Voices From The Forest Integrating Indigenous Knowledge Into Sustainable Upland Farming:

Voices from the Forest Malcolm Cairns, 2007 Publisher Description Shifting Cultivation and Environmental Change Malcolm F. Cairns, 2015-01-09 Shifting cultivation is one of the oldest forms of subsistence agriculture and is still practised by millions of poor people in the tropics Typically it involves clearing land often forest for the growing of crops for a few years and then moving on to new sites leaving the earlier ground fallow to regain its soil fertility This book brings together the best of science and farmer experimentation vividly illustrating the enormous diversity of shifting cultivation systems as well as the power of human ingenuity Some critics have tended to disparage shifting cultivation sometimes called swidden cultivation or slash and burn agriculture as unsustainable due to its supposed role in deforestation and land degradation However the book shows that such indigenous practices as they have evolved over time can be highly adaptive to land and ecology In contrast scientific agricultural solutions imposed from outside can be far more damaging to the environment and local communities The book focuses on successful agricultural strategies of upland farmers particularly in south and south east Asia and presents over 50 contributions by scholars from around the world and from various disciplines including agricultural economics ecology and anthropology It is a sequel to the much praised Voices from the Forest Integrating Indigenous Knowledge into Sustainable Upland Farming RFF Press 2007 but all chapters are completely new and there is a greater emphasis on the contemporary challenges of climate change and biodiversity conservation Women, Land and Power in Asia Govind Kelkar, Maithreyi Krishnaraj, 2020-11-29 Across the world women constitute an integral part of the agricultural sector This volume is based on feminist responses to farming women s struggle for economic rights and social justice in Asia and seeks to provide a greater understanding of the development consequences of women s marginal limited ownership rights to land and other productive assets Using comprehensive analyses quantitative and qualitative data and case studies from India China Bangladesh Bhutan Nepal and other countries of the Asia Pacific region this volume brings together scholars and activists engaged with women s unmediated entitlement to land and productive assets While generally taking a position in favour of asset redistribution the volume addresses two major issues first the conflict between legal measures and socio cultural norms in a context where laws that seek to secure gender equality and women s economic empowerment are often overruled by norms that favour men and second how changes in the global economy in relation to traditional farming practices have adversely impacted women s rights especially in regions where they previously enjoyed more customary rights in asset control and management The book draws attention to issues of economic security gender equitable access to resources and asset building human rights and law land based livelihoods caste and ethnic diversity and voices in the women s movements This book will be useful to policy makers civil society organisations researchers and students of gender and women s studies development studies sociology economics and agriculture Integrated Studies of Social and Natural Environmental Transition in Laos Satoshi Yokoyama, Kohei Okamoto, Chisato Takenaka, Isao

Hirota,2014-08-13 This book examines social and natural environmental changes in present day Laos and presents a new research framework for environmental studies from an interdisciplinary point of view In Laos after the Lao version of perestroika Chintanakaan Mai in 1986 for better or worse rural development and urbanization have progressed and people s livelihoods are about to change significantly Compared to those of the neighboring countries of mainland Southeast Asia however many traditional livelihoods such as region specific ethnic specific livelihood complexes which combined traditional rice farming with a variety of subsistence activities have been carried over into the present in Laos The biggest challenge this book presents is to elucidate livelihood strategies of people who cope successfully with both social and environmental changes and to illustrate how to maintain this rich social and natural environment of Laos in the future The book includes chapters on social cultural and natural concerns and on ethnicity urbanization and regional development in Laos All chapters are based on original data from field surveys These data will greatly contribute not only to local studies in Laos but also to environmental studies in developing countries

The Agricultural Dilemma Glenn Davis Stone,2022-06-30 The Agricultural Dilemma questions everything we think we know about the current state of agriculture and how to or perhaps more importantly how not to feed a world with a growing population This book is about the three fundamental forms of agriculture Malthusian expansion industrialization external input dependent and intensification labor based The best way to understand the three agricultures and how we tend to get it wrong is to consider what drives their growth The book provides a thoughtful critical analysis that upends entrenched misconceptions such as that we are running out of land for food production and that our only hope is the development of new agricultural technologies The book contains engaging and enlightening vignettes and short histories with case studies drawn from across the globe to bring to life this important debate and dilemma The book concludes by arguing there is a viable alternative to industrial agriculture which will allow us to meet the world s needs and it ponders why such alternatives have been downplayed obscured or hidden from view This important book is essential reading for all studying and researching food production and agriculture and more broadly for all interested in ensuring we are able to feed our growing population

