SUMMARY - Thinking, Fast and Slow by Daniel Kahneman Shortcut

Edition,2020-11-05 Our summary is short simple and pragmatic It allows you to have the essential ideas of a big book in less than 30 minutes As you read this summary you will learn what the author understood from the many experiences he had with the way we think and make decisions He carried out these experiments with the help of psychologists and economists You will also discover that the result of these analyses has made it possible to determine two systems of thought that intuition and reflection are two separate functions that very often we act without thinking and that the decisions we make without thinking are not necessarily bad that the optimism inherent in human nature leads us towards capitalism that decision making involves both systems of thought The purpose of this book is to distinguish between intuition and reflection the two speeds of thought that Daniel Kahneman calls System 1 intuition and System 2 reflection Without going so far as to say that Man has two brains he details with the help of his experiences the capital differences of these two ways of thinking and shows that these two systems can sometimes be in competition but also prove to be complementary Daniel Kahneman specifies that most of his research was done with Amos Tversky an Israeli psychologist who has since passed away Other psychologists call this Fast Thinking intuition and Slow Thinking reflection but the author prefers to call the two systems because their processes are very different It is these two systems that will be analyzed in this book His experiments do not necessarily follow a logic of sequence and do not necessarily have links between them Buy now the summary of this book for the modest price of a cup of coffee

maybe you've already read the book but need a refresh on the most important takeaways. In a quick easy listen you can take the main principles from Thinking Fast and Slow. In the 2011 bestseller Thinking Fast and Slow Daniel Kahneman an economist and psychologist writes about the way humans make decisions and judgements in a complex world. One of the most renowned economic scholars his work is also commonly used in sectors such as psychology and even policy making. In Thinking Fast and Slow Kahneman helpfully points out the errors in thinking that people commonly have and fall victim to. He frames them as a series of illusions in a well organized direct fashion. Through this work he enables readers to better make decisions and resist any harmful proclivities they may have. Throughout the book he extensively details the factors that go into the unseen side of our choices. He gives heaps of statistical information as well as coloring this information with various vignettes showcasing different studies done by him and other researchers who inspired or furthered his work. Crucially he discusses the roles of two systems in our mind the fast and the slow brain System 1 and System 2 respectively. These two systems often fail us leading us to make decisions based on our intuition rather than all the information in front of us nevertheless they stem from evolutionary measures meant to keep us safe and by understanding how these thoughts work we can learn how to make stronger decisions.

Summary - Thinking, Fast and Slow: Instant-Summary, 2017-12-25 Thinking Fast and Slow A Complete and Detailed Summary The first chapter begins with Daniel Kahneman's description of two main characters of the book neither of which are people. He refers to something that he calls System 1 and System 2. System 1 is dedicated to thinking fast. It almost solely relies on intuition and almost entirely disregards information. System 1 is in control every time we do an activity that requires quick thinking and reactions. For example System 1 is in control when we drive when we want to read other people's facial expressions when we answer to questions that require quick answers etc. Kahneman states that System 1 is involuntary and operates entirely on its own. System 2 thinks slowly and always relies on information and almost never on intuition. System 2 is in control when we try to solve difficult math problem when we want to focus our attention on the voice of person in a room full of people when we fill in tax forms or during any other events that are based on awareness. System 2 requires energy because it operates voluntarily.
