The Contradictions of Love Lena Gunnarsson, 2014-01-03 The Contradictions of Love Towards a feminist realist ontology of sociosexuality offers a robust and multifaceted theoretical account of how in contemporary western societies women continue to be subordinated to men through sexual love The book defends and elaborates Anna G J nasd ttir s thesis that men tend to exploit women of their love power by means of an innovative application of critical realism dialectical critical realism and the philosophy of metaReality Gunnarsson also offers a critique of the state of affairs of contemporary feminist theory The author demonstrates that the meta theoretical framework of critical realism offers the tools that can counter the poststructuralist hegemony still prevailing in feminist theory On a general level The Contradictions of Love attempts at reconciling theoretical positions which tend to appear in opposition to one another In particular it offers a way of bridging the gap between the notion of love as a locus of exploitation and that of love as a force which can conquer oppression This book is a unique and timely contribution in the field of feminist theory in that it offers the first elaborate assessment and development of J nasd ttir s important but relatively sidestepped work and in that it counters poststructuralist trends from the point of view of a robust critical realist framework that has hitherto been spectacularly absent in feminist theory although it offers solutions to metatheoretical problems at the forefront of feminist debates in the field of critical realism broadly defined in that it elaborates on crucial ontological themes of dialectical critical realism and the philosophy of metaReality via a discussion of the issues of love sexuality gender and power and finally in the field of love studies in that it offers a sophisticated account of how gender asymmetries prevail in love despite norms of gender equality and reciprocity and in that it reconciles feminist conflict oriented perspectives on love with notions of love as transcending conflict

José Rivers Alfaro, 2022-10-12 Blending literary analysis and memoir Something More Splendid Than Two is at once an excavation of intergenerational wounds a dance number a poem and a fraught love letter from son to father that disrupts the dominant narratives surrounding the life and myth of Joaquín Murrieta In the Mexican American imaginary the legend of Joaquín Murrieta has been recast to explain the wounding of Mexican American men after the 1848 border formation In these versions Joaquín is a vigilante hero and the patriarchal father of the Chicanx movement Revisiting the most circulated version of the Joaquín myth The Life and Adventures of Joaquín Murrieta written by Cherokee writer John Rollin Ridge the first published Native American author in the US Something More Splendid Than Two offers an alternative to these versions Stitching together multiple tangled histories of Indigenous and Mexican woundings living in the margins of Ridge's 19th century novel alfaro opens a queer timeline where Chicanx and Indigenous solidarities can be imagined By attuning to the choreographies of power and patriarchy that produced readers and writers like Ridge and the author of this book José Rivers Alfaro imagines that in that endless encounter between reader and writer both time travel and collective healing are possible José Rivers Alfaro is an artist who teaches writing and literature Raised in Sacramento California he attended Cosumnes River College the community college where he currently works as a professor He earned his B.A. in English Literature at San Francisco State University and his Ph D in English at UC Riverside focusing on Nineteenth Century American Literature and Queer Latinx Studies Before returning to Sacramento he learned how to dance salsa and bachata Since then he continues to spend a lot of time thinking about how he can make the magic of the dance floor happen on the page

Home Front Heroes Elizabeth Abele,2013-12-04 This book traces the effects of the feminist and civil rights movements in the construction of Hollywood action heroes Starting in the late 1980s action blockbusters regularly have featured masculine figures who choose love and community over the path of the stoic loner committed solely to duty The American heroic quest of the past 25 years increasingly has involved a reclamation of home creating a place for the Hero at the hearth part of a more intimate community with less restrictive gender and racial boundaries The author presents pieces of contemporary popular culture that create the complex mosaic of the present day American heroic ideal Hollywood popular films are examined that best represent the often painful shift from traditional heroic masculinity to a masculinity that is less exceptional and more vulnerable There are also chapters on how issues of race and gender intersect with the new masculinity and on subgenres of 1990s films that also developed this postfeminist masculinity
