The Writers Image Literary Portraits:

The Writer's Image Jill Krementz, 1980 Marti Friedlander: Portraits of the Artists Leonard Bell, 2020-08-27 For fifty years Marti Friedlander 1928 2016 was one of New Zealand's most important photographers her work singled out for praise and recognition here and around the world Friedlander's powerful pictures chronicled the country's social and cultural life from the 1960s into the twenty first century From painters to potters film makers to novelists and actors to musicians Marti Friedlander was always deeply engaged with New Zealand's creative talent This book published to coincide with an exhibition at the National Portrait Gallery in Wellington brings together those extraordinary people and photographs Rita Angus and Ralph Hotere C K Stead and Maurice Gee Neil Finn and Kapka Kassabova Ans Westra and Kiri Te Kanawa and many many more Marti Friedlander Portraits of the Artists chronicles the changing face of the arts in New Zealand while also addressing a central theme in Marti Friedlander's photography Featuring more than 250 photographs many never previously published the book is an illuminating chronicle of the cultural life of Aotearoa New Zealand Closer to Home Terence Byrnes, 2008 Closer to Home The Author and the Author Portrait fixes its searching and intimate gaze on writers as they have seldom been seen before These striking images were captured at a location where the writer lives works or plays Each is accompanied by a crisp and insightful vignette about the experience of photographing the writer thoughts about the uses of artists portraits and often a touch of refined literary gossip Terence Byrnes whose own collection of short stories Wintering Over garnered critical praise removed himself from the limelight to behind the camera to photograph other writers For a period of ten years he visited writers in their homes and while discussing the writing life with them photographed them at their ease The literary portrait Byrnes says had become moribund showing writers as stalwart or fetching in various degrees and barricaded by books like a university don from a British novel of manners These portraits show the photographer as an interloper to whom the writer must react as an individual not as a role The history of the literary portrait and its place in the creation of commercial success and literary canons will be examined in an introductory critical essay The Seductive Frontispiece The Short Story and Photography, 1880's-1980's Jane Marjorie Rabb, 1998 For over a hundred years stories about photographs and photography have reflected the profound uncertainties and inconclusive endings of the modern world For many writers photography supposedly the most realistic of the arts turns out to be the most ambiguous As Jane Rabb observes in her introduction a number of the stories in this collection involve mysteries perhaps because photography has a capacity for both documentary reality and moral and psychological ambiguity Many nineteenth century writers represented here including Thomas Hardy and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle helped make short fiction as respectable as the novel Some of them were even serious photographers themselves The twentieth century is arguably a golden age for both the short story and photography This collection includes examples from a worldly group of writer Eug ne Ionesco Julio Cort zar Michel Tournier and Italo Calvino as well as the Chinese writer Bing Xin and John Updike Cynthia Ozick and Raymond Carver In this wide range of stories varying from sentimental to obsessive to sinister to tragic and even fatal the reader will find provocative examples of the confluence of the short story and photography both once considered the bastard stepchildren of literature and art

The Writer in Petrograd and the House of Arts Martha Weitzel Hickey, 2009-06-16 Founded by Maksim Gorky and Kornei Chukovsky in 1919 and disbanded in 1922 the Petrograd House of Arts occupied a crucial moment in Russia's cultural history By chronicling the rise and fall of this literary landmark this book conveys in greater depth and detail than ever before a significant but little studied period in Soviet literature Poised between Russian culture's past and her Soviet future between pre and post Revolutionary generations this once lavish private home on the Nevsky Prospekt housed as many as fifty six poets novelists critics and artists at one time during a period of great social and political turbulence And as such Hickey contends the House of Arts served as a crucible for a literature in transition Hickey shows how the House of Arts though virtually ignored by Soviet era cultural historians played a critical role in shaping the lively literature of the next decade a literature often straddling the border between fiction and non fiction Considering prose writers such as Yevgeny Zamyatin Olga Forsh the Serapion Brothers group Viktor Shklovsky Boris Eikhenbaum as well as poets including Alexander Blok Nikolay Gumilev Anna Radlova Osip Mandelstam and Vladislav Khodasevich she traces the comings and goings at the House of Arts the meetings and readings and lectures and most of all the powerful influence of these interactions on those who briefly lived and worked there In her work the Petrograd House of Arts appears for the first time in all its complexity and importance as a focal point for the social and cultural ferment of the day and a turning point in the direction of Russian literature and criticism

Visual Words Gerard Curtis, 2019-07-16 First Published in 2002 Visual Words provides a unique and interdisciplinary evaluation of the relationship between images and words in this period Victorian England witnessed a remarkable growth in literacy culminating in the new literary nationalism that emerged at the beginning of the twentieth century Each chapter explores a different aspect of this relationship the role of Dickens as the heroic author the book as an iconic object the growing graphic presence of the text the role of the graphic trace the Sister Arts pen and pencil tradition and the competition between image and word as systems of communication Examining the impact of such diverse areas as advertising graphic illustration narrative painting frontispiece portraits bibliomania and the merchandising of literary culture Visual Words shows that the influence of the Sister Arts tradition was more widespread and complex than has previously been considered Whether discussing portraits of authors the uses of iconography in Ford Madox Brown's painting Work or examining why the British Library was equipped with false bookcases for doors Gerard Curtis looks at artistic and literary culture from an art historical and object perspective to gain a better understanding of why some Victorians called their culture hieroglyphic

Words, Books, Images, and the Long Eighteenth Century Antoinina Bevan Zlatar, Mark Ippensohn, Enit Karafili Steiner, Olga Timofeeva, 2021-12-15 The essays collected in this volume engage in a conversation among lexicography the culture of the book and the canonization and commemoration of English literary figures and their works in the long eighteenth century The source of inspiration for each piece is Allen Reddick's scholarship on Samuel Johnson 1709-1784 the great English lexicographer whose Dictionary 1755 included thousands upon thousands of illustrative quotations from the best authors and more recently on Thomas Hollis 1720-1774 the much less well known bibliophile who sent gifts of books by a pantheon of Whig authors to individuals and libraries in Britain Protestant bastions in continental Europe and America Between the covers of Words Books Images readers will encounter canonical English authors of prose and poetry Bacon Milton Defoe Dryden Pope Richardson Swift Byron Mary Shelley and Edward Lear But they will also become acquainted with the agents of their canonization and commemoration the printers and publishers of Grub Street the biographer John Aubrey the lexicographer and biographer Johnson the bibliophile Hollis and the portrait painter Reynolds No less crucially they will meet fellow readers of then and now women and men who peruse poach snip and savour a book's every word and image Virginia Woolf in Camera, Illustrated Nicola Luckhurst, Martine Ravache, 2001
