even if the cinema does not PUBLISHER DESCRIPTION What Is Cinema? Volume I André Bazin, 2004-12-13 André Bazin's What Is Cinema volumes I and II have been classics of film studies for as long as they've been available and are considered the gold standard in the field of film criticism. Although Bazin made no films, his name has been one of the most important in French cinema since World War II. He was co-founder of the influential Cahiers du Cinéma which under his leadership became one of the world's most distinguished publications. Championing the films of Jean Renoir, who contributed a short foreword to Volume I, Orson Welles and Roberto Rossellini, he became the protégé of François Truffaut who honors him touchingly in his foreword to Volume II. This new edition includes graceful forewords to each volume by Bazin scholar and biographer Dudley Andrew who reconsiders Bazin and his place in contemporary film study. The essays themselves are erudite but always accessible, intellectual and stimulating. As Renoir puts it, the essays of Bazin will survive even if the cinema does not. A Social History of Iranian Cinema, Volume 2 Hamid Naficy, 2011-09-16 Social history of Iranian cinema that explores cinema's role in creating national identity and contextualizes Iranian cinema within an international arena. What Cinema Is! Dudley Andrew, 2011-09-09 What Cinema Is offers an engaging answer to André Bazin's famous question, exploring his idea of cinema with a sweeping look back at the near century of cinema's phenomenal ascendancy. Written by one of the foremost film scholars of our time, it establishes cinema's distinction from the current enthusiasm over audio-visual entertainment without relegating cinema to a single older mode. Examines cinema's institutions and its social force through the qualities of key films. Traces the history of an idea that has made cinema supremely alive to and in our times. The reality of film Richard Rushton, 2013-07-19 In formulating a notion of filmic reality, The Reality of Film offers a novel way of understanding our relationship to cinema. It argues that cinema need not be understood in terms of its capacities to refer to, reproduce or represent reality, but should be understood in terms of the kinds of realities it has the ability to create. The Reality of Film investigates filmic reality by way of six key film theorists: André Bazin, Christian Metz, Stanley Cavell, Gilles Deleuze, Slavoj Žižek and Jacques Rancière. In doing so, it provides comprehensive introductions to each of these thinkers while also debunking many myths and misconceptions about them. Along the way, a notion of filmic reality is formed that radically reconfigures our understanding of cinema. This book is essential reading for film scholars, students and philosophers of film, while it will also appeal to graduate students and specialists in other fields. Tenmaku Cinema, Vol. 2 Yuto Tsukuda, 2025-01-28 Gifted screenwriter Takahiko Tenmaku died before his script could ever be turned into a movie. Now his spirit is haunting teenage film buff Hajime Shinichi, and he's written a new script from beyond the grave. With Hajime in the director's chair, the Movie Research Club working as the crew, and Hinaki Kurai, an actual professional actress in the starring role, The Shore is really getting made, or Tenmaku might never be able to pass on.
