Wellingtons Specialist Troops Men At Arms:

Wellington's Specialist Troops Philip Haythornthwaite, 2012-06-20 The specialist troops of Wellington's army played a crucial role in the success of the British Army. Though often understaffed and ineptly managed, the artillery engineers, transport and commissariat and medical services contributed to Wellington's ultimate victory in 1815. The Royal Artillery and Corps of Royal Engineers comprised a small number of highly trained officers while the commissariat was composed of untrained civilians outside military discipline and the medical services suffered from a shortage of trained surgeons. This richly illustrated book examines the organization, uniforms and equipment of each of these specialist departments. Osprey Men-At-Arms Martin Windrow, 2012-01-20 Osprey Men at Arms A Celebration is a very special volume detailing some of the wonderful artwork that has graced Osprey's renowned Men at Arms series over the last forty years. Beautifully presented in luxurious cloth, embossed and foil blocked with head and tails bands and a ribbon bookmark, the collection contains the most treasured illustrations from the vast archives of this respected series and is a classic collectable item for all military history enthusiasts. Infantry, 1989 The King's German Legion (1) Mike Chappell, 2000 The formation of the King's German Legion resulted from the occupation of Hanover, their homeland, by the French in 1803. After assorted expeditions including Copenhagen in 1807 and Moore's retreat to Corunna, the Legion joined Sir Arthur Wellesley in the Peninsula. It was here that they were to earn undying renown as the crack corps of Wellington's army. The Legion represented about 20% of Wellington's fighting strength and distinguished itself in all the major actions, including their famous charge at Garcia Hernandez during the Salamanca campaign 1812, which was fought during the Peninsular War 1808-1814. The King's German Legion (2) Mike Chappell, 2000 This title is the completion of a two-part study of the King's German Legion, the largest and most respected of the foreign corps which fought as integrated elements of the British Army during the Napoleonic Wars 1799-1815. The light and heavy cavalry, light and line infantry and horse and foot artillery of the KGL made major contributions to Wellington's victories in the latter part of the Peninsular War 1808-1814 and several units covered themselves with glory at Waterloo. Drawing upon new research in British and Hanoverian archival sources, Mike Chappell's detailed text and meticulous illustrations offer unprecedented details of this impressive fighting organisation. Napoleon's Specialist Troops Philip Haythornthwaite, 2012-06-20 Though less celebrated than the infantry and cavalry, Napoleon's specialist troops, artillery engineers and supporting services, were indispensable elements. Without them, no army could have operated and they frequently assumed greater significance than the line regiments. Indeed, having suffered least from the emigration of Royalist officers, the artillery was the best element of the early Republican armies, the nucleus of the old Royal Artillery serving with distinction in the early campaigns such as Valmy. The organisation and uniform of Napoleon's specialist troops are here examined by Philip Haythornthwaite in an engaging volume complemented by a wealth of illustrations, including eight full-page colour plates by Bryan Fosten.
