The Urban Caribbean Transition To The New Global Economy:

The Urban Caribbean Alejandro Portes, Carlos Dore y Cabral, Patricia Landolt, 1997-06-03 A study of urbanization in five countries Costa Rica Haiti Guatemala the Dominican Republic and Jamaica during the 1980s and 1990s when the region's economy shifted from one heavily dependent on imports to one directed more to producing exports The Urban Caribbean studies urbanization in five countries Costa Rica Haiti Guatemala the Dominican Republic and Jamaica during the 1980s and 1990s when the region's economy shifted from one heavily dependent on imports to one directed more to producing exports This shift caused producers and entrepreneurs to rely more on microenterprises thus challenging the informal economy networks of the central cities Sociologist Alejandro Portes and the other contributors use rich in depth data to examine both qualitative and quantitative changes in these five countries Their research method allows them to make generalizations applicable to all five economies while retaining the concreteness of the similarities and differences that make each country unique This volume is an incentive to other collaborative efforts to chart the paths taken by the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean as they seek to accommodate to the new global political and economic context The message of the volume is a convincing one Because of similarities in the trends affecting countries of the region and policy debates each country can benefit from the experiences of the others However the differences in political structure and in the nature of citizenship mean that social and economic policy debates must take into account the national context from the Foreword by Bryan Roberts University of Texas Austin

The Urban Caribbean in an Era of Global Change Robert B. Potter, 2000 Based on the author's first hand field research this book addresses the twin processes of urbanization and globalization as they affect the contemporary Caribbean region One of the key aims of the book is to focus attention on the fact that contrary to popular perceptions the Caribbean is highly urbanized Indeed statistics show that the region is more highly urbanized than the world taken as a whole In addition the fact that the Caribbean region has always been affected by processes of globalization in respect of its economy polity and society is central to the text The chapters cover pressing topics such as urban change and the evolution of mini metropolitan regions the importance of the mercantile and plantopolis frameworks tourism post modernity and the urban nexus economic change and the dual processes of global convergence and divergence and the nature of the relationships existing between the state the informal sector housing and environmental conditions In reality it is shown that the development of tourism and enclave manufacturing is leading to new forms of urban concentration and not spatial dispersal

A World-Systems Reader Thomas D. Hall, 2000-03-01 This book brings together some of the most influential new research from the world systems perspective The authors survey and analyze new and emerging topics from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives from political science to archaeology Each analytical essay is written in accessible language so that the volume serves as a lucid introduction both to the tradition of world systems thought and the new debates that are sparking further research today
