They Fight Like Devils:

War Is All Hell Edward J. Blum, John H. Matsui, 2021-05-28 During his first inaugural address Abraham Lincoln expressed hope that the better angels of our nature would prevail as war loomed He was wrong The better angels did not but for many Americans the evil ones did War Is All Hell peers into the world of devils demons Satan and hell during the era of the American Civil War It charts how African Americans and abolitionists compared slavery to hell how Unionists rendered Confederate secession illegal by linking it to Satan and how many Civil War soldiers came to understand themselves as living in hellish circumstances War Is All Hell also examines how many Americans used evil to advance their own agendas Sometimes literally oftentimes figuratively the agents of hell and hell itself became central means for many Americans to understand themselves and those around them to legitimate their viewpoints and actions and to challenge those of others Many who opposed emancipation did so by casting Abraham Lincoln as the devil incarnate Those who wished to pursue harsher war measures encouraged their soldiers to fight like devils And finally after the war when white men desired to stop genuine justice they terrorized African Americans by dressing up as demons A combination of religious political cultural and military history War Is All Hell illuminates why after the war one of its leading generals described it as all hell Sam Slick's Wise Saws and Modern Instances ... Second Edition Thomas Chandler Haliburton, 1854 Diary of a Red Devil Albert Blockwell, 2008-10-19 Many books have been written about the Second World War and the majority of them either concentrate on a particular battle campaign or unit Individual accounts are certainly in a minority and those from the lower ranks even more scarcer Helion and Co Ltd are therefore pleased to announce the publication of Diary of A Red Devil It relates the war time experiences of a young man Albert Blockwell from the northeast of England who in February 1940 was called up for service with the Army Initially conscripted into the Royal Army Ordnance Corps and trained as a vehicle mechanic he was then posted in March 1940 to a prewar Territorial unit The 7th Kings Own Scottish Borderers then a home defense unit based near London His diary is a most interesting account of a young vehicle mechanic who also had to learn to be an infantry soldier Albert remained with this unit for all his wartime service later going to the Shetland Islands when the 7th KOSB were part of OSDEF Orkney and Shetlands Defence Force Then in late 1943 much to their surprise the unit was posted to Lincolnshire to become the third infantry unit in the 1st Airlanding Brigade then in the process of returning from Italy with the rest of the 1st Airborne Division Swapping their glengarries for red berets Albert and his comrades had to adapt to their new way of getting to war by glider The diary continues with a down to earth account of the highs and lows of the next few months Then in September 1944 Albert flew to Holland on Operation Market Garden and his account written in PoW camp describes the savage nine days fighting at Arnhem from the slit trench level Taken prisoner on the last day his account then describes the spartan life in PoW camp without pulling any punches Sadly Albert died in 2001 but his diary survived and his daughter Maggie Clifton together with help from two published Arnhem authors have edited a unique account of the fighting at Arnhem from the front line soldier's perspective Key sales points Unique personal account of the formation of Britain's airborne forces and their epic actions during Operation Market Garden The diary is supplemented by extensive annotations from acknowledged Arnhem expert Niall Cherry providing additional information relating to the units and individuals mentioned in Albert's diary Features a large number of rare photographs and documents (The Romances of A. McPherson,1997-04-03 Why did the soldiers of the Civil War Confederate and Union risk their lives through countless bloody battles and four long awful years It is to this question why did they fight that James McPherson America's preeminent Civil War historian turns his attention Drawing on more than 25 000 uncensored letters and nearly 250 private diaries from men on both sides McPherson shows that contrary to what many scholars believe the soldiers of the Civil War remained powerfully convinced of the ideals for which they fought throughout the conflict For Cause and Comrades lets these soldiers tell their own stories in their own words in a deeply moving exploration of why they fought this war Spira Mirabilis Aidan Harte,2014-03-27 Darkness is falling and only Contessa Sofia can turn the tide in this thrilling final installment of the Wave trilogy In the 1347th year of Our Lady the engineers of Concord defeated the fractious city state of Rasenna using the magical science of Wave Technology The City of Towers fought back and for a while Concord's plans for domination were halted But First Apprentice Torbidda regrouped and reformed Concord to his own design Now he is in absolute control and plotting the final battle that will pacify Etruria permanently Contessa Sofia Scaligeri could rally her people once again but she is far away in the Crusader Kingdom of Akka trapped with her son by the tyrant Queen Catrina Darkness is falling The final battle must be fought and the tide must be turned lest evil reign forever The Civil War Letters of Sergeant Onley Andrus Onley Andrus,2023-02-22 Sergeant Andrus served in Co D 95th Illinois Infantry Here are reprinted 61 letters written home during the war beginning in September 1862 and continues through the end of the War The regiment fought in the Vicksburg Campaign the Red River Campaign the pursuit of Sterling Price Nashville New Orleans and Mobile Seven Months a Prisoner: A Yankee Lieutenant in Rebelldom (Expanded, Annotated) Lieutenant J.V.
