Sociable Cities Peter Hall, Colin Ward, 2014-06-05 Peter Hall and Colin Ward wrote Sociable Cities to celebrate the centenary of publication of Ebenezer Howard s To morrow A Peaceful Path to Real Reform in 1998 an event they then marked by co editing with Dennis Hardy the magnificent annotated facsimile edition of Howard s original long lost and very scarce in 2003 In this revised edition of Sociable Cities sadly now without Colin Ward Peter Hall writes the sixteen years separating the two editions of this book seem almost like geological time Revisiting the 1998 edition is like going back deep into ancient history The glad confident morning following Tony Blair s election has been followed by political disillusionment the fiscal crash widespread austerity and a marked anti planning stance on the part of the Coalition government But closely following the argument of Good Cities Better Lives How Europe discovered the Lost Art of Urbanism Routledge 2013 to which this book is designed as a companion Hall argues that the central message is now even stronger we need more planning not less And this planning needs to be driven by broad high level strategic visions national regional of the kind of country we want to see Above all Hall shows in the concluding chapters Britain's escalating housing crisis can be resolved only by a massive programme of planned decentralization from London at least equal in scale to the great Abercrombie plan seventy years ago He sets out a picture of great new city clusters at the periphery of South East England sustainably self sufficient in their daily patterns of living and working but linked to the capital by new high speed rail services This is a book that every planner and every serious student of policy making will want to read Published at a time when the political parties are preparing their policy manifestos it is designed to make a major contribution to a major national debate

Biblical Stories in Islamic Painting Na'ama Brosh, Rachel Milstein, 1991

Isfahan and its Palaces Sussan Babaie, 2008-07-14 Winner of the Houshang Pourshariati Iranian Studies Book Award 2009 This beautifully illustrated history of Safavid Isfahan 1501 1722 explores the architectural and urban forms and networks of socio cultural action that reflected a distinctly early modern and Perso Shi i practice of kingship An immense building campaign initiated in 1590 91 at the millennial threshold of the Islamic calendar 1000 A H transformed Isfahan from a provincial medieval and largely Sunni city into an urban centered representation of the first Imami Shi i empire in the history of Islam The historical process of Shi ification of Safavid Iran and the deployment of the arts in situating the shifts in the politico religious agenda of the imperial household informs Sussan Babaie s study of palatial architecture and urban environments of Isfahan and the earlier capitals of Tabriz and Qazvin Babaie argues that since the Safavid claim presumed the inheritance both of the charisma of the Shi'i Imams and of the aura of royal splendor integral to ancient Persian notions of kingship a ceremonial regime was gradually devised in which access and proximity to the shah assumed the contours of an institutionalized form of feasting Talar palaces a new typology in Islamic palatial designs and the urban spatial articulation of access and proximity are the architectural anchors of this argument Cast in the comparative light of urban spaces and palace complexes elsewhere and earlier in the Timurid Ottoman and Mughal realms as well as in the early modern European capitals Safavid Isfahan emerges as the epitome of a new architectural urban paradigm in the early modern age
