

The background of the cover is a painting of a snowy Russian street scene. On the left, there is a church with green domes and a bell tower. In the center, a crowd of people in winter clothing is walking on the snow. On the right, a large yellow building with many windows is visible. In the foreground, a group of people in dark uniforms and hats are walking, some carrying red flags. A brown horse is visible on the left side of the image.

Joseph Conrad, 2021-04-16 Under Western Eyes 1911 is a novel by Joseph Conrad. The novel takes place in St Petersburg Russia and Geneva Switzerland and is viewed as Conrad's response to the themes explored in Crime and Punishment. Conrad was reputed to have detested Dostoevsky. It is also some say Conrad's response to his own early life: his father was a famous revolutionary imprisoned by the Russians but instead of following in his father's footsteps at the age of sixteen, Conrad left his native land only to return briefly decades later. Indeed, while writing Under Western Eyes, Conrad suffered a weeks-long breakdown during which he conversed with the novel's characters in Polish. This novel is considered to be one of Conrad's major works and is close in subject matter to The Secret Agent. It is full of cynicism and conflict about the historical failures of revolutionary movements and ideals. Conrad remarks in this book as well as others on the irrationality of life, the opacity of character, the unfairness with which suffering is inflicted upon the innocent and poor, and the careless disregard for the lives of those with whom we share existence. The book's first audience read it after the failed Russian Revolution of 1905. A second audience read it after the Russian Revolutions of 1917, which changed the reader's perception of the author's insight. Under Western Eyes (1911). By: Joseph Conrad

The book's first audience read it after the failed Russian Revolution of 1905. A second audience read it after the Russian Revolutions of 1917, which changed the reader's perception of the author's insight. Writing to Edward Garnett in 1911, Conrad said in this book, "I am concerned with nothing but ideas to the exclusion of everything else."

PART FIRST

The narrator, an English teacher of languages living in Geneva, is narrating the personal record of Kyrilo Sidorovitch Razumov. Razumov is a student in the University of St Petersburg in the early 1910s. Razumov never knew his parents and has no family ties. He is trusted by his fellow students, many of whom hold revolutionary views, but Razumov takes no clear position on any of the great questions of his time.

because he considers all of Russia his family A better view perhaps would be to say that Razumov has no family to fall back on feels isolated from his contemporaries takes no interest in the great issues of the day and merely seeks a middle class secure position within the Czarist system thus very ironically he sees all Russia as his family Mr de P the brutal Minister of State is assassinated by a team of two but the bombs used also claim the lives of his footman the first assassin and a number of bystanders Razumov enters his rooms to find Victor Haldin a fellow student Haldin tells Razumov that he was the one who murdered Mr de P but that he and his accomplice did not make a proper escape plan He requests Razumov's help because he trusts him even though he realises that they do not quite belong in the same camp Razumov agrees to help if only to get Haldin out of his flat Haldin tasks him with finding Ziemianitch who was supposed to help Haldin escape

Joseph Conrad Polish pronunciation born J zef Teodor Konrad Korzeniowski 3 December 1857 3 August 1924 was a Polish British writer regarded as one of the greatest novelists to write in the English language He joined the British merchant marine in 1878 and was granted British nationality in 1886 Though he did not speak English fluently until his twenties he was a master prose stylist who brought a non English sensibility into English literature He wrote stories and novels many with a nautical setting that depict trials of the human spirit in the midst of an impassive inscrutable universe
