Charles Tieszen, 2020-11-12 This book offers a fresh appraisal of Muhammad that considers the widest possible history of the ways in which Christians have assessed his prophethood To medieval Christian communities Muhammad the leader of a religious and political community that grew quickly and with relative success was an enigma Did God really send him as a prophet with a revelation Was the political success of the community he founded a divine validation Or were he and his followers inspired by something evil Despite their attempts modern Christians continued to be puzzled by Muhammad The Qur'an provided a framework for understanding and honouring Jesus was it possible for Christians to reciprocate with regard to Muhammad This book applies the same analysis to both medieval and modern assessments of Muhammad in order to demonstrate the continuities and disparities present in literature from the two eras Orthodoxy in Arabic Terms Najib George Awad, 2015-04-24 This volume presents Theodore Abu Qurrah's apologetic Christian theology in dialogue with Islam It explores the question of whether in his attempt to convey orthodoxy in Arabic to the Muslim reader Abu Qurrah diverged from creedal doctrinal Christian theology and compromised its core content A comprehensive study of the theology of Abu Qurrah and its relation to Islamic and pre-Islamic orthodox Melkite thought has not yet been pursued in modern scholarship Awad addresses this gap in scholarship by offering a thorough analytic hermeneutics of Abu Qurrah's apologetic thought with specific attention to his theological thought on the Trinity and Christology This study takes scholarship beyond attempts at editing and translating Abu Qurrah's texts and offers scholars students and lay readers in the fields of Arabic Christianity Byzantine theology Christian Muslim dialogues and historical theology an unprecedented scientific study of Abu Qurrah's theological mind The Protestant Reformation and World Christianity Dale T. Cross Veneration in the Medieval Islamic World Charles Tieszen,2016-02-28 One of the most common religious practices among medieval Eastern Christian communities was their devotion to venerating crosses and crucifixes Yet many of these communities existed in predominantly Islamic contexts where the practice was subject to much criticism and often resulted in accusations of idolatry How did Christians respond to these allegations Why did they advocate the preservation of a practice that was often met with confusion or even contempt To shed light onto these questions Charles Tieszen looks at every known apologetic or polemical text written between the eighth and fourteenth centuries to include a relevant discussion With sources taken from across the Mediterranean basin Egypt Syria and Palestine the result is the first in depth look at a key theological debate which lay at the heart of these communities religious identities By considering the perspectives of both Muslim and Christian authors Cross Veneration in the Medieval Islamic World also raises important questions concerning cross cultural debate and exchange and the development of Christianity and Islam in the medieval period This is an important book that will shine much needed light onto Christian Muslim relations the nature of inter faith debates and the wider issues facing the communities living across the Middle East during the medieval period The Church and the Library Dean Papademetriou, Andrew J. Sopko, 2005 Multifaith Spaces Terry Biddington, 2020-09-21 Multifaith spaces reflect the diversity of the modern world and enable a connection between individuals from different religious backgrounds These spaces also highlight the complex and sensitive areas of political and social debates regarding the emergence of densely urbanised populations They hold the potential to encourage connection and dialogue between members of different communities promoting empathy community and shared activity for the betterment of society This book explores the history development design and practicalities of multifaith spaces from the early shared religious buildings that had to cater for two or more faiths to the shared multifaith spaces of modern secular locations such as universities airports and hospitals Terry Biddington looks at the architectural theological social legal and practical complexities that arise from the development and use of such spaces The book also draws together research to enable further development of multifaith spaces Exegetical Crossroads Georges Tamer, Regina Grundmann, Assaad Elias Kattan, Karl Pinggéra, 2017-12-18 The art of interpreting Holy Scriptures flourished throughout the culturally heterogeneous pre modern Orient among Jews Christians and Muslims Different ways of interpretation developed within each religion not without considering the others How were the interactions and how productive were they for the further development of these traditions Have there been blurred spaces of scholarly activity that transcended sectarian borders What was the role played by mutual influences in profiling the own tradition against the others These and other related questions are critically treated in the present volume Belief, Behavior, and Health Sandra D. Lane, 2024-10-03 This book uniquely examines across cultures the health benefits and detriments of religious beliefs with important implications for individual wellbeing and human survival Belief Behavior and Health takes the reader through journeys of the author s research in the Middle East Africa and the urban United States where she focused on the unequal health and survival of women globally and vulnerable groups in the United States Almost every health problem especially those experienced by the poor and disadvantaged arose from or was made worse by the conditions in the environment in which people lived Lane s detailed studies of beliefs about Judaism Christianity and Islam led to the author's deep observations on how religious belief and practice as well as discrimination due to religious prejudice can be a major influence on health both positively and negatively. In this book Lane shows how religious precepts and cultural influences on religious behavior function as social determinants of health. An accessible and compelling read, this book will appeal to students and scholars of public health, anthropology, and sociology, and those interested in the influence of religion on health outcomes.
