SUBJECTIVE WELLBEING AND PLACE. PHILIP S. MORRISON, 2019 Space, Place and Autonomy in Language Learning Garold Murray, Terry Lamb, 2017-11-03 This book explores theories of space and place in relation to autonomy in language learning Encompassing a wide range of linguistically and culturally diverse learning contexts this edited collection brings together research papers from academics working in fourteen countries In their studies these researchers examine physical virtual and metaphorical learning spaces from a wide range of theoretical and interdisciplinary perspectives semiotic ecological complexity human geography linguistic landscapes mediated discourse analysis sociocultural constructivist and social constructivist and methodological approaches The book traces its origins to the first ever symposium on space place and autonomy which was held at the International Association of Applied Linguistics AILA 2014 World Congress in Brisbane The final chapter which presents a thematic analysis of the papers in this volume discusses the implications for theory development further enquiry and pedagogical practice Health and Inequality Sarah Curtis,2004 By relating theoretical arguments to specific landscapes Sarah Curtis develops the basis for a geographical analysis of health problems and proposes a range of strategies for reducing disadvantage and societal inequalities Life Takes Place David Seamon,2018-04-19 Life Takes Place argues that even in our mobile hypermodern world human life is impossible without place Seamon asks the question why does life take place He draws on examples of specific places and place experiences to understand place more broadly Advocating for a holistic way of understanding that he calls synergistic relationality Seamon defines places as spatial fields that gather activate sustain identify and interconnect things human beings experiences meanings and events Throughout his phenomenological explication Seamon recognizes that places are multivalent in their constitution and sophisticated in their dynamics Drawing on British philosopher J G Bennett s method of progressive approximation he considers place and place experience in terms of their holistic dialectical and processual dimensions Recognizing that places always change over time Seamon examines their processual dimension by identifying six generative processes that he labels interaction identity release realization intensification and creation Drawing on practical examples from architecture planning and urban design he argues that an understanding of these six place processes might contribute to a more rigorous place making that produces robust places and propels vibrant environmental experiences This book is a significant contribution to the growing research literature in place and place making studies The SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies Susan Smith,2010 With clarity and confidence this vibrant volume summons up the social in geography in ways that will excite students and scholars alike Here the social is populated not only by society but by culture nature economy and politics Kay Anderson University of Western Sydney This is a remarkable collection full of intellectual gems It not only summarises the field of social geography and restates its importance but also produces a manifesto for how the field should look in the future Nigel Thrift Vice Chancellor University of Warwick The book aims to be accessible to students and specialists alike Its success lies in emphasizing the crossovers between geography and social studies The good editorial work is evident and the participating contributors are well established scholars in their respective fields Miron M Denan Geography Research Forum An excellent handbook that will attract a diversity of readers It will inspire undergraduate postgraduate students and stimulate lecturers researchers interested in the complexity and diversity of the social realm As the first of its kind in the sub discipline it is a book that is enjoyable to read and will definitely add value to a personal or library collection Michele Lobo New Zealand Geographer The social relations of difference from race and class to gender and inequality are at the heart of the concept of social geography This handbook reconsiders and redirects research in the discipline while examining the changing ideas of individuals and their relationship with structures of power Organised into five sections the SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies maps out the connections anchored in social geography Difference and Diversity builds on enduring ideas of the structuring of social relations and examines the ruptures and rifts and continuities and connections around social divisions Geographies and Social Economies rethinks the sociality subjectivity and placement of money markets price and value Geographies of Wellbeing builds from a foundation of work on the spaces of fear anxiety and disease towards newer concerns with geographies of health resilience and contentment Geographies of Social Justice connects ideas through an examination of the possibilities and practicalities of normative theory and frames the central notion of Social geography that things always could and should be different Doing Social Geography is not exploring the how to of research but rather the entanglement of it with practicalities moralities and politics This will be an essential resource for academics researchers practitioners and postgraduates across human geography

