Wind Sun Soil Spirit Biblical Ethics And Climate Change:

Wind, Sun, Soil, Spirit Carol S. Robb, 2010-01-25 Carol Robb brings an ecological ethics in theological perspective and it integrates economic theory environmental policy and most distinctively New Testament studies Alongside deliberation on scenarios for the future in light of climate change and assessing criteria for ethical policy in this area she reflects on implications of New Testament worldview for ethics now Relating Jesus s life ministry and teachings to the resurrection then probing how Paul and other early followers of Jesus related to the empire provides a fruitful fund of ideas for Christian responsibility in this area Theological and Ethical Perspectives on Climate Engineering Forrest Clingerman, Kevin J.

O'Brien, 2016-09-09 The climate is changing as an unintended consequence of human industrialization and consumerism Recently some scientists and engineers have suggested climate engineering technological solutions that would intentionally change the climate to make it more hospitable This approach focuses on large scale technologies to alleviate the worst effects of anthropogenic climate change This book considers the moral philosophical and religious questions raised by such proposals bringing Christian theology and ethics into the conversation about climate engineering for the first time The contributors have different views on whether climate engineering is morally acceptable and on what kinds of climate engineering are most promising and most dangerous but all agree that religion has a vital role to play in the analysis and decisions called for on this vital issue Calming the Storm presents diverse perspectives on some of the most vital questions raised by climate engineering Who has the right to make decisions about such global technological efforts What have we learned from the decisions that caused the climate to change that might shed light on efforts to reverse that change What frameworks and metaphors are helpful in thinking about climate engineering and which are counterproductive What religious beliefs practices and rituals can help people to imagine and evaluate the prospect of engineering the climate

The Future of Ethics Willis Jenkins, 2013-10-24 The Future of Ethics interprets the big questions of sustainability and social justice through the practical problems arising from humanity s increasing power over basic systems of life What does climate change mean for our obligations to future generations How can the sciences work with pluralist cultures in ways that will help societies learn from ecological change Traditional religious ethics examines texts and traditions and highlights principles and virtuous behaviors that can apply to particular issues Willis Jenkins develops lines of practical inquiry through prophetic pragmatism an approach to ethics that begins with concrete problems and adapts to changing circumstances This brand of pragmatism takes its cues from liberationist theology with its emphasis on how individuals and communities actually cope with overwhelming problems Can religious communities make a difference when dealing with these issues By integrating environmental sciences and theological ethics into problem based engagements with philosophy economics and other disciplines Jenkins illustrates the wide understanding and moral creativity needed to live well in the new conditions of human power He shows the significance of religious thought to the development of interdisciplinary responses to sustainability issues and how this calls for a new style of religious ethics Theological Reflection and the Pursuit of Ideals

Dale Wright, Maria Antonaccio, 2016-02-17 Contemporary thought is marked by heated debates about the character purpose and form of religious thinking and its relation to a range of ideals spiritual moral aesthetic political and ecological to name the obvious This book addresses the interrelation between theological thinking and the complex and diverse realms of human ideals What are the ideals appropriate to our moment in human history and how do these ideals derive from or relate to theological reflection in our time In Theological Reflection and the Pursuit of Ideals internationally renowned scholars from a range of disciplines physics art literary studies ethics comparative religion history of ideas and theology engage with these crucial questions with the intention of articulating a new and historically appropriate vision of theological reflection and the pursuit of ideals for our global times Science and the World's Religions Patrick McNamara Ph.D., Wesley J. Wildman, 2012-07-19 This trio of volumes contains essays that explore vital existential moral or metaphysical issues surrounding the relationship between the sciences and the world's religions In Science and the World's Religions experts with scientific and religious backgrounds explore vital existential or practical issues drawing on whatever sciences are relevant and engaging at least two religious traditions The multidisciplinary essays exhibit rigorous intellectual scholarly thinking but are written to clearly communicate to educated adult lay readers The first volume addresses questions about the origins and purpose of the cosmos and the human project The second volume investigates the roles of religion and spirituality in human existence considering issues ranging from the brain and religious experience to the human life cycle The third volume tackles controversies in which both religion and science are stakeholders showing how both can deepen understanding and enrich human experience Together these three books present readers with powerful tools that enable them to think through the challenge of integrating science with their religious beliefs and spiritual practices Christian Register and Boston Observer, 1913 the family churchman, 1883 English Mechanic and Mirror of Science and Art, 1913 Herald and Presbyter, 1908 Zion's Herald, 1907 Scientific American, 1890 Argonaut, 1900
Harper's Weekly John Bonner, George William Curtis, Henry Mills Alden, Samuel Stillman Conant, Montgomery Schuyler, John Foord, Richard Harding Davis, Carl Schurz, Henry Loomis Nelson, John Kendrick Bangs, George Brinton McClellan Harvey, Norman Hapgood, 1879 The Tablet, 1871 The international Catholic weekly Cyclopaedia of English Literature, 1 R. Chambers, Civil War Extra: A newspaper history of the Civil War from Nat Turner to 1863
Eric Caren, 1999 This two volume collection of newspapers is one of the most important Civil War publications ever produced and it brings the events of the war vividly in focus A unique of the moment perspective it begins with the Nat Turner slave insurrection and covers every battle many by the local papers for a truly firsthand up close view Lincoln's election inauguration and assassination are given full coverage Caren's extensive collection includes many extremely rare Southern editions which would never be seen except in this remarkable publication Loaded with engravings depicting battles military leaders and maps this is an absolutely essential addition to any enthusiast's collection Christianity in a Time of Climate Change Kristen Poole, 2020-04-17 What does climate change have to do with religion and spirituality Even though a changing environment will have a dire impact on human populations affecting everything from food supply to health to housing the vast majority of Americans do not consider climate change a moral or a religious issue Yet the damage of climate change a phenomenon to which we all contribute through our collective carbon emissions presents an unprecedented ethical problem one that touches a foundational moral principle of Christianity Jesus's dictate to love the neighbor This care for the neighbor stretches across time as well as space We are called to care for the neighbors of the future as well as those of the present How can we connect the ethical considerations of climate change the knowledge that our actions directly or indirectly cause harm to others to our individual and collective spiritual practice Christianity in a Time of Climate Change offers a series of reflective essays that consider the Christian ethics of climate change and suggest ways to fold the neighbors of the future into our spiritual lives as an impetus to meaningful personal social and ultimately environmental transformations

Webster's Third International Dictionary of the English Language, Unabridged, 1961 God, Creation and Climate Change Fédération luthérienne mondiale, 2009 Spiritual Life on a Burning Planet David T. Bradford, 2020-10-09 Spiritual Life on a Burning Planet draws on scientific research in developing religious perspectives on anthropogenic climate change Its four chapters are entitled Tolling Bells Burning Planet Eschatology in the Anthropocene and The Downward Passage Tolling Bells introduces the topic of climate change and several of its emotional and biblical implications Burning Planet provides an overview of the science of climate change and surveys the effects of global warming on human life later this century The essays in Eschatology in the Anthropocene develop theological interpretations of climate change and examine its moral spiritual social and psychological dimensions The Downward Passage focuses on Christ's descent the harrowing of hell understood as a point of doctrine and an exemplary image of forthcoming challenges as we advance more deeply into the Anthropocene A spiritual path suited to the Anthropocene is outlined Its watchword is penthos a traditional practice with sufficient power to convey a person through the grief and mourning that represent a true grasp of our having forced the earth into a new geological epoch
