Vanishing Point Not A Memoir:

Vanishing Point Ander Monson, 2010-03-30 An adventurous exploration of the I in American culture by the author of Neck Deep and Other Predicaments Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me Me In contemporary America land of tell all memoirs and endless reality television what kind of person denies the opportunity to present himself in his own voice to lead with I How many layers of a life can be peeled back before the self vanishes In this provocative witty series of meditations Ander Monson faces down the idea of memoir grappling with the lure of selfinterest and self presentation While setting out to describe the experience of serving as head juror at the trial of Michael Antwone Jordan he can t help veering off into an examination of his own transgressions inadvertent and otherwise He scrutinizes his private experience of the public funeral ceremony for Gerald R Ford He considers his addiction to chemically concocted Doritos and disappointment in the plain natural corn chip and finds that the manufactured considered form at least in snacks is ultimately a more rewarding experience than the truth So why is America so crazy about accurately confessional memoirs With Vanishing Point Monson delivers on the promise shown in Neck Deep which introduced his winning voice and ability to redefine the essay and puts most memoirs to shame Time Out Chicago Composition, Creative Writing Studies, and the Digital Humanities Adam Koehler, 2017-01-26 In an era of blurred generic boundaries multimedia storytelling and open source culture creative writing scholars stand poised to consider the role that technology and the creative writer s playful engagement with technology has occupied in the evolution of its theory and practice Composition Creative Writing Studies and the Digital Humanities is the first book to bring these three fields together to open up new opportunities and directions for creative writing studies Placing the rise of Creative Writing Studies alongside the rise of the digital humanities in Composition Rhetoric Adam Koehler shows that the use of new media and its attendant re evaluation of fundamental assumptions in the field stands to guide Creative Writing Studies into a new era Covering current developments in composition and the digital humanities this book re examines established assumptions about process genre authority authorship and pedagogical practice in the creative writing classroom Writing the South through the Self John C. Inscoe, 2011-05-01 Drawing on two decades of teaching a college level course on southern history as viewed through autobiography and memoir John C Inscoe has crafted a series of essays exploring the southern experience as reflected in the life stories of those who lived it Constantly attuned to the pedagogical value of these narratives Inscoe argues that they offer exceptional means of teaching young people because the authors focus so fully on their confrontations as children adolescents and young adults with aspects of southern life that they found to be troublesome perplexing or challenging Maya Angelou Rick Bragg Jimmy Carter Bessie and Sadie Delany Willie Morris Pauli Murray Lillian Smith and Thomas Wolfe are among the more prominent of the many writers both famous and obscure that Inscoe draws on to construct a composite portrait of the South at its most complex and diverse The power of place struggles with racial ethnic and class identities the strength and strains of family educational opportunities both embraced and thwarted all of these are themes that infuse the works in this most intimate and humanistic of historical genres Full of powerful and poignant stories anecdotes and testimonials Writing the South through the Self explores the emotional and psychological dimensions of what it has meant to be southern and offers us new ways of understanding the forces that have shaped southern identity in such multifaceted ways A Companion to American Literature Susan Belasco, Theresa Strouth Gaul, Linck Johnson, Michael Soto, 2020-04-02 A comprehensive chronological overview of American literature in three scholarly and authoritative volumes A Companion to American Literature traces the history and development of American literature from its early origins in Native American oral tradition to 21st century digital literature This comprehensive three volume set brings together contributions from a diverse international team of accomplished young scholars and established figures in the field Contributors explore a broad range of topics in historical cultural political geographic and technological contexts engaging the work of both well known and non canonical writers of every period Volume One is an inclusive and geographically expansive examination of early American literature applying a range of cultural and historical approaches and theoretical models to a dramatically expanded canon of texts Volume Two covers American literature between 1820 and 1914 focusing on the development of print culture and the literary marketplace the emergence of various literary movements and the impact of social and historical events on writers and writings of the period Spanning the 20th and early 21st centuries Volume Three studies traditional areas of American literature as well as the literature from previously marginalized groups and contemporary writers often overlooked by scholars This inclusive and comprehensive study of American literature Examines the influences of race ethnicity gender class and disability on American literature Discusses the role of technology in book production and circulation the rise of literacy and changing reading practices and literary forms Explores a wide range of writings in multiple genres including novels short stories dramas and a variety of poetic forms as well as autobiographies essays lectures diaries journals letters sermons histories and graphic narratives Provides a thematic index that groups chapters by contexts and illustrates their links across different traditional chronological boundaries A Companion to American Literature is a valuable resource for students coming to the subject for the first time or preparing for field examinations instructors in American literature courses and scholars with more specialized interests in specific authors genres movements or periods Anything Will Be Easy After This Bethany Maile, 2020-09 Bethany Maile had a mythological American West in mind when she returned to Idaho after dropping out of college in Boston only to find a farm town turned suburb instead of the Wild West wonderland she remembered Haunted by what she had so completely misremembered Maile resolved to investigate her attachment to the western myth however flawed Deciding to engage in a variety of western events Maile trailed rodeo queens bid on cattle fired 22s at the gun range and searched out wild horses With lively reportage and a sharp wit she recounts her efforts to understand how the western myth is outdated yet persistent while ultimately exploring the need for story and the risks inherent to that need Anything Will Be Easy after This traces Maile's evolution from a girl