A Companion to Health and Medical Geography Tim Brown, Sara McLafferty, Graham Moon, 2009-11-19 This Companion provides a comprehensive account of health and medical geography and approaches the major themes and key topics from a variety of angles Offers a unique breadth of topics relating to both health and medical geography Includes contributions from a range of scholars from rising stars to established internationally renowned authors Provides an up to date review of the state of the sub discipline Thematically organized sections offer detailed accounts of specific issues and combine general overviews of the current literature with case study material Chapters cover topics at the cutting edge of the sub discipline including emerging and re emerging diseases the politics of disease mental and emotional health landscapes of despair and the geography of care

Critical Perspectives into Flow Research Janet Banfield, 2024-10-31 This book breaks down barriers between disciplines engaging with flow by speaking from geography into psychology to establish geographical foundations for this psychological phenomenon It frames and works with the multiple contradictions within the extant literature as productive rather than prohibitive thereby encouraging collaboration across discrepancies as well as across disciplines It incorporates new materials and perspectives to research on flow including aesthetic theory new materialism more than human geographies and critical development geographies to broaden the theoretical and empirical landscape of future flow scholarship It also digs more deeply into pre existing areas of interest within flow research than has been done before for example with respect to dark flow flowability and tele presence to facilitate more nuanced engagement with such terms It takes a step back from the detailed empirical work that characterizes most current flow research to pose questions as to how such divergent even contradictory findings can emerge from scholarship on a supposedly universal experience that is purportedly robustly constructed and whether this contrariness is necessarily problematic or emblematic of flow itself and therefore worthy of conceptual elaboration Finally it evokes global scale and long term critical perspectives on the future evolution of flow to counteract the presentism within existing work that emphasizes immediate gains e g performance wellbeing profit in an attempt to pre-empt the worst ramifications of the progressive commodification and strategization of flow. This innovative book is of interest to scholars from a range of fields from psychology to business and human resource management, leisure studies and critical human geography.

Responsible Cultural Consumption and Production Ilaria Pappalepore, Elisa Salvador, 2025-09-12 Exploring the Sustainability Development Goal for Responsible Consumption and Production, this volume provides insights from the performing arts, festivals and events, film industry and fashion sectors. With a variety of examples and case studies, contributors illuminate the political and social importance of the creative and cultural industries in driving sustainable transitions. The influence of policy, funding and international standards are also considered alongside other key themes such as social entrepreneurship, the post-growth economy and the importance of overcoming barriers to equity, equality and social justice. Alongside a sister publication, Responsible Consumption and Production in the Creative and Cultural Industries, this edited book explores how creative and cultural organisations embrace the challenge of sustainable development, highlighting best practice across geographic and cultural contexts. The result is a comprehensive overview that is valuable reading for research, policy and practice.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION Dr. B. Yaswantha Reddy & Dr. Aditya Kumar Das, 2022-02-09 We have learned with regards to the presentation of the human body in the past grades. In this grade, we will concentrate on the accompanying parts of the human body: CIRCULATORY SYSTEM. The circulatory framework alludes to the course of joint and smooth working of the heart, blood and veins in the human body. The circulatory framework takes the supplements, oxygen, chemicals and compounds acquired from various sources to the cells of the body. The blood gets back to the heart to be decontaminated. The organs, for example, heart, veins that are engaged with the circulatory framework and the blood are depicted underneath.

THE HEART The heart lies minimal, leaning on the left of the chest. Its weight in a grown-up female is 230 to 280 gram and in a grown-up male is 280 to 340 grams. The part that isolates the right and left piece of the heart is called septum. The upper offices of the heart are called chamber and the lower chambers are called ventricle. The second-rate venacava, what's more prevalent venacava, open from the right chamber. Likewise, the pulmonary veins open from the left chamber. The pulmonary course starts from the right ventricle; furthermore, the aorta starts from the left ventricle. Between the right chamber and right ventricle, there lies the tricuspid valve. Likewise, between the left chamber and left ventricle, there lies the bicuspid valve. The elements of the heart are as per the following.
