Precedented Environmental Futures Colin Porteous,2019-04-17 This book addresses the built environment through the lens of environmental architecture and in a holistic manner It moves gradually from psychophysiology and thinking doing feeling modalities through environmental criteria to environmental modulation concluding with a debate around mitigation and adaptation Much use is made of re interpreting past quotations seen as relevant for environmental architecture No definitive conclusions are reached but rather broad discursive messages are offered The text will have lasting luminance for new generations involved with the built environment

Architecture as Communication Ross A. Eaman, 2025-04-08 Media theory has long overlooked the built environment and its communicative capacity how built structures and spaces convey meaning through material embodiment and symbolization Architecture as Communication advances the idea that built environments function as media of communication Using practice theory in conjunction with the concept of style this book is anchored in three historical determinants the quest for perfect proportion in buildings the belief in architectural determinism and the ongoing efforts within other media to influence how those who experience built environments understand them Ross Eaman explores how houses schools places of worship factories office buildings stores malls opera houses plazas and parks have meaning for people as subjective life worlds Architecture as Communication proposes media theory that articulates the social construction of meaning as a unique way of understanding the built environment one in which the users and observers of structures and spaces participate along with architects and designers Architecture according to Eaman encompasses the multiplicity of communication as human interaction preparing people for what they are about to encounter signalling how they should act and selectively enabling them to perform their expected role Using examples across many historical periods and cultures Architecture as Communication argues that we judge our built environments by the values they communicate

Thinking Architecturally Paul Righini, 2000 Through a critical study of issues such as order form space style place making aesthetics and architectural theory students are encouraged to think about their own creative ideas The use of analytical reasoning lateral thinking drawing and modelling is emphasised

Building Ideas Jonathan A. Hale, 2000-08-01 Building Ideas An Introduction to Architectural Theory This book is an essential text for students of architecture and related disciplines satisfying the demand for an accessible introduction to the major theoretical debates in contemporary architecture Written in a lucid and user friendly style the book also acts as a guide and companion volume to the many primary theoretical texts recently made available in reprinted collections Whilst architectural monographs collections of building precedents and polemical manifestoes are growing more and more numerous Building Ideas is the first book to provide an introduction to such a broad range of issues in architectural theory This text therefore serves to fill a widening gap between the everyday practice of architecture and the often bewildering field of academic theoretical debate Beginning with a general introduction to the field of architectural theory covering the interface between philosophy and technology in the production and interpretation of buildings the book presents the major theoretical positions in contemporary architecture through a series of thematically structured chapters Each chapter deals with a specific approach to the theory and criticism of architecture by presenting a series of related buildings as illustrations of a key theoretical position as well as setting this position in a cultural and historical context Under the five broad headings of Architecture as Engineering The Technological Revolution Architecture as Art Aesthetics in Philosophy The Return of the Body Phenomenology in Architecture Systems of

Communication Structuralism and Semiotics and Politics and Architecture The Marxist Tradition the book presents a wide but critical survey of the central questions in the current theoretical debate Providing the theoretical tools necessary for an understanding of the history of philosophies and technologies in architecture this book is essential reading for undergraduate architectural theory courses as well as a first point of reference for anyone wishing to understand the complex connections between architecture and related fields of cultural enquiry

Restructuring Architectural Theory Marco Diani, Catherine Ingraham, 1988 Restructuring Architectural Theory addresses the impact of contemporary critical theory from poststructuralism to deconstruction and beyond on architecture This unique collection of essays will be invaluable to students and scholars as well as to architects and art historians for the range of issues it covers and the depth of analysis it provides

Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture: Kate Nesbitt, 1996-03 Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture An Anthology of Architectural Theory collects in a single volume the most significant essays on architectural theory of the last thirty years A dynamic period of reexamination of the discipline the postmodern era produced widely divergent and radical viewpoints on issues of making meaning history and the city Among the paradigms presented are architectural postmodernism phenomenology semiotics poststructuralism deconstruction and feminism By gathering these influential articles from a vast array of books and journals into a comprehensive anthology Kate Nesbitt has created a resource of great value Indispensable to professors and students of architecture and architectural theory Theorizing a New Agenda also serves practitioners and the general public as Nesbitt provides an overview a thematic structure and a critical introduction to each essay The list of authors in Theorizing a New Agenda reads like a Who's Who of contemporary architectural thought Tadao Ando Giulio Carlo Argan Alan Colquhoun Jacques Derrida Peter Eisenman Marco Frascari Kenneth Frampton Diane Ghirardo Vittorio Gregotti Karsten Harries Rem Koolhaas Christian Norberg Schulz Aldo Rossi Colin Rowe Thomas Schumacher Ignasi de Sol Morales Rubi Bernard Tschumi Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown and Anthony Vidler A bibliography and notes on all the contributors are also included

