thirty five years old was both a great literary success and a political scandal Accused of having a decadent attitude with regard to the new socialist Germany and deliberately misrepresenting the workers who are the foundation of this new state Wolf survived a wave of political and other attacks after its publication She went on to create a screenplay from the novel and participate in making the film version More importantly she went on to become the best known East German writer of her generation a writer who established an international reputation and never stopped working toward improving the socialist reality of the GDR Divided Heaven Christa Wolf,1979 Christa Wolf Sonja E. Klocke,Jennifer R. Hosek,2018-03-19 Interest in Christa Wolf continues to grow Her classics are being reprinted and new titles are appearing posthumously becoming bestsellers and being translated Energetic scholarly debates engage well known aesthetic and political issues that the public intellectual herself fore fronted This broad ranging introduction to the author her work and times builds upon and moves beyond such foundational interpretative frameworks by articulating the global relevance of Wolf s oeuvre today also for non German readers Thus it brings East German culture alive to students teachers scholars and the general public by connecting the socialist German Democratic Republic GDR and the lived experiences of its citizens to nations and cultures around the world The collection focuses on topical matters including the search for authenticity agency race cosmopolitanism gender environmentalism geopolitics war and memory debates as well as movie adaptations and Wolf s film work with DEFA marketing and international reception Our contributions by senior and emerging scholars from across the globe emphasize Wolf s position as an author of world literature and an important critical voice in the 21st century What Remains Gerald Fetz,Patricia Herminhouse,2022-06-10 Arguably the most important and influential German woman writer of the last century Christa Wolf was long heralded as die gesamtdeutsche Autorin an author for all of Germany but after 1989 in unified Germany Wolf found herself suddenly embroiled in controversies that challenged her integrity and consigned her to an ideologically suspect identity as DDR Schriftstellerin GDR writer or Staatsdichterin state poet What Remains Responses to the Legacy of Christa Wolf asks the question of what truly remains of her legacy in the annals of contemporary German culture and history Unlike most of what appeared in the wake of Wolf s death however the contributions to this international volume seek neither to monumentalize her nor to dismantle her stature but to employ a range of methodologies comparative intertextual psychoanalytic historical transcultural to offer sensitive assessments of Wolf s major literary texts as well as of her lesser known work in genres such as film and essay Germany Neil MacGregor,2014-11-13 From Neil MacGregor the author of A History of the World in 100 Objects this is a view of Germany like no other Today as the dominant economic force in Europe Germany looms as large as ever over world affairs But how much do we really understand about it and how do its people understand themselves In this enthralling new book Neil MacGregor guides us through the complex history culture and identity of this most mercurial of countries by telling the stories behind 30 objects in his uniquely magical way Beginning with the fifteenth century invention of the Gutenberg press MacGregor ventures beyond the usual sticking point of the Second World War to get to the heart of a nation that has given us Luther and Hitler the Beetle and Brecht and remade our world again and again This is a view of Germany like no other Neil MacGregor has been Director of the British Museum since August 2002 He was Director of the National Gallery in London from 1987 to 2002 His celebrated books include A History of the World in 100 Objects now translated into more than a dozen languages and one of the top selling titles ever published by Penguin Press and Shakespeare s Restless World

Margarethe von Trotta Monika Raesch,2018-01-19 Margarethe von Trotta b 1942 entered the film industry in the only way she could in the 1960s as an actress Throughout her career von Trotta added thirty two acting credits to her name however these credits came to a halt in 1975 Her ambition had always been to be a movie director Though she viewed acting as a detour it allowed her to be in the right place at the right time and through her line of work she met such important directors as Rainer Werner Fassbinder and Volker Schlöndorff The latter would eventually provide her with the opportunity to codirect her first film Die Verlorene Ehre der Katharina Blum The Lost Honor of Katharina Blum in 1975 The debut s success ensured von Trotta s future in the film industry and launched her accomplished film directing career In Margarethe von Trotta Interviews volume editor Monika Raesch furnishes twenty illuminating interviews with the auteur Spanning three decades from the mid 1980s until today the interviews reveal not only von Trotta s life in the film industry but also evolving roles of and opportunities provided to women over that time period This collection of interviews presents the different dimensions of von Trotta through the lenses of film critics scholars and journalists The volume offers essential reading for anyone seeking a better understanding of an iconic female movie director at a time when this possibility for women just emerged

Life Stories from the German Democratic Republic Chris Weedon,2023-08-28 More than thirty years after German reunification Life Stories from the German Democratic Republic addresses how life in the GDR is remembered thereby enriching and complexifying the narratives of East German life found in public history museums tourist venues film media and popular fiction The frequent stress on material lack social restrictions and the repressive state is expanded and reconfigured by interviewees who variously both challenge and confirm widespread assumptions about what it meant to live in the GDR Aimed at a wide readership this book gives English speaking readers access to varied and detailed accounts of everyday life individual engagement with state institutions and different views of GDR politics society and culture

The Picnic Matthew Longo,2023-11-07 Winner of the 2024 Orwell Prize for Political Writing A New York Times Book Review Editors Choice Named a Best Book of the Year by Kirkus Reviews and Slate A terrific work of history Dan Kois Slate A vivid fast paced narrative Andrew Meier New York Times Book Review The gripping story of a collective passion for freedom that shook the world In August 1989 a group of Hungarian activists organized a picnic on the border of Hungary and Austria But this was not an ordinary picnic it was located on the dangerous militarized frontier known as the Iron Curtain Tacit permission from the highest state authorities could be revoked at any moment On wisps of rumor thousands of East German vacationers packed Hungarian campgrounds awaiting an opportunity

fearing prison surveilled by lurking Stasi agents The Pan European Picnic set the stage for the greatest border breach in Cold War history hundreds crossed from the Communist East to the longed for freedom of the West Drawing on dozens of original interviews including Hungarian activists and border guards East German refugees Stasi secret police and the last Communist prime minister of Hungary Matthew Longo tells a gripping and revelatory tale of the unraveling of the Iron Curtain and the birth of a new world order Just a few months after the Picnic the Berlin Wall fell and the freedom for which the activists and refugees had abandoned their homes risked imprisonment sacrificed jobs family and friends was suddenly available to everyone But were they really free And why three decades since the Iron Curtain was torn down have so many sought once again to build walls Cinematically told The Picnic recovers a time when it seemed possible for the world to change With insight and panache Longo explores the opportunities taken and the opportunities we failed to take in that pivotal moment

