What Is An American Muslim Embracing Faith And Citizenship:

What Is an American Muslim? ‘Abd Allāh Aḥmad Na‘īm, 2014-03 Abdullah An na im offers a pioneering exploration of American Muslim citizenship and identity arguing against the prevalent emphasis on majority minority politics and instead promoting a shared citizenship that both accommodates and transcends religious identity Many scholars and community leaders have called on American Muslims to engage with or integrate into mainstream American culture Such calls tend to assume that there is a distinctive monolithic minority religious identity for American Muslims Rejecting the closed categories that determine the minority status of a particular group and that in turn impede active engaged citizenship An na im draws attention to the relational nature of identity emphasizing a common base of national membership and advancing a legal approach to a public recognition of a person s status as citizen Rather than perceive themselves or accept being perceived by others as a monolithic minority he argues American Muslims should view themselves as American citizens who happen to be Muslims As American citizens they share a vast array of identities with other American citizens whether ethnic political or socio economic But none of these identities qualify or limit their citizenship An na im urges members of the American Muslim community to take a proactive affirmative view of their citizenship in order to realize their rights fully and fulfill their obligations in social and cultural as well as political and legal terms He shows that the freedom to associate with others in order to engage in civic action to advance rights and interests is integral to the underlying rationale of citizenship and not something that must be relinquished to become an American citizen What Is an American Muslim provides acute insight into the nature of citizenship and identity the place of religious affiliation in American society and what it means to share in a collective identity

American Journal of Islam and Society (AJIS) - Volume 42 Issues 3-4 Abbas Jong, Malik Mufti, Hamdija Begovic, Bilkis Bharucha, Akif Tahiev, Mohamed Lamallam, Mohammed Eriouiche, Muhammad Latif, Beena Butool, Shiraz Khan, Nazish Mithaiwala, Muhammad Cholil, Muhammad Faizul Mamduh, Hesti Eka

Setianingsih, Mohd Y. Gada, Enes Karić, 2025-11-11 This issue of the American Journal of Islam and Society comprises four research articles which engage themes of development and change within the Islamic tradition alongside questions of Muslim identity We begin with Abbas Jong s work Reconfiguring Political Islam A Discursive Tradition Approach In this article Jong offers a thorough deeply theoretical engagement with the concept of discursive tradition which he restructures via the concept of social configuration We then turn to a study by Malik Mufti The Catholic Experience in America from Orestes

Brownson to the Bozells A Precedent for Muslims Malik's point of departure is to consider the history of American Catholicism and its adaptation to the American creed a part of an American liberal culture that is both formally tolerant and ideologically compelling to immigrants and their religious traditions As our third research article for this issue we then have Hamdija Begovic's From Ummatic Muslims to State centered Bosniacs The Case of the Muslims of Bosnia Here Begovic considers the evolution of the national identity of Bosnian Muslims throughout the 20th century from what he calls an Ummatic centric focus that uses the label Muslims toward a secularized identity demonstrated through their adoption of the ethnonym Bosniacs The fourth and final research article in this issue is Bilkis Bharucha's article Islam Science and the Environment An Application of Ibrahim Kalin's Three Views of Science in the Islamic World which offers a critical application of Kalin's framework to contemporary debates on Islam and environmental ethics

Muslim Americans Nahid Afrose Kabir, 2016-08-12 With Islamophobia on the rise in the US since 9/11 Muslims remain the most misunderstood people in American society Taking as its point of departure the question of the compatibility of Islam and democracy this book examines Muslims sense of belonging in American society Based on extensive interview data across seven states in the US the author explores the question of what it means to be American or un-American amongst Muslims offering insights into common views of community culture and wider society Through a combination of interviewees responses and discourse analysis of print media Muslim Americans also raises the question of whether media coverage of the issue might itself be considered un-American An empirically grounded study of race and faith based relations this book undertakes a rigorous questioning of what it means to be American in the contemporary US As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and political science with interests in race ethnicity religion and national identity

The Woman Question in Islamic Studies Kecia Ali, 2024-09-17 The interconnected ways that sexism functions in academic Islamic studies and how to shift professional norms toward parity Despite remarkable shifts in the demographics of Islamic studies in recent decades the field continues to be dominated by men who often relegate other scholars and their work particularly research on gender to its periphery while treating subfields in which men predominate as more rigorous and central In The Woman Question in Islamic Studies Kecia Ali explores the interconnected ways that sexism functions in academic Islamic studies Examining publications citations curricula and media representations Ali finds that despite the growth and depth of scholarship on Islam and gender men continue to overlook women's scholarship even in work that purports to discuss gender issues Moreover media and social media dynamics make talking about Islam and Muslims for broader audiences especially fraught for scholars who are not men particularly when the topic is gender or sexuality Combining broad surveys with more focused analyses of a smaller set of texts Ali shows that textbooks and syllabi continue to exclude women as historical actors and scholars and to marginalize gender and sexuality as subject matter Finally she provides a Beginner's Guide to Eradicating Sexism in Islamic Studies offering practical strategies to help scholars avoid common pitfalls in their own work and contribute to broader professional transformations Negotiating State and Non-State Law Michael A. Helfand, 2015-07-02 Non state law is playing an increasing role in both public and private ordering Numerous organizations have emerged alongside the nation state each purporting to provide their members with rules and norms to govern their conduct and organize their affairs The nation state increasingly finds itself sandwiched between two broad and contrasting categories of non state law The first law above the state captures legal systems that function across the territorial borders of nation states The second category law below the state includes forms of local customary religious and indigenous law As these forms of non state law persist and proliferate alongside the nation state the relationship between state and non state law becomes more complex multifaceted and tense This volume addresses this relationship considering whether and to what extent state and non state law can coexist and how each form of law seeks to influence as well as transform the other Modern Challenges to Islamic Law Shaheen Sardar Ali, 2016-10-06 The diversity of interpretation within Islamic legal traditions can be challenging for those working within this field of study Using a distinctly contextual approach this book addresses such challenges by combining theoretical perspectives on Islamic law with insight into how local understandings impact on the application of law in Muslim daily life Engaging with topics as diverse as Islamic constitutionalism Islamic finance human rights and internet fatawa Shaheen Sardar Ali provides an invaluable resource for scholars students and practitioners alike by exploring exactly what constitutes Islamic law in the contemporary world Useful examples case studies a glossary of terms and the author's personal reflections accompany traditional academic critique and together offer the reader a unique and discerning discussion of Islamic law in practice Braille Book Review ,2016 2015, 中国出版集团 中国对外翻译出版公司 American Book Publishing Record ,2006