The Autopoiesis of Architecture, Volume I Patrik Schumacher, 2011-04-20 Take a theoretical approach to architecture with The Autopoiesis of Architecture which presents the topic as a discipline with its own unique logic Architecture's conception of itself is addressed as well as its development within wider contemporary society Author Patrik Schumacher offers innovative treatment that enriches architectural theory with a coordinated arsenal of concepts facilitating both detailed analysis and insightful comparisons with other domains such as art science and politics He explores how the various modes of communication comprising architecture depend upon each other combine and form a unique subsystem of society that co evolves with other important autopoietic subsystems like art science politics and the economy The first of two volumes that together present a comprehensive account of architecture's autopoiesis this book elaborates the theory of architecture's autopoiesis in 8 parts 50 sections and 200 chapters Each of the 50 sections poses a thesis drawing a central message from the insights articulated within the respective section The 200 chapters are gathering and sorting the accumulated intelligence of the discipline according to the new conceptual framework adopted in order to catalyze and elaborate the new formulations and insights that are then encapsulated in the theses. However, while the theoretical work in the text of the chapters relies on the rigorous build up of a new theoretical language, the theses are written in ordinary language with the theoretical concepts placed in brackets. The full list of the 50 theses affords a convenient summary printed as appendix at the end of the book. The second volume completes the analysis of the discourse and further proposes a new agenda for contemporary architecture in response to the challenges and opportunities that confront architectural design within the context of current societal and technological developments. Derrida for

Architects Richard Coyne, 2011-08-26 Jacques Derrida's thinking is radical, provocative, controversial, and even difficult. This book looks afresh at Derrida's thinking in relation to architecture. It simplifies his ideas in a clear, concise way. As well as a review of Derrida's interaction with architecture, it is also a careful consideration of the implications of his thinking, particularly on the way architecture is practiced. The Scope of Architectural Theory Jon Lang, 2025-06-03 This book comprehensively lays out the knowledge base required for architectural practice and education at a time when artificial intelligence (AI) algorithms are shaping the way architects think. Architects, with a desire to retain their creative role in the design of buildings and urban spaces, must understand and articulate the theoretical bases of their work and what it can achieve. This book provides a clear structure and outline of both the functional and procedural theoretical base for architects to employ in their work. It offers an intellectually rigorous basis that allows architects to understand the evolution of architecture through history as well as the advocacies of individual architects. It provides them with the scope of architectural theory necessary for designing for the future. The book can be a valuable reference for researchers and professionals interested in architectural theory and allied fields. Introducing Architectural Theory Korydon Smith, Miguel Guitart, 2024-01-22 Building on the success of the first edition, an engaging and reader-friendly work on complex ideas.

Introducing Architectural Theory: Expanding the Disciplinary Debate broadens the range of themes, voices, and geographies represented to provide a more comprehensive and contemporary theory book. This book presents major discourses in architectural theory and design in a debate-like format, integrating a series of edited texts across architectural history with context and newly written commentaries by the authors. This new edition has been fully revised, updated, and expanded to include long-standing debates such as simplicity vs. complexity or the relationship between form and function, as well as newer discussions on innovation, globalization, and social equity. Authors Smith and Guitart provide a comprehensive means and conceptual framework for readers to compare multiple points of view. The chapter structure, discussion questions, and additional resources allow teachers to facilitate in-class discussions and writing assignments. This book remains the most accessible architectural theory textbook written for beginning architecture students and those outside the discipline. Its reflective and critical approach will equally engage the minds of upper-level students and experts. The Figure of Knowledge Sebastiaan Loosen, Rajesh Heynickx, Hilde Heynen, 2020-10-01 It is a major challenge to write the history of post WWII architectural theory without boiling it down to a few defining paradigms An impressive anthologising effort during the 1990s charted architectural theory mostly via the various theoretical frameworks employed such as critical theory critical regionalism deconstructivism and pragmatism Yet the intellectual contours of what constitutes architectural theory have been constantly in flux It is therefore paramount to ask what kind of knowledge has become important in the recent history of architectural theory and how the resulting figure of knowledge sets the conditions for the actual arguments made The contributions in this volume focus on institutional geographical rhetorical and other conditioning factors They thus screen the unspoken rules of engagement that postwar architectural theory ascribed to
