Tutorials In General Practice:

Tutorials in General Practice Michael Mead, Henry Patterson, 1992 This book presents a series of tutorials that resulted from a debate between a trainer and a trainee in general practice to find what the trainee needed to learn what it was the trainer had to teach and how this might be achieved The aim is to give the reader a fundamental understanding of the conditions encountered in general practice and a summary of the organization of health care in the UK Each chapter contains an introductory paragraph giving basic information about the problem or symptom which can be obtained from a review of the literature on the nature of the problem its incidence and prevalence and a comment on its significance This is followed by a brief outline of a case as it is presented The presentation is divided into steps and the tutorial discussion takes place as the problem unfolds The tutorial emphasizes the history and examination thought to be relevant and discusses issues which were raised Finally where possible the outcome of the case is recorded and a summary of the teaching points is given for any future revision The second edition of this textbook contains two new chapters on the nature of the tutorial and the GP's New Contract

Postgraduate Tutorials in General Practice W. Edward Warren, 1995-01-01 So much information is currently available to the trainee GP that it is almost impossible to absorb it all especially within the allotted trainee year There is a need however for the trainee to have access to the most important material without having to wade through numerous publications and articles With this in mind the author an experienced General Practice Trainer has selected topics of relevance to most trainees and provided enough information in each chapter to form the basis of an hour's tutorial The aim of the book is to stimulate discussion between trainee and tutor and the topics chosen reflect those subject areas where junior doctors most commonly request tutorials
