War Peace And Human Nature The Convergence Of Evolutionary And Cultural Views:

War, Peace, and Human Nature Douglas P. Fry, 2015-02 The chapters in this book posit that humans clearly have the capacity to make war but since war is absent in some cultures it cannot be viewed as a human universal And counter to frequent presumption the actual archaeological record reveals the recent emergence of war It does not typify the ancestral type of human society the nomadic forager band and contrary to widespread assumptions there is little support for the idea that war is ancient or an evolved adaptation Views of human nature as inherently warlike stem not from the facts but from cultural views embedded in Western thinking Amazon.com

Emergent Warfare in Our Evolutionary Past Nam C Kim, Marc Kissel, 2018-03-13 Why do we fight Have we always been fighting one another This book examines the origins and development of human forms of organized violence from an anthropological and archaeological perspective Kim and Kissel argue that human warfare is qualitatively different from forms of lethal intergroup violence seen elsewhere in the natural world and that its emergence is intimately connected to how humans evolved and to the emergence of human nature itself

Nurturing Our Humanity Riane Tennenhaus Eisler, Douglas P. Fry, 2019 Nurturing Our Humanity offers a new perspective on our personal and social options in today's world showing how to structure our environments from family and gender relations to politics and economics to support our great capacities for consciousness caring and creativity It examines where societies fall on the partnership domination scale and how this impacts equity sustainability peace and how our brains develop Combining cutting edge findings from biological and social science it explains regressions to strongman rule and other dangerous trends re examines our past including societies that for millennia oriented toward partnership and outlines actions to move us in this life sustaining and enhancing direction How is Global Dialogue Possible? Johanna Seibt, Jesper Garsdal, 2014-12-11

Intercultural dialogue is often invoked in vague reference to a method that can build cross cultural understanding and facilitate global policy making This book clarifies the theoretical foundations of intercultural dialogue and demonstrates the practical significance of intercultural value inquiry combining the perspectives of philosophy conflict research religious studies and education Pedagogies of Kindness and Respect Paul Lee Thomas, 2015 Pedagogies of Kindness and Respect presents a wide variety of concepts from scholars and practitioners who discuss pedagogies of kindness an alternative to the no excuses ideology now dominating the way that children are raised and educated in the U S today The fields of education and especially early childhood education include some histories and perspectives that treat those who are younger with kindness and respect This book demonstrates an informed awareness of this history and the ways that old and new ideas can counter current conditions that are harmful to both those who are younger and those who are older while avoiding the reconstitution of the romantic innocent child who needs to be saved by more advanced adults Two interpretations of the upbringing of children are investigated and challenged one suggesting that the poor do not know how to raise their children and thus need help while the other looks at those who are privileged and therefore know how to nurture their young These opposing views have been discussed and problematized for more than thirty years Pedagogies of Kindness and Respect investigates the issue of why this circumstance has continued and even worsened today Spirits and Ships Andrea Aciri, R. Blench, Alexandra Landmann, 2017 This volume seeks to foreground a borderless history and geography of South Southeast and East Asian littoral zones that would be maritime focused and thereby explore the ancient connections and dynamics of interaction that favoured the encounters among the cultures found throughout the region stretching from the Indian Ocean littorals to the Western Pacific from the early historical period to the present Transcending the artificial boundaries of macro regions and nation states and trying to bridge the arbitrary divide between inherently cosmopolitan high cultures e g Sanskrit Sinitic or Islamicate and local or indigenous cultures this multidisciplinary volume explores the metaphor of Monsoon Asia as a vast geo environmental area inhabited by speakers of numerous language phyla which for millennia has formed an integrated system of littorals where crops goods ideas cosmologies and ritual practices circulated on the sea routes governed by the seasonal monsoon winds The collective body of work presented in the volume describes Monsoon Asia as an ideal theatre for circulatory dynamics of cultural transfer interaction acceptance selection and avoidance and argues that despite the rich ethnic linguistic and sociocultural diversity a shared pattern of values norms and cultural models is discernible throughout the region Rethinking Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic Architecture in Central Anatolia Jana

Anvari,2021 This book evaluates the epistemology by which archaeology has translated the architectural record at Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic 6500 5500 BC sites in central Anatolia into interpretations of social organisation The first part of the book provides a summary of existing knowledge on the study region architecture in particular The second part conducts a content analysis of 284 publications and systematically maps and critiques the archaeological discourse around Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic architecture and social organisation As a by product of this discussion the book also provides an exploration of how people in central Anatolia during this period used architecture to create communities In the tradition of reflexive archaeology the main purpose of this book is to critically evaluate past research practices to contribute to their improvement It seeks to improve the research tools to understand the Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic as important transformative time periods in Anatolian prehistory that influenced the further course of southwest Asian and European prehistory for example by initiating development towards social stratification

