Art And Engagement Arnold Berleant, 1993-03-29 In this book Arnold Berleant develops a bold alternative to the eighteenth century aesthetic of disinterestedness Centering on the notion of participatory engagement in the appreciation of art he explores its appearance in art and in aesthetic perception especially during the past century Aesthetic engagement becomes a key both on historical and theoretical grounds to making intelligible our experiences with both contemporary and classical arts In place of the traditional aesthetic that enjoins the appreciator to adopt a contemplative attitude distancing the art object in order to ensure its removal from practical uses Art and Engagement examines the ways in which art entices us into intimate participation in its workings Beginning with the historical and theoretical underpinnings of the idea of engagement Berleant focuses on how engagement works as a force in different arts Successive chapters pursue its influence in landscape painting architecture and environmental design literature music dance and film Art and Engagement argues forcefully for the originality and power of aesthetic perception Demolishing the conceptual barriers erected by the Western world's limiting tradition the book discloses the condition of engagement that has always been present when our aesthetic encounters have been most effective and suggests a new direction for aesthetic inquiry

Topophrenia Robert T. Tally, 2018-11-09 What is our place in the world and how do we inhabit understand and represent this place to others Topophrenia gathers essays by Robert Tally that explore the relationship between space place and mapping on the one hand and literary criticism history and theory on the other The book provides an introduction to spatial literary studies exploring in detail the theory and practice of geocriticism literary cartography and the spatial humanities more generally The spatial anxiety of disorientation and the need to know one's location even if only subconsciously is a deeply felt and shared human experience Building on Yi Fu Tuan's topophilia or love of place Tally instead considers the notion of topophrenia as a simultaneous sense of place consciousness coupled with a feeling of disorder anxiety and dis ease He argues that no effective geography could be complete without also incorporating an awareness of the lonely loathsome or frightening spaces that condition our understanding of that space Tally considers the tension between the objective ordering of a space and the subjective ways in which narrative worlds are constructed Narrative maps present a way of understanding that seems realistic but is completely figurative So how can these maps be used to not only understand the real world but also to put up an alternative vision of what that world might otherwise be From Tolkien to Cervantes Borges to More Topophrenia provides a clear and compelling explanation of how geocriticism the spatial humanities and literary cartography help us to narrate represent and understand our place in a constantly changing world
