columbia author of The Intellectual in Modern Chinese History Popular memories of the Mao era are signposts of contemporary politics and culture This volume features exciting new research by distinguished scholars Extremely rich and readable the chapters in this collection illuminate both China's past and present A timely and important contribution Guobin Yang University of Pennsylvania author of The Red Guard Generation and Political Activism in China

A Century of Student Movements in China Xiaobing Li, Qiang Fang, 2019-12-02 In this book the authors offer their unique perspectives on the important roles Chinese students and intellectuals played in the shaping of the twentieth century China Their answers to these pivotal questions explore new nationalistic spirit modern world views and willingness of self sacrifice which had attributed to the spontaneous actions of the students as a New Culture emerged during the May Fourth Movement These articles show how China nurtured these spontaneous student movements even though the Nationalist Party in the Republic of China and the Communist Party in the People's Republic had exerted tight control over schools Both governments established organizations as well as operations among students that effectively turned some of the student movements into a political instrument by the parties for their own agenda

New Contributions to the Philosophy of History Daniel Little, 2010-08-05 Insights developed in the past two decades by philosophers of the social sciences can serve to enrich the challenging intellectual tasks of conceptualizing investigating and representing the human past Likewise intimate engagement with the writings of historians can deepen philosophers understanding of the task of knowing the past This volume brings these perspectives together and considers fundamental questions such as What is historical causation What is a large historical structure How can we best conceptualize mentalities and identities What is involved in understanding the subjectivity of historical actors What is involved in arriving at an economic history of a large region How are actions and outcomes related The arguments touch upon a wide range of historical topics the Chinese and French Revolutions the extension of railroads in the nineteenth century and the development of agriculture in medieval China

Internal and International Migration Hein Mallee, Frank N. Pieke, 2014-04-08 Comparing migration in China itself to Chinese migration to Europe this book critically assesses received ideas perceptions and theories concerning internal and international migration Comparing migration in China itself to Chinese migration to Europe this book critically assesses received ideas perceptions and theories concerning internal and international migration The book argues for the emergence of a Chinese world system in which internal and international mobility is a central and heterogenous feature The book presents an unusually rich case study of migration and transnationalism of migrants from southern Zhejiang province in Chinese and European cities studies of rural urban migration in booming southern China implementation of the birth control policy among migrants in Beijing discrimination and stereotyping of rural migrants in Shanghai contract worker teams in Beijing and forced urban rural migration during the Cultural Revolution

Historical Dictionary of Modern Chinese Literature

Li-hua Ying, 2021-11-15 Modern Chinese literature has been flourishing for over a century with varying degrees of intensity and energy at different junctures of history and points of locale. An integral part of world literature from the moment it was born, it has been in constant dialogue with its counterparts from the rest of the world. As it has been challenged and enriched by external influences, it has contributed to the wealth of literary culture of the entire world. In terms of themes and styles, modern Chinese literature is rich and varied, from the revolutionary to the pastoral, from romanticism to feminism, from modernism to post modernism, critical realism, psychological realism, socialist realism, and magical realism. Indeed, it encompasses a full range of ideological and aesthetic concerns. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Modern Chinese Literature presents a broad perspective on the development and history of literature in modern China. It offers a chronology, introduction, bibliography, and over 400 cross-referenced dictionary entries on authors, literary and historical developments, trends, genres, and concepts that played a central role in the evolution of modern Chinese literature.

Contemporary Chinese Fiction Writers Laifong Leung, 2016-07-28 In the years since the death of Mao Zedong, interest in Chinese writers and Chinese literature has risen significantly in the West. In 2000, Gao Xingjian became the first Chinese writer to receive the Nobel Prize for Literature, followed by Mo Yan in 2012, and writers such as Ha Jin and Da Sijie have also become well known in the West. Despite this progress, the vast majority of Chinese writers remain largely unknown outside of China. This book introduces the lives and works of eighty contemporary Chinese writers and focuses on writers from the Rightist generation, Bai Hua, Gao Xiaosheng, Liu Shaotang, writers of the Red Guard generation, Li Rui, Wang Anyi, Post Cultural Revolution Writers, as well as others. Unlike earlier works, it provides detailed, often first-hand biographical information on this wide range of writers, including their career trajectories, major themes, and artistic characteristics. In addition to this, each entry includes a critical presentation and evaluation of the writer's major works, a selected bibliography of publications that includes works in Chinese, works translated into English, and critical articles and books available in English. Offering a valuable contribution to the field of contemporary Chinese literature by making detailed information about Chinese writers more accessible, this book will be of interest to students and scholars. Chinese Literature: Contemporary Literature and Chinese Studies

Children's Literature in China: From Lu Xun to Mao Zedong Mary Ann Farquhar, 2015-04-22 This book introduces the major works and debates in Chinese children's literature within the framework of China's revolution and modernization. It demonstrates that the guiding rationale in children's literature was the political importance of children as the nation's future. Stumbling Giant Timothy Beardson, 2013-05-21 A thoughtful reconsideration of China's actual place in the new world order based on reality rather than fanciful speculation. Kirkus Reviews: Can anything prevent China surpassing the United States and becoming the world's top superpower? While predictions that China's rise to global supremacy is a near certainty have resulted in this belief becoming almost conventional wisdom, this book boldly counters such widely held assumptions. Investment strategist Timothy Beardson brings to light the daunting array of challenges that today confront

China as well as the inadequacy of the policy responses Threats to China come on many fronts Beardson shows and by their number and sheer weight these problems will thwart any ambition to become the world's Number One power Drawing on extensive research and experience living and working in Asia over the last 35 years the author spells out China's situation an inexorable demographic future of a shrinking labor force relentless aging extreme gender disparity and even a falling population Also the nation faces social instability a devastated environment a predominantly low tech economy with inadequate innovation the absence of an effective welfare safety net an ossified governance structure and radical Islam lurking at the borders Beardson's nuanced firsthand look at China acknowledges its historic achievements while tempering predictions of its imminent hegemony with a no nonsense dose of reality Seeing History: Public History in China LI Na, 2023-11-06 When public history was imported from the United States to China around the turn of the twenty first century it was introduced as a sub field within history and has developed along that path ever since Professional historians in China even some forward looking ones see public history as merely presenting a change in the patterns of participation in history making This book offers a sharply different view It contends essentially that public history represents more than a research domain within history or within any existing discipline nor does it fit into any established narratives but rather a fundamental change of the entire process of history making in China In this process the public is prosuming history Public history makes obsolete the old structure for building and acquiring historical knowledge it challenges the old assumptions supersedes the rigid academic hierarchy and stirs the imaginations of the multitudes With an assemblage of case studies this work makes a case for a system view of public history making or public history ing and launches a concept complex public history i e public history ing as complex adaptive systems China Review International ,1997 Postmodernism and China Xudong Zhang, Arif Dirlik, 2000-10-27 This work maps the terrain of the postmodern in China
