Ineffability: An Exercise in Comparative Philosophy of Religion Timothy D. Knepper, Leah E. Kalmanson, 2017-11-24 This collection of essays is an exercise in comparative philosophy of religion that explores the different ways in which humans express the inexpressible It brings together scholars of over a dozen religious literary and artistic traditions as part of The Comparison Project's 2013 15 lecture and dialogue series on religion beyond words Specialist scholars first detailed the grammars of ineffability in nine different religious traditions as well as the adjacent fields of literature poetry music and art The Comparison Project's directors then compared this diverse set of phenomena offering explanations for their patterning and raising philosophical questions of truth and value about religious ineffability in comparative perspective This book is the inaugural publication of The Comparison Project an innovative new approach to the philosophy of religion housed at Drake University Des Moines Iowa USA The Comparison Project organizes a biennial series of scholar lectures practitioner dialogues and comparative panels about core cross cultural topics in the philosophy of religion Specialist scholars of religion first explore this topic in their religions of expertise comparativist philosophers of religion then raise questions of meaning truth and value about this topic in comparative perspective The Comparison Project stands apart from traditional approaches to the philosophy of religion in its commitment to religious inclusivity It is the future of the philosophy of religion in a diverse global world

The Oxford Handbook of Meditation Miguel Farias, David Brazier, Mansur Lalljee, 2021-10-21 Meditation techniques including mindfulness have become popular wellbeing practices and the scientific study of their effects has recently turned 50 years old But how much do we know about them what were they developed for and by whom How similar or different are they how effective can they be in changing our minds and biology what are their social and ethical implications The Oxford Handbook of Meditation is the most comprehensive volume published on meditation written in accessible language by world leading experts on the science and history of these techniques It covers the development of meditation across the world and the varieties of its practices and experiences It includes approaches from various disciplines including psychology neuroscience history anthropology and sociology and it explores its potential for therapeutic and social change as well as unusual or negative effects Edited by practitioner researchers this book is the ultimate guide for all interested in meditation including teachers clinicians therapists researchers or anyone who would like to learn more about this topic Contemplative Literature Louis Komjathy, 2015-08-31 This is the first theoretically informed and historically accurate comparative anthology of primary texts on meditation and contemplative prayer Written by international experts on the respective texts and corresponding traditions Contemplative Literature provides introductions to and primary sources on contemplative practice from various religious traditions The contributors explore classical Daoist apophatic meditation Quaker silent prayer Jewish Kabbalah Southern Buddhist meditation Sufi contemplation Eastern Orthodox prayer Pure Land Buddhist visualization Hindu classical Yoga Dominican Catholic prayer Daoist internal alchemy and modern therapeutic meditation Each introduction to a contemplative text discusses its historical context the associated religious tradition and literature the method of contemplative practice and the text's legacy and influence Volume editor Louis Komjathy opens the work with a thoughtful consideration of interpretive issues in the emerging interdisciplinary field of contemplative studies Readers will gain not only a nuanced understanding of important works of contemplative literature but also resources for understanding contemplative practice and contemplative experience from a comparative and cross cultural perspective

Making Peace with the Universe Michael Scott Alexander, 2020-11-03 The world's great religious and philosophical traditions often include poignant testimonies of spiritual turmoil and healing Following episodes of harrowing personal crisis including addictions periods of anxiety and panic and reminders of mortality these accounts then also describe pathways to consolation and resolution In Making Peace with the Universe Michael Scott Alexander reads diverse classic religious accounts as masterpieces of therapeutic insight In the company of William James Socrates Muslim legal scholar turned mystic Hamid al Ghazali Chinggis Khan as described by the Daoist monk Qui Chuji and jazz musician and Catholic convert Mary Lou Williams Alexander traces the steps from existential crisis to psychological health He recasts spiritual confessions as case histories of therapy showing how they remain radical and deeply meaningful even in an age of scientific psychology They record the therapeutic affect of spiritual experience testifying to the achievement of psychological well being through the cultivation of an edifying spiritual mood Mixing scholarly learning with episodes from his own skeptical quest Alexander demonstrates how these accounts of private terror and personal triumph offer a model of therapy through spiritual adventure An interdisciplinary consideration of the shared terrain of religion and psychology Making Peace with the Universe offers an innovative view of what spiritual traditions can teach us about finding meaning in the modern world Taming the Wild

