Towards A New Architecture Dover Architecture:

Towards a New Architecture Le Corbusier, 2013-04-09 Pioneering manifesto by founder of International School Technical and aesthetic theories views of industry economics relation of form to function mass production split and much more Profusely illustrated

Toward an Architecture Le Corbusier, 2007 Published in 1923 Toward an Architecture had an immediate impact on architects throughout Europe and remains a foundational text for students and professionals Le Corbusier urges readers to cease thinking of architecture as a matter of historical styles and instead open their eyes to the modern world Simultaneously a historian critic and prophet he provocatively juxtaposes views of classical Greece and Renaissance Rome with images of airplanes cars and ocean liners Le Corbusier's slogans such as the house is a machine for living in and philosophy changed how his contemporaries saw the relationship between architecture technology and history This edition includes a new translation of the original text a scholarly introduction and background notes that illuminate the text and illustrations

Unexpected Affinities Pablo Meninato, 2018-05-23 While the concept of type has been present in architectural discourse since its formal introduction at the end of the eighteenth century its role in the development of architectural projects has not been comprehensively analyzed This book proposes a reassessment of architectural type throughout history and its impact on the development of architectural theory and practice Beginning with Laugier's 1753 Essay on Architecture Unexpected Affinities The History of Type in the Architectural Project from Laugier to Duchamp traces type through nineteenth and twentieth century architectural movements and theories culminating in a discussion of the affinities between architectural type and Duchamp's concept of the readymade Includes over sixty black and white images

The Invention of Taste Luca Vercelloni, 2020-06-03 The Invention of Taste provides a detailed overview of the development of taste from ancient times to the present At the heart of the book is an intriguing question why did the sensory attribute of human taste become a social metaphor and aesthetic value for judging cultural qualities of art fashion cuisine and other social constructions Unique amongst the senses taste is at once a biologically derived sense private personal and individual yet also a sensibility which can be acquired shared and communicated Exploring the many factors that defined the evolution of taste from medieval morals and medicine to social and cultural philosophy the rise of aesthetics birth of fashion branding trends and luxury worship in the age of mass consumption Luca Vercelloni's ambitious text provides readers with an outstanding introduction to the subject making it the cultural history of taste Now available for the first time in English Taste features a new final chapter and a preface by series editor David Howes Rich in detail and examples this interdisciplinary work is an important read for students and researchers in sensory studies philosophy sociology and cultural studies as well as gastronomy fashion design and branding Twenty-Five+ Buildings Every Architect Should Understand Simon Unwin, 2023-11-03 The underlying theme of Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is the relationship of architecture to the human being how it frames our lives and orchestrates our experience how it can help us make sense of the world and contribute to our sense of identity and place Exploring these dimensions through a wide range of case studies that illustrate the rich diversity of twentieth and twenty first century architecture this book is essential reading for every architect With the addition of numerous shorter analyses this new edition covers an even greater range of architectural ideas providing students and architects with further inspiration for exploration in their own design work Architects live by ideas But where do they come from And how do they shape buildings There is no one right way to do architecture This book illustrates many Its aim is to explore the rich diversity of architectural creativity by analysing a wide range of examples to extract the ideas behind them Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is a companion to Simon Unwin's Analysing Architecture the Universal Language of Place Making most recent edition 2021 and part of the trilogy which also includes his Exercises in Architecture Learning to Think as an Architect second edition 2022 Together the three books offer an introduction to the workings of architecture providing for the three aspects of learning theory examples and practice Twenty Five Buildings focusses on analysing examples using the methodology offered by Analysing Architecture which operates primarily through the medium of drawing An underlying theme of Twenty Five Buildings Every Architect Should Understand is the relationship of architecture to the human being how it frames our lives and orchestrates our experiences how it can help us give form to the world and contributes to our senses of identity and place Exploring these dimensions through case studies that illustrate the rich diversity of twentieth and twenty first century architecture this book is essential reading and hopefully an inspiration for every architect In this new edition supplementary analysis and discussion has been added to each of the twenty five case studies drawing attention to their influences from and on other architects A number of extra shorter analyses have been included too following the practice of presenting extra small dishes interspersed among main courses in high end restaurants These additional short analyses account for the sign after Twenty Five in the title of this edition and double the number of buildings analysed to around fifty Australia and China Perspectives on Urban Regeneration and Rural Revitalization Raffaele Pernice, Bing Chen, 2024-04-30 This edited volume reviews important contemporary issues through relevant case studies and research in China and Australia such as the challenges posed by climate change the development of eco urban design research on sustainable habitats and the relationship between ecology green architecture and city regeneration as well as in general the future of the city in the new millennium The authors represent a broad selection of international experts young scholars and established academics who discuss themes related to urban rural destruction and economic and spatial regeneration techniques the sustainable reconversion of natural landscapes and eco urban design in the context of the current evolution of architectural and urbanism practice The book aims to explain the conditions in which the contemporary debate about urban regeneration and rural revitalisation has developed in Australia and China presented by different theoretical and methodological perspectives It also provides a multifaceted and critical analysis of relevant case studies and urban experiences in Australia and China focusing on environmental disruption resized urban interventions and the need for more efficient and sustainable forms of regeneration and urban renewal practice in urban rural contexts This book will be an invaluable resource for architects planners architectural and urban historians geographers and scholars interested in modern Australian and Chinese architecture and urbanism Dichotomy ,1997 The Architecture of Harvey Wiley Corbett Paul D.
