George E. Marcus, 1996-07 From the frontiers of cyberspace to Tibetans in exile from computer bulletin boards to faxes film and videotape the ongoing and often startling evolution of media continues to generate fresh new avenues for cultural criticism political activism and self reflection How is contemporary life affected by this stunning proliferation of information technologies How does the Internet influence and perhaps alter users experience of community and their sense of self In what way are giant media conglomerates implicated in these far reaching developments Connected the third volume in the groundbreaking and highly acclaimed Late Editions series confronts these provocative questions through unique experiments with the interview format It explores both the new pathways being forged through media and the predicaments of those struggling to find their way in the twilight of the twentieth century

Documentary and Verbatim Theatre Stuart Young, 2025-12-12 Documentary and Verbatim Theatre surveys the emergence and rise of work based on real life in contemporary theatre exploring the artists methodologies plays and central themes that have characterised its enduring popularity After charting the recent history of modern documentary theatre in the twentieth century and the debates that have surrounded it in the past thirty years each chapter examines in depth key practices such as headphone verbatim and extreme verbatim and practitioners from Anna Deavere Smith and David Hare to The Civilians and DV8 Physical Theatre Practitioners chosen topics playwriting process and engagement with sometimes fraught debates in the field are brought to the fore Focusing on the various dramaturgical and theatrical strategies used to create and stage documentary theatre this book provides a practice centric understanding of some of the principal issues related to the form including the tensions between fidelity to the documentary or verbatim record and the exercise of artistic licence the ethical issues entailed in representing living people the implications for actors and our understanding of acting and our assumptions about aesthetic distancing This is an essential introduction to documentary and verbatim theatre for theatre studies students teachers and scholars as well as theatre practitioners

Anna Deavere Smith's Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992 Adam Perry, 1996 In Twilight Los Angeles 1992 Anna Deavere Smith crosses interdisciplinary boundaries in the name of cultural analysis providing a strong argument for the inclusion of theatre within the discourse and rhetoric of other disciplines Smith s performative attempt to bridge the gap of race relations in our country is a working example of how theatre can include the work of other disciplines in the name of cultural examination This thesis is an examination of the possibilities and limitations of this argument

The Contemporary American Monologue Eddie Paterson, 2015-12-17 Talk show confessions online rants stand up routines inspirational speeches banal reflections and calls to arms we live in an age of solo voices demanding to be heard In The Contemporary American Monologue Eddie Paterson looks at the pioneering work of US artists Spalding Gray Laurie Anderson Anna Deavere Smith and Karen Finley and the development of solo performance in the US as a method of cultural and political critique Ironic confession post punk poetry investigations of race and violence and subversive polemic this book reveals the link between the rise of radical monologue in the late 20th century and history of speechmaking politics civil rights individual freedom and the American Dream in the United States It shows how US artists are speaking back to the cultural political and economic forces that shape the world Eddie Paterson traces the importance of the monologue in Shakespeare Brecht Beckett Chekov Pinter O'Neill and Williams before offering a comprehensive analysis of several of the most influential and innovative American practitioners of monologue performance The Contemporary American Monologue constitutes the first book length account of US monologists that links the tradition of oratory and speechmaking in the colony to the appearance of solo performance as a distinctly American phenomenon

Imagining the African American West Blake Allmendinger, 2005-01-01 The literature of the African American West is the last racial discourse of the region that remains unexplored Blake Allmendinger addresses this void in literary and cultural studies with Imagining the African American West the first comprehensive study of African American literature on the early frontier and in the modern urban American West Allmendinger charts the terrain of African American literature in the West through his exploration of novels histories autobiographies science fiction mysteries formula westerns melodramas experimental theater and political essays as well as rap music and film He examines the histories of James P Beckwourth and Oscar Micheaux slavery the Civil War and the significance of the American frontier to blacks and the Harlem Renaissance the literature of urban unrest rap music black noir and African American writers including Toni Morrison and Walter Mosley His study utilizes not only the works of well known African American writers but also some obscure and neglected works out of print books and unpublished manuscripts in library archives Much of the scholarly neglect of the Black West can be blamed on how the American West has been imagined constructed and framed in scholarship to date In his study Allmendinger provides the appropriate theoretical cultural and historical contexts for understanding the literature and suggests new directions for the future of black western literature

Dismemberment in Drama, Dismemberment of Drama Lance Norman, 2008 Dismemberment in Drama Dismemberment of Drama is an essay collection which considers the dramatic possibility contained in the images and narratives of dismemberment frequently recurring on the western stage The Classical Tragedies of Sophocles and Euripides the Romanticism of Kleist the surrealism of Artaud and the contemporary drama of Suzan Lori Parks and Marina Carr are just some of the fractured and fragmented bodies analyzed in this collection Both individually and in concert the contributors ask what a dismembered body means Such an inquiry allows them to confront dismemberment as a theoretical category which understands such twentieth century innovations as the Theatre of Cruelty the Epic Theatre the Open Theater and documentary theatre as part of a long dramatic tradition Dismemberment in drama examines the tenuous bond between representation and the object being represented by highlighting the dismemberment of drama as a form that occurs during drama TM s repeated theorizations of its own enactment There is a conflict between disintegration and unity inherent in mimesis theatrical phenomenology and performance Interlitteraria ,2008 Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism ,2005 Ebony ,1994-05 American Theatre ,2003 Contemporary Authors New Revision Pamela Dear,1997-02 In response to the escalating need for up to date information on writers Contemporary Authors New Revision Series brings researchers the most recent data on the world s most popular authors These exciting and unique author profiles are essential to your holdings because sketches are entirely revised and up to date and completely replace the original Contemporary Authors entries For your convenience a soft cover cumulative index is sent biannually While Gale strives to replicate print content some content may not be available due to rights restrictions Call your Sales Rep for details