Autonomy Beate Roessler, 2021-05-18 In everyday life we generally assume that we can make our own decisions on matters which concern our own lives We assume that a life followed only according to decisions taken by other people against our will cannot be a well lived life we assume in other words that we are and should be autonomous However it is equally true that many aspects of our lives are not chosen freely this is true of social relations and commitments but also of all those situations we simply seem to stumble into situations which just seem to happen to us The possibility of both the success of an autonomous life and its failure are part of our everyday experiences In this brilliant and illuminating book Beate Roessler examines the tension between failing and succeeding to live an autonomous life and the obstacles we have to face when we try to live our life autonomously obstacles within ourselves as well as those that stem from social and political conditions She highlights the ambiguities we encounter examines the roles of self awareness and self deception explores the role of autonomy for the meaning of life and maps out the social and political conditions necessary for autonomy Informed by philosophical perspectives but also drawing on literary texts such as those of Siri Hustvedt and Jane Austen and diaries including those of Franz Kafka and Sylvia Plath Roessler develops a formidable defense of autonomy against excessive expectations and above all against overpowering skepticism

The European Experience Jan Hansen, Jochen Hung, Jaroslav Ira, Judit Klement, Sylvain Lesage, Juan Luis Simal, Andrew Tompkins, 2023-02-21 The European Experience brings together the expertise of nearly a hundred historians from eight European universities to internationalise and diversify the study of modern European history exploring a grand sweep of time from 1500 to 2000 Offering a valuable corrective to the Anglocentric narratives of previous English language textbooks scholars from all over Europe have pooled their knowledge on comparative themes such as identities cultural encounters power and citizenship and economic development to reflect the complexity and heterogeneous nature of the European experience Rather than another grand narrative the international author teams offer a multifaceted and rich perspective on the history of the continent of the past 500 years Each major theme is dissected through three chronological sub chapters revealing how major social political and historical trends manifested themselves in different European settings during the early modern 1500 1800 modern 1800 1900 and contemporary period 1900 2000 This resource is of utmost relevance to today's history students in the light of ongoing internationalisation strategies for higher education curricula as it delivers one of the first multi perspective and truly European analyses of the continent's past Beyond the provision of historical content this textbook equips students with the intellectual tools to interrogate prevailing accounts of European history and enables them to seek out additional perspectives in a bid to further enrich the discipline

Lurking Cold War Stavroula Pipyrou, 2025-11-01 Lasting traces of the Cold War continue to shape the social landscape in Italy and Greece Lurking Cold War critiques the connections between global categories and individual experiences foregrounding Cold War resonances through materiality imagination speculation and affect in literature bureaucracy and the family Introducing a theory of methexis it explores how people and history are brought into communion blurring the boundaries between the known and unknown reality and imagination form and interpretation The result is an articulation of history that not only reveals the ongoing presence of the Cold War but shows how and why it still matters today

The Secret Life of Literature Lisa Zunshine, 2022-03-15 An innovative account that brings together cognitive science ethnography and literary history to examine patterns of mindreading in a wide range of literary works For over four thousand years writers have been experimenting with what cognitive scientists call mindreading constantly devising new social contexts for making their audiences imagine complex mental states of characters and narrators In The Secret Life of Literature Lisa Zunshine uncovers these mindreading patterns which have until now remained invisible to both readers and critics in works ranging from The Epic of Gilgamesh to Invisible Man Bringing together cognitive science ethnography and literary studies this engaging book transforms our understanding of literary history Central to Zunshine's argument is the exploration of mental states embedded within each other as for instance when Ellison's Invisible Man is aware of how his white Communist Party comrades pretend not to understand what he means when they want to reassert their position of power Paying special attention to how race class and gender inform literary embeddings Zunshine contrasts this dynamic with real life patterns studied by cognitive and social psychologists She also considers community specific mindreading values and looks at the rise and migration of embedding patterns across genres and national literary traditions noting particularly the use of deception eavesdropping and shame as plot devices Finally she investigates mindreading in children's literature Stories for children geared toward different stages of development she shows provide cultural scaffolding for initiating young readers into a long term engagement with the secret life of literature

Screening Solidarity Helga Druxes, Alexandar Mihailovic, Patricia Anne Simpson, 2023-04-20 Western neoliberalism is a predatory outgrowth of late capitalism that overvalues competition transferring the laws of the market to human relationships This book advances the argument that anti neoliberal cinemas of Europe the United States and the Russian Federation imagine and visualize alternatives to the non sovereign realities of a neoliberal workplace that unequivocally endorses dangerous risk taking self optimizing neoliberal subjects and corporate entrepreneurs of self Always at stake in the examination of neoliberalism s consequences is a human being who is indexed by race gender nation ability and economic performance Drawing on film theory transnational social histories critical race theory and Marxist and Foucauldian interpretive models this book rediscovers a cinema that imagines a social contract focused on the common good and ethical standards for the social state Anti neoliberal cinema empowers the viewer as agentive through narratives that detail resistance to Western neoliberal modes of living and working These filmmakers dramatize the labor of making solidarity across different groups
