Thieving Sugar Omise'eke Natasha Tinsley, 2010-08-18 In Thieving Sugar Omise'eke Natasha Tinsley explores the poetry and prose of Caribbean women writers revealing in their imagery a rich tradition of erotic relations between women. She takes the book's title from Dionne Brand's novel In Another Place Not Here where eroticism between women is likened to the sweet and subversive act of cane cutters stealing sugar. The natural world is repeatedly reclaimed and reinterpreted to express love between women in the poetry and prose that Tinsley analyzes. She not only recuperates stories of Caribbean women loving women stories that have been ignored or passed over by postcolonial and queer scholarship until now, she also shows how those erotic relations and their literary evocations form a poetics and politics of decolonization. Tinsley's interpretations of twentieth-century literature by Dutch, English, and French-speaking women from the Caribbean take into account colonialism, migration, labor, history, violence, and revolutionary politics. Throughout Thieving Sugar, Tinsley connects her readings to contemporary matters such as neoimperialism and international LGBT and human rights discourses. She explains too how the texts that she examines intervene in black feminist, queer, and postcolonial studies, particularly when she highlights the cultural limitations of the metaphors that dominate queer theory in North America and Europe, including those of the closet and coming out.

Thieving Sugar Natasha Alyssa Tinsley, 2003 Spinoza's Authority Volume I A. Kiarina Kordela, Dimitris Vardoulakis, 2017-12-28 Spinoza's political thought has been subject to a significant revival of interest in recent years. As a response to difficult times, students and scholars have returned to this founding figure of modern philosophy as a means to help reinterpret and rethink the political present. Spinoza's Authority Volume I: Resistance and Power in Ethics makes a significant contribution to this ongoing reception and utilization of Spinoza's political thought by focusing on his posthumously published Ethics. By taking the concept of authority as an original framework, this book asks: How is authority related to ethics, ontology, and epistemology? What are the social, historical, and representational processes that produce authority and resistance? And what are the conditions of effective resistance? Spinoza's Authority features a roster of internationally established theorists of Spinoza's work and covers key elements of Spinoza's political philosophy, including questions of authority, the resistance to authority, sovereign power, democratic control, and the role of Spinoza's multitudes.

Creolized Sexualities Alison Donnell, 2021-10-15 Creolized Sexualities Undoing Heteronormativity in the Literary Imagination of the Anglo Caribbean draws attention to a wide and surprising range of writings that craft inclusive and pluralizing representations of sexual possibilities within the Caribbean imagination Reading across an eclectic range of writings from V S Naipaul to Marlon James Shani Mootoo to Junot Diaz Andrew Salkey to Thomas Glave Curdella Forbes to Colin Robinson this bold work of literary criticism brings into view fictional worlds where Caribbeanness and queerness correspond and reconcile Through inspired close readings Donnell gathers evidence and argument for the Caribbean as an exemplary creolized ecology of fluid possibilities that can illuminate the prospect of a non heteronormalizing future Indeed Creolized Sexualities hows how writers have long rendered sexual plasticity indeterminacy and pluralism as an integral part of Caribbeanness and as one of the most compelling if unacknowledged ways of resisting the disciplining regimes of colonial and neocolonial power

Afro-Fabulations Tavia Nyong'o, 2018-11-27 Winner 2019 Barnard Hewitt Award for Outstanding Research in Theatre History given by the American Society for Theatre Research Honorable Mention 2021 Errol Hill Award given by the American Society for Theatre Research Argues for a conception of black cultural life that exceeds post blackness and conditions of loss

In Afro Fabulations The Queer Drama of Black Life cultural critic and historian Tavia Nyong'o surveys the conditions of contemporary black artistic production in the era of post blackness. Moving fluidly between the insurgent art of the 1960s and the intersectional activism of the present day, Afro Fabulations challenges genealogies of blackness that ignore its creative capacity to exceed conditions of traumatic loss, social death, and archival erasure. If black survival in an anti-black world often feels like a race against time, Afro Fabulations looks to the modes of memory and imagination through which a queer and black polytemporality is invented and sustained. Moving past the antirelational debates in queer theory, Nyong'o posits queerness as angular sociality, drawing upon queer of color critique in order to name the gate and rhythm of black social life as it moves in and out of step with itself. He takes up a broad range of sites of analysis, from speculative fiction to performance art, from artificial intelligence to Blaxploitation cinema. Reading the archive of violence and trauma against the grain, Afro Fabulations summons the poetic powers of queer world-making that have always been immanent to the fight and play of black life.

Wicked Flesh Jessica Marie Johnson, 2020-08-28 The story of freedom pivots on the choices black women made to retain control over their bodies and selves, their loved ones and their futures. The story of freedom and all of its ambiguities begins with intimate acts steeped in power. It is shaped by the peculiar oppressions faced by African women and women of African descent. And it pivots on the self-conscious choices black women made to retain control over their bodies and selves, their loved ones and their futures. Slavery's rise in the Americas was institutional, carnal, and reproductive. The intimacy of bondage whet the appetites of slaveowners, traders, and colonial officials with fantasies of domination that trickled into every social relationship: husband and wife, sovereign and subject, master and laborer. Intimacy, corporeal, carnal, quotidian, tied slaves to slaveowners, women of African descent and their children to European and African men. In Wicked Flesh, Jessica Marie Johnson explores the nature of these complicated intimate and kinship ties and how they were used by black women to construct freedom in the Atlantic world. Johnson draws on archival documents scattered in institutions across three continents, written in multiple languages and largely from the perspective of colonial officials and slave-owning men, to recreate black women's experiences from coastal Senegal to French Saint Domingue to Spanish Cuba to the swampy outposts of the Gulf Coast. Centering New Orleans as the quintessential site for investigating black women's practices of freedom in the Atlantic world, Wicked Flesh argues that African women and women of African descent, endowed free status with meaning through active, aggressive, and sometimes unsuccessful intimate and kinship practices. Their stories, in both their successes and their failures, outline a practice of freedom that laid the groundwork for the emancipation struggles of the nineteenth century and reshaped the New World.
