Typed Words Loud Voices:

Typed Words, Loud Voices Amy Sequenzia, Elizabeth J. Grace, 2015 Typed Words Loud Voices is written by a coalition of writers who type to talk and believe it is neither logical nor fair that some people should be expected to prove themselves every time they have something to say

The Spellers Guidebook Dawnmarie Gaivin, Dana Johnson, 2023-11-21 A means by which thousands and soon millions of people are being freed from their lives of silence The Spellers Guidebook is the first of its kind a comprehensive guidebook that every family should take along for their Spelling journey From the moment you first learn about spelled communication through working with a practitioner developing fluency and everything in between this book serves as a blueprint to follow while you build the skills to spell openly with your child The Spellers Guidebook is informative not only for parents and caregivers but for practitioners and professionals as well It answers questions from the most basic what to expect during the first spelling session to more clinical what is apraxia and how does it affect my speller It even discusses the importance of regulation and how the interpersonal dynamic between the speller and their communication partner can impact flow The journey toward open communication differs for every family and this handbook is here to help remove any guesswork Whether your path seems straight and easy to navigate or the road ahead appears winding and twisting Dana and DM are here to guide you If you walk away with nothing more than the confidence that you can do this with your nonspeaker because you CAN The Spellers Guidebook has done its job

Narrating the Many Autisms Anna Stenning, 2024-03-05 Autism is a profoundly contested idea The focus of this book is not what autism is or what autistic people are but rather it grapples with the central question what does it take for autistic people to participate in a shared world as equals with other people Drawing from her close reading of a range of texts and narratives by autistic authors filmmakers bloggers and academics Anna Stenning highlights the creativity and imagination in these accounts and also considers the possibilities that emerge when the unexpected and novel aspects of experience are attended to and afforded their due space Approaching these narrative accounts in the context of both the Anthropocene and neoliberalism Stenning unpacks and reframes understandings about autism and identity agency and mattering across sections exploring autistic intelligibility autistic sensibility and community oriented collaboration and care By moving away from the non autistic stories about autism that have over time dominated public conception of the autistic experience and relationships as well as the cognitive and psychoanalytic paradigms that have reduced autism and autistic people to a homogeneous group the book instead reveals the multiplicity of autistic subjectivities and their subsequent understandings of well being and vulnerability It calls on readers to listen to what autistic people have to say about the possibilities of resistance and solidarity against intersecting currents and eddies of power which endanger all who challenge the neoliberal conception of Life A stirring and meaningful departure from atomized accounts of neurological difference Narrating the Many Autisms ponders big questions about its topic and finds clarity and meaning in the sense making practices of autistic individuals and groups It will appeal to scholarly readers across the fields of disability studies the medical humanities cultural studies critical psychology sociology anthropology and literature

Youth Voice and Participatory Arts in Global Development The May Group, 2025-02-17 Youth Voice and Participatory Arts in Global Development looks at how arts based methods can promote youth voice and engagement in global development This book argues that engaging young people's diverse voices ideas and knowledges in matters that affect them is vital in enabling young people to become and be recognised as active citizens developing more inclusive societies and ensuring that development programmes remain accountable to the young people they aim to benefit We draw on youth led participatory research projects from across Africa Asia Europe and Latin America which used a range of art forms and engagement mechanisms including participatory filmmaking street art and the intersection of formal and non formal education Through this process we develop the conceptualisation of transrational voice for epistemic justice and demonstrate the unique role that arts based methods play in enabling this broad conceptualisation of voice that accounts for the multiple dimensions of young people's knowledges and experiences This book will be of interest to researchers within international development arts and youth studies as well as to development practitioners and anyone interested in promoting epistemic justice with and for young people

The Oxford Handbook of Music and the Body Youn Kim, Sander L. Gilman, 2019 The presence of the phenomenological body is central to music in all of its varieties The Oxford Handbook of Music and the Body brings together scholars from across the humanities social sciences and biomedical sciences to provide an introduction into the rich multidimensional world of music and the body

Communication Alternatives in Autism Edlyn Vallejo Peña, 2019-09-20 Ten autistic self advocates share their experiences with alternative forms of communication such as rapid prompting method RPM and facilitated communication FC both highly controversial Their narratives document the complexities that autistic individuals navigate in both educational and community settings when choosing to use approaches that utilize letter boards and keyboards While the controversies remain RPM requires further scientific study and FC is subject to criticism about confirmation bias these individuals share powerful stories in the context of aiming for disability rights The book concludes with a chapter about best practices for educators particularly for schools and colleges that have students who use these communication methods

Disability as Meta Curriculum Gillian Parekh, Elizabeth J. Grace, Nirmala Erevelles, 2023-03-31 This edited book makes an epistemic claim that disability studies approaches to curriculum are doing more than merely critiquing how privileged knowledge excludes disability from curriculum theory and praxis The scholars in this volume argue instead that Disability Studies embodies an epistemic space that not only demonstrates its difference from the normative curriculum it exceeds curriculum's confining boundaries Thus they argue for a curriculum about curriculum one that critically investigates the epistemological ontological and pedagogical claims of the normative curriculum from the critical standpoint of disability Conceptualizing curriculum as cultural politics each chapter offers a theorization of disability via a critical intersectional lens that addresses the following questions What are the epistemological barriers possibilities encountered when disability is brought into the intellectual ambit of curriculum theory What would curriculum theory look like if disabled people re imagined the curriculum What is the link between curriculum and conceptions of specialized programming for students identified as disabled And most critically how do approaches to schooling and conceptions of ability within curriculum studies enact forms of racism sexism and heteronormativity as well as are complicit in the construction and removal of the disabled body from mainstream education This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Curriculum Inquiry Just Care Akemi Nishida,2022-07-15 Just Care examines care as a site where the somatic the political economy and intersectional social oppressions manifest and materialize interactively while it is also a vision and praxis for radically collective and affectionate ways to live and transform society
