The Routledge Handbook of Tourism in Asia C. Michael Hall, Stephen J. Page, 2016-09-13 Asia is regarded as the fastest growing area for international and domestic tourism in the world today and over the next 20 years Given the economic social and environmental importance of tourism in the region there is a need for a comprehensive and readable overview of the critical debates and controversies in tourism in the region and the major factors that are affecting tourism development both now and in the foreseeable future This Handbook provides a contemporary survey of the region and its continued growth and development as a key destination and generator of tourism which is marked by a high proportion of intra regional travel The book is divided into five sections This first section provides an introduction to the region and context to the nationally focused chapters The next three sections are then broadly based on the three UNWTO Asian regions South East Asia South and Central Asia and East and North East Asia providing readers with a valuable snapshot of tourism at various scales and from various approaches and positions The concluding section considers future prospects for tourism in Asia The handbook is interdisciplinary in coverage and is also international in scope through its authorship and content It presents a range of perspectives and understanding of the processes and forces that are shaping tourism in this fascinating and dynamic region that is one of the focal points of global tourism This is essential reading for students researchers and academics interested in tourism in the growth region of Asia now and in the future

New Research Paradigms in Tourism Geography Alan A. Lew, 2017-10-02 This collection of papers from Tourism Geographies emphasizes new and emerging research paradigms in the geographic study of tourism The papers included in this collection follow one of two threads explicitly supporting specific research frameworks or implicitly presenting new and emerging theoretical perspectives through empirical research on the geographical topics These begin with three overview papers from themes that emerged from recent annual meetings of the Association of American Geographers including evolutionary economic geography EEG political ecology and community resilience Each of these theoretical and conceptual frameworks is leading to new explorations and insights in a wide variety of geographical and social science research including tourism studies These are followed by a series of papers that extend our knowledge and thinking on a range of key geographical topics including development and underdevelopment by Saarinen Rogerson sustainable tourism planning by Torres Delgado Saarinen encounters with the natural environment by Hill and the geography of place names by Light as well as economic geography and new technologies and their applications to spatial behavior research The papers in this special issue are especially relevant to tourism scholars and very much represent the types of perspectives that Tourism Geographies seek to promote This book was published as a special issue of Tourism Geographies

Interlinking SDGs and the Bottom-of-the-Pyramid Through Tourism Valeri, Marco, Shekhar, 2024-07-26 In a world grappling with many challenges the global tourism and hospitality industries find themselves at a crossroads Existing strategies fall short of stakeholder expectations while the immense potential of the industry to address Sustainable Development Goals SDGs remains underutilized Negligible attention from academia towards creating value for the Bottom of the Pyramid BoP compounds the issue hindering the development of strategies essential for SDG achievement This book Interlinking SDGs and the Bottom of the Pyramid Through Tourism presents a compelling exploration of how the tourism industry with its vast potential can become a key driver for socio economic and environmental gains specifically targeting the BoP market and SDGs The book emphasizes the scarcity of research on inclusive tourism products for BoP stakeholders and proposes innovative strategies to bridge this gap It advocates for personalized products inclusive supply chains and collaborative processes underlining the potential of these approaches to not only serve BoP needs but also act as a catalyst for achieving SDGs Through a series of recommended topics the book invites researchers academicians tourism analysts and industry practitioners to collaborate on developing practical business models that integrate SDGs and BoP needs Interlinking SDGs and the Bottom of the Pyramid Through Tourism stands as a call to action for academia and industry stakeholders to unite in creating a sustainable and equitable future through tourism Tourism and Poverty Reduction Anna Spenceley, Dorothea Meyer, 2017-10-02 Over the past decade there have been an increasing number of publications that have analysed and critiqued the potential of tourism to be a mechanism for poverty reduction in less economically developed countries LEDCs This book showcases work by established and emerging researchers that provides new thinking and tests previously made assumptions providing an essential guide for students practitioners and academics This book advances our understanding of the changes and ways forward in the field of sustainable tourism development Five main themes are illustrated throughout the book 1 measuring impacts of tourism on poverty 2 the need to evaluate whether interventions that aim to reduce poverty are effective 3 how unbalanced power relations and weak governance can undermine efforts 4 the importance of the private sector s use of pro poor business practices and 5 the value of using multidisciplinary and multi method research approaches Furthermore the book shows that academic research findings can be used practically in destinations and how practitioners can benefit from sharing their experiences with academic scholars This book was based on a special issue and various articles from the Journal of Sustainable Tourism Tourism, Poverty and Development Andrew Holden, 2013-07-18 Poverty alleviation is high on the global policy agenda its importance being emphasised by its place as the first of the United Nations Millennium Development Goals As a potentially significant source of economic growth in developing countries tourism may also play a major role in poverty reduction and alleviation under the right circumstances The incorporation of tourism into development policy and Poverty Reduction Strategies has special poignancy for those Least Developed Countries where natural resources exist to support a tourism industry and there are limited development alternatives This book offers a holistic explicit and detailed introduction to the relationship of poverty and tourism within the context of developing countries The book is divided into distinct sections progressing from an evaluation of the key concepts of poverty tourism and development to the causal factors of poverty to the mechanisms of how tourism is being implemented in policy and practice to reduce poverty and finally to an analysis of the relationship between tourism to poverty alleviation in the future The adopted analytical approach of the key themes is multi disciplinary incorporating tourism studies human geography political economy economics development and environmental studies It integrates examples and original case studies from varying geographical developing regions including Africa South Asian and East Asia and the Pacific to lend practical insights into tourism s role in poverty alleviation The text will be of particular interest to higher education students from tourism studies geography political economy environmental and development studies and sociology backgrounds It will also be of relevance to government and policy makers alongside those who have a more general interest in poverty alleviation Geographica Helvetica ,2010 Tourism and Poverty Alleviation World Tourism

Organization, 2002 Tourism is a key export for many developing countries and this industry can play a significant role in promoting balanced sustainable development which generates benefits for poorer communities This report reflects this concern by examining the contribution which tourism development can make to the elimination of poverty in developing countries as well as making recommendations for action by governments the industry development agencies and local communities

Poverty Alleviation through Tourism Development Robertico Croes, Manuel Rivera, 2015-12-23 The book offers a comprehensive and integrated approach to the topic of tourism development and its contribution to the fight against poverty Tourism development is credited to be a powerful source of regional development and improvement in developing countries and the focus of the book is on the world's poorest areas and how tourism connects to
