Interreligious relationships are often hindered by epistemic disparity caused by the nexus between religions and state powers To solve this problem David Muthukumar Sivasubramanian develops a postfoundationalist epistemological framework to affirm the epistemic parity and plurality of religions while upholding their particularity and universality Building on this postfoundationalist epistemology a comparative Christology paradigm that uses insights from the extant comparative theology method is reformulated with a Christological focus This model seeks to affirm the exclusive faith assertions of Christianity and the corresponding universal claims for Christ It also sustains the particular religious identity of a comparative theologian over against any compulsion to assume hybrid identity in the interreligious cross learning This comparative Christology framework is exhibited through cross learning with the Tamil Saiva Siddhanta tradition This method is shown to affirm not only the particularity and universality of Christianity but also of the Tamil Saiva Siddhanta tradition by defining each religion's attempt at their revealed truth as a parallel quest for truth Thus it facilitates dialogue across religions by securing one's self identity and the other's alterity Spirit and Salvation Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen, 2016-12-09
