daily problems like lack of exercise or a weak immune system Bello and Mize know very well when we are not doing so well Yes they literally suffer with us Animals also possess something of a soul and psyche and in their own way are just as vulnerable as humans Example when we go on vacation we change at a gentle pace and rest For dogs however this means stress because they have to change en masse to a new environment to new neighbors to new habits at the holiday destination and perhaps also to different foods The dog can help people in many ways but it also needs your special affection We now know that dogs can sniff out drugs and even smuggle money through customs with their very fine and distinctive sense of smell They can find people under the rubble or even rescue them from the floods But they can also help us much more for example in purely human problems They can tell a dog your pain You can tell him everything without it being broadcast on the office radio He is a good listener and with gestures and howls will give you comfort How nice it is when Bello puts her head on your lap and says I m with you and I understand you He sympathizes and you can confess the pain of your soul First find such an understanding person But this eBook shows you so much more Yes your dog will become a true therapist you just don t know yet That is why you have done everything right now because here you will discover how your faithful companion can help you and that s a lot Of course each situation is individual Not all problems can be treated the same based on a knitting pattern But here you will learn basic approaches on how to better master many difficult situations in your life together with your dog Acknowledge this first and then your eyes will open Yes don t be surprised what is possible with Hasso and Kyra The e book offers approaches that encourage you to use your dog as a therapist and better understand him Everyone must draw the correct conclusions and find solutions So let s go Note scroll up and click BUY NOW WITH 1 CLICK
