Susskind, 2022-03-31 This book predicts the decline of today's professions and introduces the people and systems that will replace them In an internet enhanced society according to Richard Susskind and Daniel Susskind we will neither need nor want doctors teachers accountants architects the clergy consultants lawyers and many others to work as they did in the 20th century The Future of the Professions explains how increasingly capable technologies from telepresence to artificial intelligence will place the practical expertise of the finest specialists at the fingertips of everyone often at no or low cost and without face to face interaction The authors challenge the grand bargain the arrangement that grants various monopolies to today's professionals They argue that our current professions are antiquated opaque and no longer affordable and that the expertise of their best is enjoyed only by a few In their place they propose five new models for producing and distributing expertise in society The book raises profound policy issues not least about employment they envisage a new generation of open collared workers and about control over online expertise they warn of new gatekeepers in an era when machines become more capable than human beings at most tasks With a new preface exploring recent critical developments this updated edition builds on the authors groundbreaking research into more than a dozen professions Illustrated with numerous examples from each this is the first book to assess and question the relevance of the professions in the 21st century

Fighting Fraud and Corruption in the Humanitarian and Global Development Sector Oliver May, 2016-05-12 There are an estimated 40 000 international Non Government Organisations NGOs working in an enormous global aid industry official development assistance alone reached 90bn in 2014 This is supplemented by huge voluntary giving the UK public for example give around 1bn a year to overseas causes These organisations face a unique challenge from fraud and corruption Operating in the world's most under developed and fragile environments with minimal infrastructure and trust based cultures the risk is high And being wholly reliant on donors and supporters for income so are the stakes Researchers make different estimates of the scale of the problem facing the sector Some research implies that losses to the global aid budget caused by occupational fraud and abuse may be in the billions of pounds while those to the British public's voluntary overseas donations could be in the tens of millions. For many sector professionals working in the developing world these estimates are readily believable. Fighting Fraud and Corruption in the Humanitarian and Global Development Sector by Oliver May is a timely accessible and relevant how to guide which explores the scale and nature of the threat, debunks pervasive myths and shows readers how to help their NGOs to better deter, prevent, detect and respond to fraud and corruption.

Ethics and Taxation Robert F. van Brederode, 2019-11-02. This book does not present a single philosophical approach to taxation and ethics but instead demonstrates the divergence in opinions and approaches using a framework consisting of three broad categories: tax policy and design of tax law, ethical standards for tax advisors and taxpayers and tax law enforcement. In turn, the book addresses a number of moral questions in connection with taxes concerning such topics as the nature of government, the relation between government, the state and its subjects or citizens, the moral justification of taxes, the link between property and taxation, tax planning, evasion and avoidance, corporate social responsibility, the use of coercive power in collecting taxes and enforcing tax laws, ethical standards for tax advisors, tax payer rights, the balance between individual rights to liberty and privacy and government compliance and information requirements, the moral justification underlying the efforts of legislators and policymakers to restructure society and steer individual and corporate behavior.

Advanced Issues in International and European Tax Law Christiana HJI Panayi, 2015-12-03. This book examines recent developments and high profile debates that have arisen in the field of international tax law and European tax law. Topics such as international tax avoidance, corporate social responsibility, good governance in tax matters, harmful tax competition, state aid, tax treaty abuse and the financial transaction tax are considered. The OECD G20 project on Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (BEPS) features prominently in the book. The interaction with the European Union's Action Plan to strengthen the fight against tax fraud and tax evasion is also considered. Particular attention is paid to specific BEPS deliverables exploring them through the prism of European Union law. Can the two approaches be aligned or are there inherent conflicts between them? The book also explores whether when it comes to aggressive tax planning there are internal conflicts between the established case law of the Court of Justice and the emerging policy of the European institutions. By so doing it offers a review of issues which are of constitutional importance to the European Union. Finally, the book reflects on the future of international and European tax law in the post BEPS world.

Foreign Mining Investment Law Richard W. Roeder, 2016-06-28. This work analyzes and compares the legal framework for foreign investments in the mining sector in Australia, South Africa and Colombia.