suckered by a busted down story to a more knowing woman who discovers a new narrative that enchants without deluding

Blurring the Boundaries B. J. Hollars, 2019-05-08 Contemporary discussions on nonfiction are often riddled with questions about the boundaries between truth and memory honesty and artifice facts and lies Just how much truth is in nonfiction How much is a lie Blurring the Boundaries sets out to answer such questions while simultaneously exploring the limits of the form This collection features twenty genre bending essays from today's most renowned teachers and writers including original work from Michael Martone Marcia Aldrich Dinty W Moore Lia Purpura and Robin Hemley among others These essays experiment with structure style and subject matter and each is accompanied by the writer's personal reflection on the work itself illuminating his or her struggles along the way As these innovative writers stretch the limits of genre they take us with them offering readers a front row seat to an ever evolving form Readers also receive a practical approach to craft thanks to the unique writing exercises provided by the writers themselves Part groundbreaking nonfiction collection part writing reference Blurring the Boundaries serves as the ideal book for literary lovers and practitioners of the craft Metawritings

Jill Talbot, 2012-05-15 Metawriting the writing about writing or writing that calls attention to itself as writing has been around since Don Quixote and Tristram Shandy but Jill Talbot makes that case that now more than ever the act of metawriting is performed on a daily basis by anyone with a Facebook profile a Twitter account or a webpage Metawritings Toward a Theory of Nonfiction is the first collection to combine metawriting in both fiction and nonfiction In this daring volume metawriting refers to writing about writing veracity in writing the I of writing and ultimately the construction of writing With a prologue by Pam Houston the anthology of personal essays short stories and one film script excerpt also includes illuminating and engaging interviews with each contributor Showcasing how writers perform a meta awareness of self via the art of the story the craft of the essay the writings and interviews in this collection serve to create an engaging provocative discussion of the fiction versus nonfiction debate truth in writing and how metawriting works and when it doesn't Metawritings provides a context for the presence of metawriting in contemporary literature within the framework of the digital age's obsessively self conscious modes of communication status updates Tweets YouTube clips and blogs whose anonymity creates opportunities for outright deception capture our meta lives in 140 characters and video uploads while we watch self referential self conscious television The Simpsons The Daily Show with Jon Stewart The Office Speaking to the moment and to the writing that is capturing it Talbot addresses a significant and current conversation in contemporary writing and literature the teaching of writing and the craft of writing It is a sharp entertaining collection of two genres enhanced by a conversation about how we write and how we live in and through our writing Contributors Sarah Blackman Bernard Cooper Cathy Day Lena Dunham Robin Hemley Pam Houston Kristen Iversen David Lazar E J Levy Brenda Miller Ander Monson Brian Oliu Jill Talbot Ryan Van Meter Critical Expressivism Tara Roeder, Roseanne Gatto, 2015-04-15 Critical Expressivism is an ambitious attempt to re appropriate intellectual territory that has more often been charted by its detractors than by its proponents Indeed as Peter Elbow observes in his contribution to this volume As far as I can tell the term expressivist was coined and used only by people who wanted a word for people they disapproved of and wanted to discredit The editors and contributors to this collection invite readers to join them in a new conversation one informed by a belief that the term expressivism continues to have a vitally important function in our field American Autobiography After 9/11 Megan Brown,2017-01-10 In the post 9 11 era a flood of memoirs has wrestled with anxieties both personal and national Bending Genre Margot Singer,Nicole Walker,2013-03-14 Ever since the term creative nonfiction first came into widespread use memoirists and journalists essayists and fiction writers have faced off over where the border between fact and fiction lies This debate over ethics however has sidelined important questions of literary form Bending Genre does not ask where the boundaries between genres should be drawn but what happens when you push the line Written for writers and students of creative writing this collection brings together