English regionalism Christopher Meredith Diana Wallace,2018-05-10 The first book length study of the work of Christopher Meredith a leading bilingual Welsh writer Unique in offering close analyses which read across Meredith s poetry and prose Draws on new material from interviews with Meredith to provide new biographical contexts Unusual as a study of a writer who is equally a poet and a novelist Argues that Meredith s writing forms a history of the Anglicised Welsh of south east Wales which has wider international implications in relation to the experience of living in a bilingual small country or prose or what kind of literary influences are discernable in them Finally many chronicles have been beautifully illuminated and the relation between text and image leads to a wholly different set of questions The yearbook The Medieval Chronicle aims to provide a representative survey of the on going research in the field of chronicle studies illustrated by examples from specific chronicles from a wide variety of countries periods and cultural backgrounds The Medieval Chronicle is published in cooperation with the Medieval Chronicle Society

Ethnicity and Cultural Authority Daniel G. Williams, 2005-12-08 Longlisted for the Wales Book of the Year 2007 Writing in 1903 W E B Du Bois suggested that the goal for the African American was to be a co worker in the kingdom of culture He was evoking culture as a solution to the divisions within society thereby adopting in a very different context an idea that had been influentially expressed by Matthew Arnold in the 1860s Du Bois questioned the assumed universality of this concept by asking who ultimately is allowed into the kingdom of culture How does one come to speak from a position of cultural authority This book adopts a transatlantic approach to explore these questions It centres on four Victorian men of letters Matthew Arnold William Dean Howells W B Yeats and W E B Du Bois who drew on notions of ethnicity as a basis from which to assert their cultural authority In comparative close readings of these figures Daniel Williams addresses several key areas of contemporary literary and cultural debate The book questions the notion of the West as it appears and re appears in the formulations of postcolonial theory challenges the widespread tendency to divide nationalism into civic and ethnic forms and forces its readers to reconsider what they mean when they talk about culture identity and national literature

Key Features Offers a substantial innovative intervention in transatlantic debates over race and ethnicity Uses 4 intriguing authors to explore issues of national identity racial purity and the use of literature as a marker of cultural capital A unique focus on Celtic identity in a transatlantic context Sets up a dialogue between writers who believe in national identity and those who believe in cultural distinctiveness

Writing Wales, from the Renaissance to Romanticism Stewart Mottram, 2016-02-11 Writing Wales explores representations of Wales in English and Welsh literatures written across a broad sweep of history from the union of Wales with England in 1536 to the beginnings of its industrialization at the turn of the nineteenth century The collection offers a timely contribution to the current devolutionary energies that are transforming the study of British literatures today and it builds on recent work on Wales in Renaissance eighteenth century and Romantic literary studies What is unique about Writing Wales is that it cuts across these period divisions to enable readers for the first time to chart the development of literary treatments of Wales across three of the most tumultuous centuries in the history of British state formation Writing Wales explores how these period divisions have helped shape scholarly treatments of Wales and it asks if we should continue to reinforce such period divisions or else reconfigure our approach to Wales literary past The essays collected here reflect the full 300 year time span of the volume and explore writers canonical and non canonical alike George Peele Michael Drayton Henry Vaughan Katherine Philips and John Dyer here feature alongside other lesser known authors The collection showcases the wide variety of literary representations of Wales and it explores relationships between the perception of Wales in literature and the realities of its role on the British political stage

Edward Thomas and World Literary Studies Andrew Webb, 2013-07-15 This book uses models of world literature to present this quintessentially English writer as a pioneering figure in an Anglophone Welsh literary tradition a controversial reading that contributes to the present day reconfiguration of cultural relations between Wales England Scotland

Authority and Subjugation in Writing of Medieval Wales R. Kennedy, 2008-09-15 The conquest of Wales by the medieval English throne produced a fiercely contested territory both militarily and culturally Wales was left fissured by frontiers of language jurisdiction and loyalty a reluctant meeting place of literary traditions and political cultures But the profound consequences of this first colonial adventure on the development of medieval English culture have been disregarded In setting English figurations of Wales against the contrasted representations of the Welsh language tradition this volume seeks to reverse this neglect insisting on the crucial importance of the English experience in Wales for any understanding of the literary cultures of medieval England and medieval Britain

Belonging and Estrangement in the Poetry of Philip Larkin, R.S. Thomas and Charles Causley Dr Rory Waterman, 2014-02-28 Focusing on the significance of place connection and relationship in three poets who are seldom considered in conjunction Rory Waterman argues that Philip Larkin R S Thomas and Charles Causley epitomize many of the emotional and societal shifts and mores of their age Waterman looks at the foundations underpinning their poetry the attempts of all three to forge a sense of belonging with or separateness from their readers the poets varying responses to their geographical and cultural origins the belonging and estrangement that inheres in relationships including marriage the forced estrangements of war the antagonism between social belonging and a need for isolation and finally the charged issues of faith and mortality in an increasingly secularized country