War and Human Nature Stephen Peter Rosen,2009-02-09 Why did President John F Kennedy choose a strategy of confrontation during the Cuban missile crisis even though his secretary of defense stated that the presence of missiles in Cuba made no difference Why did large numbers of Iraqi troops surrender during the Gulf War even though they had been ordered to fight and were capable of doing so Why did Hitler declare war on the United States knowing full well the power of that country War and Human Nature argues that new findings about the way humans are shaped by their inherited biology may help provide answers to such questions This seminal work by former Defense Department official Stephen Peter Rosen contends that human evolutionary history has affected the way we process the information we use to make decisions The result is that human choices and calculations may be very different from those predicted by standard models of rational behavior This notion is particularly true in the area of war and peace Rosen contends Human emotional arousal affects how people learn the lessons of history For example stress and distress influence people s views of the future and testosterone levels play a role in human social conflict This thought provoking and timely work explores the mind that has emerged from the biological sciences over the last generation In doing so it helps shed new light on many persistent puzzles in the study of war

Human Nature and the Causes of War John David Orme,2018-04-07

What are the causes of war Wars are generally begun by a revisionist state seeking to take territory The psychological root of revisionism is the yearning for glory honor and power Human nature is the primary cause of war but political regimes can temper or intensify these passions This book examines the effects of six types of regime on foreign policy monarchy republic and sultanistic charismatic and military and totalitarian dictatorship Dictatorships encourage and unleash human ambition and are thus the governments most likely to begin ill considered wars Classical realism modified to incorporate the impact of regimes and beliefs provides a more convincing explanation of war than neo realism Times of India Illustrated Weekly,1980 The Causes of War and the Spread of Peace Azar Gat,2017-05-05 Azar Gat sets out to resolve one of the age old questions of human existence why people fight and can they stop Spanning warfare from prehistory to the 21st century the book shows that neither an irresistible drive nor a cultural invention deadly violence and warfare have figured prominently in our behavioural toolkit since the dawn of our species People have always alternated between cooperation peaceful competition and violence to attain evolution shaped human desires A marked shift in the balance between these options has occurred since the onset of the industrial age Rather than modern war becoming more costly it hasn't it is peace that has become more rewarding Scrutinizing existing theories concerning the decline of war such as the democratic peace and capitalist peace Gat shows that they in fact partake of a broader Modernization Peace that has been growing since 1815 By now war has disappeared within the world's most developed areas Finally Gat explains why the Modernization Peace has been disrupted in the past as during the two World Wars and how challenges to it may still arise They include claimants to alternative modernity such as China and Russia anti modernists and failed modernizers that may spawn terrorism potentially unconventional While the world has become more peaceful than ever before there is still much to worry about in terms of security and no place for complacency War and Human Nature David L. Bender,Bruno Leone,1983 Readings and discussion questions present conflicting points of view on war and its effect on humans The Most Dangerous Animal David Livingstone Smith,2007-08-07 Original and compelling insights into the human capacity for war A must read for anyone interested in the psychological depths of human nature Barbara S Held author of Back to Reality Almost 200 million human beings mostly civilians have died in wars over the last century and there is no end of slaughter in sight The Most Dangerous Animal asks what it is about human nature that makes it possible for human beings to regularly slaughter their own kind It tells the story of why all human beings have the potential to be hideously cruel and destructive to one another Why are we our own worst enemy The book shows us that war has been with us in one form or another since prehistoric times and looking at the behavior of our close relatives the chimpanzees it argues that a penchant for group violence has been bred into us over millions of years of biological evolution The Most Dangerous Animal takes the reader on a journey through evolution history anthropology and psychology showing how and why the human mind has a dual nature on the one hand we are ferocious dangerous animals who regularly commit terrible atrocities against our own kind on the other we have a deep aversion to killing a horror of taking human life Meticulously researched and far reaching in scope and with examples taken from ancient and modern history The Most Dangerous Animal delivers a sobering lesson for an increasingly dangerous world Illuminates an exceedingly dark subject humankind s deep seated penchant for war The result is a discerning insightful highly original and very disturbing book Andrew J Bacevich author of The Age of Illusions