perspectives from today s leading writers of creative nonfiction including Michael Martone Brenda Miller Ander Monson and David Shields Each writer s innovative essay probes our notions of genre and investigates how creative nonfiction is shaped modeling the forms of writing being discussed Like creative nonfiction itself Bending Genre is an exciting hybrid that breaks new ground How Literature Saved My Life David Shields,2013-02-05 Reading How Literature Saved My Life is like getting to listen in on a really great smart provocative conversation The book is not straightforward it resists any single interpretation and it seems to me to constitute nothing less than a new form Whitney Otto In this wonderfully intelligent stunningly honest painfully funny book acclaimed writer David Shields uses himself as a representative for all readers and writers who seek to find salvation in literature Blending confessional criticism and anthropological autobiography Shields explores the power of literature from Blaise Pascal s Pensées to Maggie Nelson s Bluets Renata Adler s Speedboat to Proust s Remembrance of Things Past to make life survivable maybe even endurable Shields evokes his deeply divided personality his ridiculous ambivalence his character flaws his woes his serious despairs Books are his life raft but when they come to feel un lifelike and archaic he revels in a new kind of art that is based heavily on quotation and consciousness And he shares with us a final irony he wants literature to assuage human loneliness but nothing can assuage human loneliness Literature doesn t lie about this which is what makes it essential A captivating thought provoking utterly original way of thinking about the essential acts of reading and writing Creative Writing in the Digital Age Michael Dean Clark,2015-01-29 Creative Writing in the Digital Age explores the vast array of opportunities that technology provides the Creative Writing teacher ranging from effective online workshop models to methods that blur the boundaries of genre From social media tools such as Twitter and Facebook to more advanced software like Inform 7 the book investigates the benefits and potential challenges these technologies present instructors in the classroom Written with the everyday instructor in mind the book includes practical classroom lessons that can be easily adapted to creative writing courses regardless of the instructor s technical expertise Letter to a Future Lover Ander

Monson,2015-02-03 An exuberant expansive cataloging of the intimate physical relationship between a reader and a book A way to leave a trace of us who we were or wanted to be what we read and could imagine what we did and what we left for you Readers of physical books leave traces marginalia slips of paper fingerprints highlighting inscriptions All books have histories and libraries are not just collections of books and databases but a medium of long distance communication with other writers and readers Letter to a Future Lover collects several dozen brief pieces written in response to library ephemera with library defined broadly ranging from university institutions to friends shelves from a seed library to a KGB prison library and addressed to readers past present and future Through these witty idiosyncratic essays Ander Monson reflects on the human need to catalog preserve and annotate the private and public pleasures of reading the nature of libraries and how the self can be formed through reading and writing The Late American Novel Jeff Martin,C. Max Magee,2011-03-01

Scholars journalists and publishers have turned their brains inside out in the effort to predict what lies ahead but who better to comment on the future of the book than those who are driven to write them The way we absorb information has changed dramatically Edison s phonograph has been reincarnated as the iPod Celluloid went digital But books for the most part have remained the same until now And while music and movies have undergone an almost Darwinian evolution the literary world now faces a revolution a sudden change in the way we buy produce and read books In The Late American Novel Jeff Martin and C Max Magee gather some of today s finest writers to consider the sea change that is upon them Lauren Groff imagines an array of fantastical futures for writers from poets with groupies to novelists as vending machines Rivka Galchen writes about the figurative and literal death of paper Joe Meno expounds upon the idea of a book as a place set permanently aside for the imagination regardless of format These and other original essays by Reif Larsen Benjamin Kunkel Victoria Patterson and many more provide a timely and much needed commentary on this compelling cultural crossroad Geological