The New Schaff-herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge, Embracing Biblical, Historical, Doctrinal, and Practical Theology, and Biblical, Theological, and Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical Biography from the Earliest Times to the Present Day Samuel Macauley Jackson, 1949 The American Political Science Review ,1962 The American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences ,1999 Cultures of Globalization Kevin Archer, 2008 Previously published as a special issue of Globalizations this book brings together researchers from different disciplines with the common goal of exploring the emerging cultural relations among groups and individuals in terms of coherence and hybridity identity and allegiance and cooperation and conflict Memoirs of the American Anthropological and Ethnological Societies American Anthropological Association, 1955 The Muslim World Book Review ,2001 Islamophobia Runnymede Trust. Commission on British Muslims and Islamophobia, Richard Stone, Hugh Muir, 2004 The word Islamophobia was first used in print in 1991 and was defined in the 1997 Runnymede Trust report as unfounded hostility towards Islam and therefore fear or dislike of all or most Muslims This follow up report seven years on considers events and trends since 1997 and outlines essential things that still need to be done This report describes the nature of Islamophobia in modern Britain and the impact of September 11 and the ensuing wars It stresses that a major challenge is to build constructive ways of airing disagreements and engaging in debate

It looks at four main areas of social political and cultural life recognition of Muslim identities in the census and the legal system tasks facing schools community cohesion at street and neighbourhood level and ways of affecting media coverage The book closes by citing the 60 recommendations that were made in the 1997 report and reviewing the progress that has and has not yet been made It contains statistics arguments original research interviews and facts and a wide range of lively quotations With its substantial bibliography and long list of useful websites this is the authoritative publication on the subject of Islamophobia Islamophobia issues challenges and action will be an invaluable practical guide for years to come and will be of interest to a wide range of professionals in education government law and the media Published in collaboration with the Uniting Britain Trust

American Islam, the Next Generation Daniel Azim Pschaida, 2015 This dissertation highlights context and the contours of the religious discourse of young adult Muslim Americans on university campuses in the Pacific West of the United States It specifically focuses on the second generation children of Muslim immigrants and their leadership approaches to college Muslim Student Associations MSA Based off data from eighty in depth interviews with this population and some converts extensive participant observation and an online survey this study also employs sociological analysis phenomenology hermeneutics and comparative ethics to identify the ways this demographic draws on scriptural sources to articulate the significance of their faith in an American environment Chapter One explores the social matrix in which heritage Muslims come to embrace and assert Islam as a central facet of their personal identity In particular it identifies the importance of family upbringing peer relationships prejudice and stereotyping of Muslims and multiculturalism Chapter Two discloses many core features of a Muslim identity and how it relates to their nationality American and various other demarcations and activities of their personal identity Chapter Three presents MSAs institutional practices and individual interpretations related to envisioned binaries of male and female analyzing how they believe women and men should relate to each other on campus in families and in their roles in public life It also presents their perspectives of homosexuality Chapter Four tackles the question of how young Muslims conceptualize and deal with religious ethnic and racial differences This chapter discloses dynamics of inclusivity prejudice trans ethnic friendship marriage ideals with ethnic others and young Muslims sometimes embracing and sometimes censoring Islamic sectarian diversity It also divulges their perspectives on soteriology of non Muslims This research counters previous simplifications of young American Muslims on campus as fundamentalist exclusive uncritical and militant yet also complicates reifications of them as liberal democratic and inclusive presenting their diverse interpretations to their faith and detailing the particular ways and for what purposes they perform conservative exclusive liberal and inclusive approaches to Islam This dissertation reveals young adult Muslim Americans on campus creatively negotiate what they learn about their Islamic tradition with American ideals constituting diverse expositions of their Faith

Global Issues in Family Law Ann Laquer Estin, Barbara Stark, 2007 This book offers broad coverage of the international comparative and transnational legal questions that are increasingly important in the practice of family law It considers global dimensions of the topics covered in an introductory course including marriage divorce establishing parent child relationships parental rights and responsibilities adoption and domestic violence and addresses broader questions of private international law human rights and immigration and asylum rights The book is intended to be accessible to students with no background in family law or international law and also to be challenging for those interested in exploring the fascinating intersection of these two fields
