Zero To Three The Cave Canem Poetry Prize

Julie LeMay

Zero To Three The Cave Canem Poetry Prize:

Zero to Three F. Douglas Brown, 2014 What started out as a way to address dealing with parenting and in particular fatherhood became a series of poems focused on familial roles and situations that are difficult to articulate even among family members The poems in Zero to Three mark both the change in the child and in the father who is also a son himself The term zero to three derives from the developmental period that many clinicians and pediatricians believe is the most fundamental phase for children whose delicate brains are undergoing drastic and formative change Research also shows that parents undergo formative change alongside their children during this period from conception to toddler age These poems do not intend to offer a definitive stance on parenting or fatherhood but rather to capture an emotional gestational period that extends beyond the womb and exceeds beyond the grave They celebrate pop culture and family as well as lament the anguish and frustration of a parent losing his temper or a parent losing a parent Ultimately these poems attempt to sing and dance in the fact that parenting is a wonderful mystery to witness and experience The Echo of Ice Letting Go Julie LeMay, 2017-02-15 Rooted in the harsh yet beautiful landscape of Alaska this collection of poems is at once comforting and disquieting permeated with wisdom darkness and resilience Taken together the poems form a powerful narrative as Julie Hungiville LeMay relates a personal story of the recurrence of cancer and interweaves it with an account of her son's struggle with addiction In a world of so much pain her poems ask how can we find meaning The answer often is nature among spruce branches that whisper and the yellow joy of warblers Half found poems that contain lines from John Muir's essays are arranged throughout the book like touchstones while other poems invoke the spirit of Wordsworth LeMay's voice is precise and clear her lines musical and sonically rich making this ambitious wide ranging book one that readers won't soon forget The Beiging of America, Personal Narratives about Being Mixed Race in the 21st Century Cathy J.

Schlund Vials, Tara Betts, Sean Frederick Forbes, 2017-07-08 THE BEIGING OF AMERICA BEING MIXED RACE IN THE 21ST CENTURY takes on race matters and considers them through the firsthand accounts of mixed race people in the United States Edited by mixed race scholars Cathy J Schlund Vials Sean Frederick Forbes and Tara Betts this collection consists of 39 poets writers teachers professors artists and activists whose personal narratives articulate the complexities of interracial life THE BEIGING OF AMERICA is an absorbing and thought provoking collection of stories that explore racial identity alienation with people often forced to choose between races and cultures in their search for self identity While underscoring the complexity of the mixed race experience these unadorned voices offer a genuine poignant enlightening and empowering message to all readers The Virginia Quarterly Review, 2015 The Georgia Review, 2018 Ghost Fishing

Melissa Tuckey, 2018-04-01 Ghost Fishing is the first anthology to focus solely on poetry with an eco justice bent A culturally diverse collection entering a field where nature poetry anthologies have historically lacked diversity this book presents a rich terrain of contemporary environmental poetry with roots in many cultural traditions Eco justice poetry is poetry born of deep cultural attachment to the land and poetry born of crisis Aligned with environmental justice activism and thought eco justice poetry defines environment as the place we work live play and worship This is a shift from romantic notions of nature as a pristine wilderness outside ourselves toward recognition of the environment as home a source of life health and livelihood Ghost Fishing is arranged by topic at key intersections between social justice and the environment such as exile migration and dispossession war food production human relations to the animal world natural resources and extraction environmental disaster and cultural resilience and resistance This anthology seeks to expand our consciousness about the interrelated nature of our experiences and act as a starting point for conversation about the current state of our environment

Black Nature Camille T. Dungy, 2009 Black Nature is the first anthology to focus on nature writing by African American poets a genre that until now has not commonly been counted as one in which African American poets have participated Black poets have a long tradition of incorporating treatments of the natural world into their work but it is often read as political historical or protest poetry anything but nature poetry This is particularly true when the definition of what constitutes nature writing is limited to work about the pastoral or the wild Camille T Dungy has selected 180 poems from 93 poets that provide unique perspectives on American social and literary history to broaden our concept of nature poetry and African American