Horse Louis Komjathy, 2017-03-21 In thirteenth century China a Daoist monk named Gao Daokuan 1195-1277 composed a series of illustrated poems and accompanying verse commentary known as the Daoist Horse Taming Pictures In this annotated translation and study Louis Komjathy argues that this virtually unknown text offers unique insights into the transformative effects of Daoist contemplative practice Taming the Wild Horse examines Gao's illustrated poems in terms of monasticism and contemplative practice as well as the multivalent meaning of the horse in traditional Chinese culture and the consequences for both human and nonhuman animals The Horse Taming Pictures consist of twelve poems ten of which are equine centered They develop the metaphor of a wild or untamed horse to represent ordinary consciousness which must be reined in and harnessed through sustained self cultivation especially meditation The compositions describe stages on the Daoist contemplative path Komjathy provides opportunities for reflection on contemplative practice in general and Daoist meditation in particular which may lead to a transpersonal way of perceiving and being Journal of Chinese Religions, 2016 Daoism Handbook Livia Kohn, 2004 Daoist Modern Xun Liu, 2009 This book explores the Daoist encounter with modernity through the activities of Chen Yingning 1880 1969 a famous lay Daoist master and his group in early twentieth century Shanghai In contrast to the usual narrative of Daoist decay with its focus on monastic decline clerical corruption and popular superstitions this study tells a story of Daoist resilience reinvigoration and revival Between the 1920s and 1940s Chen led a group of urban lay followers in pursuing Daoist self cultivation techniques as a way of ensuring health promoting spirituality forging cultural self identity building community and strengthening the nation In their efforts to renew and reform Daoism Chen and his followers became deeply engaged with nationalism science the religious reform movements the new urban print culture and other forces of modernity Since Chen and his fellow practitioners conceived of the Daoist self cultivation tradition as a public resource they also transformed it from an esoteric pursuit into a public practice offering a modernizing society a means of managing the body and the mind and of forging a new cultural spiritual and religious identity

□□□□□□, 2014 Contemplative Literature Louis Komjathy, 2015-08-31 An anthology of primary texts on meditation and contemplative prayer from a wide range of religious traditions This is the first theoretically informed and historically accurate comparative anthology of primary texts on meditation and contemplative prayer Written by international experts on the respective texts and corresponding traditions Contemplative Literature provides introductions to and primary sources on contemplative practice from various religious traditions The contributors explore classical Daoist apophatic meditation Quaker silent prayer Jewish Kabbalah Southern Buddhist meditation Sufi contemplation Eastern Orthodox prayer Pure Land Buddhist visualization Hindu classical Yoga Dominican Catholic prayer Daoist internal alchemy and modern therapeutic meditation Each introduction to a contemplative text discusses its historical context the associated religious tradition and literature the method of contemplative practice and the text's legacy and influence Volume editor Louis Komjathy opens the work with a thoughtful consideration of interpretive issues in the emerging interdisciplinary field of contemplative studies Readers will gain not only a nuanced understanding of important works of contemplative literature but also resources for understanding contemplative practice and contemplative experience from a comparative and cross cultural perspective We have not seen anything this bold and this global since Friedrich Heiler wrote his classic study on the typology of prayer over eighty years ago Komjathy and his essayists have vastly expanded the scope depth and sophistication of this project here In the process they have struggled with all of the critical questions around religious pluralism tradition and religious authority and have emboldened the comparative project itself Contemplation and comparison it turns out go very well together Jeffrey

J Kripal author of Comparing Religions Coming to Terms Teachers and scholars undergraduate and graduate students and general readers interested in contemplative practice will cherish a book like this I m happy that Louis Komjathy has done this great work It will undoubtedly be hailed as a milestone Ruben L F Habito author of Healing Breath Zen for Christians and Buddhists in a Wounded World Lao Tzu's Dao de King (the Sacred Book of the Way and Its Heart). Enjoying the Beat of Expression: An Psychological Symphony within The Way Of Complete Perfection A Quanzhen Daoist Anthology

In some sort of consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of quick connection, the melodic elegance and psychological symphony developed by the written word usually diminish in to the back ground, eclipsed by the constant noise and disturbances that permeate our lives. But, nestled within the pages of The Way Of Complete Perfection A Quanzhen Daoist Anthology an enchanting fictional treasure full of fresh feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful musician of language, that charming masterpiece conducts readers on a psychological journey, well unraveling the concealed tunes and profound affect resonating within each cautiously crafted phrase. Within the depths with this poignant assessment, we shall investigate the book is central harmonies, analyze its enthralling publishing type, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
