Perspectives on Translation, Education and Innovation in Japanese and Korean Societies David G.

Hebert, 2018-03-08 This book studies the three concepts of translation, education and innovation from a Nordic and international perspective on Japanese and Korean societies. It presents findings from pioneering research into cultural translation, Japanese and Korean linguistics, urban development, traditional arts and related fields. Across recent decades, Northern European scholars have shown increasing interest in East Asia. Even though they are situated on opposite sides of the Eurasia landmass, the Nordic nations have a great deal in common with Japan and Korea, including vibrant cultural traditions, strong educational systems and productive social democratic economies. Taking a cross-cultural and interdisciplinary approach and in addition to the examination of the three key concepts, the book explores several additional intersecting themes including sustainability, nature, humour, aesthetics, cultural survival and social change, discourse and representation. This book offers a collection of original interdisciplinary research from the 25th anniversary conference of the Nordic Association for Japanese and Korean Studies 2013. Its 21 chapters are divided into five parts according to interdisciplinary themes: Translational Issues in Literature; Analyses of Korean and Japanese Languages; Language Education; Innovation and New Perspectives on Culture and The Arts in Innovative Societies. On Methods of Music Theory and (ethno-) Musicology Nico Schüller, 2005 Although all research makes use of specific research methods, much music scholarship is being published without any reference to or reflection on the premises of the methods employed. In other words, published articles and books are often lacking a discussion of the scope and limitations of the research methods. Furthermore, music theory, musicology, ethnomusicology, music psychology etc. are not independent disciplines, nor is research in those areas an activity to be defined once and for all. These areas have strong methodological relationships to each other as well as to areas outside the field of music. This book discusses some of the methodological premises on which music research in the areas of music theory, ethno musicology and music psychology is based and focuses on selected interdisciplinary approaches. It also discusses teaching approaches to music theory. Theory, Method, Sustainability, and Conflict Svanibor Pettan, Jeff Titon, 2019-02-20 The nine ethnomusicologists who contributed to this volume, balanced in age and gender and hailing from a diverse array of countries, share the goal of stimulating further development in the field of ethnomusicology. By theorizing applied ethnomusicology, offering histories and detailing practical examples, they explore the themes of peace and conflict, studies, ecology, sustainability and the theoretical and methodological considerations that accompany them. Theory, Method, Sustainability and Conflict is the first of three paperback volumes derived from the original Oxford Handbook of Applied Ethnomusicology, which can be understood as an applied ethnomusicology project as a medium of getting to know the thoughts and experiences of global ethnomusicologists of enriching general knowledge and understanding about ethnomusicologies and applied ethnomusicologies in various parts of the world and of inspiring readers to put the accumulated knowledge understanding and skills into good use for the betterment of our world
