Interurban Knowledge Exchange in Southern and Eastern Europe, 1870-1950 Eszter Gantner,Heidi Hein-Kircher,Oliver Hochadel,2020-10-22 Around 1900 cities in Southern and Eastern Europe were persistently labeled backward and delayed Allegedly they had no alternative but to follow the role model of the metropolises of London Paris or Vienna This edited volume fundamentally questions this assumption It shows that cities as diverse as Barcelona Berdyansk Budapest Lviv Milan Moscow Prague Warsaw and Zagreb pursued their own agendas of modernization In order to solve their pressing problems with respect to urban planning and public health they searched for best practices abroad The solutions they gleaned from other cities were eclectic to fit the specific needs of a given urban space and were thus often innovative This applied urban knowledge was generated through interurban networks and multi directional exchanges Yet in the period around 1900 this transnational municipalism often clashed with the forging of urban and national identities highlighting the tensions between the universal and the local This interurban perspective helps to overcome nationalist perspectives in historiography as well as outdated notions of center and periphery This volume will appeal to scholars from a large number of disciplines including urban historians historians of Eastern and Southern Europe historians of science and medicine and scholars interested in transnational connections      Urban Life in Nordic Countries Heiko Droste,2023-12-18 Based on empirical studies this book investigates the particular urban history of the North from the 17th century until today in a comparative Northern perspective Urban Life in Nordic Countries is the result of a conference on Urbanity in the Periphery held in Stockholm on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the Institute of Urban History at Stockholm University aimed at establishing the field of the urban history of the North and creating a network of urban historians of the North With a broad range of contributions from Sweden Finland Denmark Norway and Estonia the volume seeks to further discourse on the region within national and transnational lenses and to highlight possibilities for new cooperation among researchers Urban history is a transdisciplinary subject engaging not only historians but also ethnologists sociologists urban planners and cultural geographers and this book targets all scholars whose work requires a historical understanding of the Northern town European urban historians outside the region will also find this text valuable as one of the few studies to consider the urban history of the continent from a North centered viewpoint      Town and Country in Europe, 1300-1800 S. R. Epstein,2001 This 2001 book was the first survey of relations between town and country across Europe between 1300 and 1800      Our Urban Planet in Theory and History Carl Nightingale,2024-06-06 This Element offers seven propositions toward a theory of Our Urban Planet that is useful to global urban historians I argue that historians have much to offer to theorists particularly those involved in debates over planetary urbanization theory and the Anthropocene We must enlarge our concept of urban to include spaces that make cities possible and that cities make possible and become comfortable with longer temporal frames that nest global urban history within Earth Time Above all we need to add the crucial dimension of power redefining cities as spaces that humans produce to amplify harvests of geo solar energy and deploy human power within space and time The element uses insights from deep history to set the stage for a theory by verb elaborating the many paradoxes of humans 6 000 year gamble with the Urban Condition and explaining cities own intrinsic capacity to outrun their own theorizability

Real Estate and Global Urban History Alexia Yates,2021-08-26 Capitalist private property in land and buildings real estate is the ground of modern cities materially politically and economically It is foundational to their development and core to much theoretical work on the urban environment It is also a central pressing matter of political contestation in contemporary cities Yet it remains largely without a history This Element examines the modern city as a propertied space defining real estate as a technology of dis possession and using it to move across scales of analysis from the local spatiality of particular built spaces to the networks of legal political and economic imperatives that constitute property and operate at national and international levels This combination of territorial embeddedness with more wide ranging institutional relationships charts a route to an urban history that allows the city to speak as a global agent and artefact without dispensing with the role of states and local circumstance

The History of Urban Planning in Spain, Portugal and Morocco Carmen Hass-Klau,2025-09-08 This book includes a historic overview of urban planning in the Iberian Peninsula and Morocco from 700 AD until the 20th century Under Muslim rule there was an urban sophistication which was unfamiliar in the Christian world The conquest of Granada and the discovery of America was seen as the beginning of a new era but this book presents a different view of Spain and Portugal which does not equate with the glamorous picture usually painted Chapters detail the untold story of Muslim refugees who founded towns in Morocco and how the conflicts between Morocco and Spain started not only politically but also in terms of town planning when Spain took over the Moroccan north The history of Islamic city planning shows more consistency compared to the Christian equivalent which became dominant worldwide whereas the Islamic approach is mainly forgotten Despite this the change from Islamic to Christian cities was extremely slow regardless of the power of the church and the wealth which came from abroad In tracing this history this book seeks to highlight the past in order to learn from it and move towards building a future of livable cities This book will be of interest to students and instructors of planning history urban planning and human geography and to people who are generally interested in history and cities