Shifting Cultivation Policies Malcolm Cairns,2017-11-13 Shifting cultivation supports around 200 million people in the Asia Pacific region alone It is often regarded as a primitive and inefficient form of agriculture that destroys forests causes soil erosion and robs lowland areas of water These misconceptions and their policy implications need to be challenged Swidden farming could support carbon sequestration and conservation of land biodiversity and cultural heritage This comprehensive analysis of past and present policy highlights successes and failures and emphasizes the importance of getting it right for the future This book is enhanced with supplementary resources The addendum chapters can be found at www.cabi.org/openresources 91797

Beyond the Sacred Forest Michael R. Dove,Percy E. Sajise,Amity A. Doolittle,2011-04-14 Scholars rethink the translation of environmental concepts between East and West particularly ideas of nature and culture what conservation might mean and how conservation policy is applied and transformed in the everyday landscapes of Southeast Asia

Encyclopedia of Agriculture and Food Systems Neal K. Van Alfen, 2014-07-29 Encyclopedia of Agriculture and Food Systems Second Edition Five Volume Set addresses important issues by examining topics of global agriculture and food systems that are key to understanding the challenges we face Questions it addresses include Will we be able to produce enough food to meet the increasing dietary needs and wants of the additional two billion people expected to inhabit our planet by 2050 Will we be able to meet the need for so much more food while simultaneously reducing adverse environmental effects of today's agriculture practices Will we be able to produce the additional food using less land and water than we use now These are among the most important challenges that face our planet in the coming decades The broad themes of food systems and people agriculture and the environment the science of agriculture agricultural products and agricultural production systems are covered in more than 200 separate chapters of this work The book provides information that serves as the foundation for discussion of the food and environment challenges of the world An international group of highly respected authors addresses these issues from a global perspective and provides the background references and linkages for further exploration of each of topics of this comprehensive work Addresses important challenges of sustainability and efficiency from a global perspective Takes a detailed look at the important issues affecting the agricultural and food industries today Full colour throughout

Farming with Fire and Water Đức Viên Trần, A. Terry Rambo, Thanh Lâm Nguyễn, 2009 This volume offers the first detailed description of composite swiddening a traditional Southeast Asian upland agricultural system that combines shifting cultivation fields on the hillsides with irrigated paddy fields in the valleys The book is a product of research over a 15 year period by natural and social scientists in Vietnam's Tat Hamlet a Da Bac Tay ethnic minority community and it challenges the conventional belief that shifting cultivation inevitably causes deforestation It describes this complex agroecosystem in terms of its multiple individual components structure functioning and sustainability social and economic dimensions adaptation to on going demographic economic environmental and policy changes and wider use elsewhere in Vietnam's northern mountains It will be of interest to Southeast Asian area studies specialists agricultural ecologists ethnologists and upland development policymakers

Second Growth Robin L. Chazdon, 2014-05-23 For decades conservation and research initiatives in tropical forests have focused almost exclusively on old growth forests because scientists believed that these pristine ecosystems housed superior levels of biodiversity With Second Growth Robin L. Chazdon reveals those assumptions to be largely false bringing to the fore the previously overlooked counterpart to old growth forest second growth Even as human activities result in extensive fragmentation and deforestation tropical forests demonstrate a great capacity for natural and human aided regeneration Although these damaged landscapes can take centuries to regain the characteristics of old growth Chazdon shows here that regenerating or second growth forests are vital dynamic reservoirs of biodiversity and environmental services What is more they always have been With chapters on the roles these forests play in carbon and nutrient cycling sustaining biodiversity providing timber and non timber products and integrated agriculture Second Growth not only offers a thorough and wide ranging overview of successional and restoration pathways but also underscores the need to conserve and further study regenerating tropical forests in an attempt to inspire a new age of local and global stewardship
