Time Space And The Unknown Maasai Configurations Of Power And Providence:

Time, Space, and the Unknown Paul Spencer, 2003 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Time, Space and the Unknown Paul Spencer, 2004-02-24 First Published in 2004 Uncertainty is an aspect of existence among the Maasai in East Africa They take ritual precautions against mystical misfortune especially at their ceremonial gatherings which exude displays of confidence and generate a sense of time space community and being Yet their performances are undermined by a concern for clandestine psychopaths who are thought to create havoc through sorcery Normally elders seek moral explanations for erratic encounters with misfortune viewing God as the Supreme and unknowable figure of Providence However sorcery lies beyond their collective wisdom and they look for guidance from their Prophet as a more powerful sorcerer to whom they are bound for protection This work examines the variation of this pattern associated with different profiles of social life and tension across the Maasai federation Maasai Childhood Xiaojie Tian, 2024-12-11 This book aims to provide comprehensive ethnographic documentation of pastoralist childhood and child learning based on the author s long term fieldwork in pastoralist Maasai society in southern Kenya It conveys a timely account of the developmental niche in contemporary Maasai society in children s lives social roles work play and learning in family routines Pastoralism is an important livelihood system that has allowed humans to live in arid and semi arid lands for centuries Children in pastoralist societies are expected to and indeed do actively and independently participate in and contribute to local subsistence from an early age Compared to studies of other forms of livelihood anthropological investigations into pastoralist children remain limited particularly in light of critical social changes pastoralists have undergone in the last three decades Less is known about their local parenting ethnotheories childhood play and children s practices of self reliance in making positive changes in their families and local communities Having a better understanding of pastoral childhood in concurrent natural and social complexities is vital for further investigation of human development in general and the pastoralist culture in particular Agricultural Intensification, Environmental Conservation, Conflict and Co-Existence at Lake Naivasha, Kenya, 2024-06-24 This interdisciplinary volume provides a comprehensive and rich analysis of the century long socio ecological transformation of Lake Naivasha Kenya Major globalised processes of agricultural intensification biodiversity conservation efforts and natural resource extraction have simultaneously manifested themselves in this one location These processes have roots in the colonial period and have intensified in the past decades after the establishment of the cut flower industry and the geothermal energy industry The chapters in this volume exemplify the multiple intertwined socio environmental crises that consequently have played out in Naivasha in the past and the present and that continue to shape its future The Maasai of Matapato Paul Spencer, 2004-03-01 When first published in 1988 this classic study was the first to relate the dynamics of the Maasai age organisation to the tensions within the family Together these provide the twin strands of a man s career opposed ritually and reflecting a fundamental ambivalence in Maasai

thought The analysis is illustrated with extensive case material from the the Matapato selected for this study as a typical Maasai group Gendered Institutions and Women's Political Representation in Africa Diana Højlund

Madsen,2020-12-24 During the course of the past three decades efforts of democratisation and institutional reforms have characterised the African continent including demands for gender equality and women s political representation As a result some countries have introduced affirmative action measures either in the aftermath of conflicts or as part of broader constitutional reforms whereas others are falling behind this fast track to women s political representation Utilising a range of case studies spanning both the success cases and the less successful cases from different regions this work examines the uneven developments on the continent By mapping analysing and comparing women s political representation in different African contexts this book sheds light on the formal and informal institutions and the interplay between these that are influencing women s political representation and can explain the development on women s political representation across the continent and present perspectives on an African feminist institutionalism Global Warming in Local Discourses: How

Communities around the World Make Sense of Climate Change Michael Brüggemann,Simone Rödder,2020-12-08 Global news on anthropogenic climate change is shaped by international politics scientific reports and voices from transnational protest movements This timely volume asks how local communities engage with these transnational discourses The chapters in this volume present a range of compelling case studies drawn from a broad cross section of local communities around the world reflecting diverse cultural and geographical contexts From Greenland to northern Tanzania it illuminates how different understandings evolve in diverse cultural and geographical contexts while also revealing some common patterns of how people make sense of climate change Global Warming in Local Discourses constitutes a significant new contribution to understanding the multi perspectivity of our debates on climate change further highlighting the need for interdisciplinary study within this area It will be a valuable resource to those studying climate and science communication those interested in understanding the various roles played by journalism NGOs politics and science in shaping public understandings of climate change as well as those exploring the intersections of the global and the local in debates on the sustainable transformation of societies

Architecture of First Societies Mark M. Jarzombek,2013-10-28 ARCHITECTURE OF FIRST SOCIETIES THIS LANDMARK STUDY TRACES THE BEGINNINGS OF ARCHITECTURE BY LOOKING AT THE LATEST ARCHAEOLOGICAL AND ANTHROPOLOGICAL RESEARCH From the dawn of human society through early civilizations to pre Columbian American societies Architecture of First Societies traces the different cultural formations that developed in various places throughout the world to form the built environment It is the first book to explore the beginnings of architecture from a global perspective Viewing ancient cultures through a lens of both time and geography this history of early architecture brings its subjects to life with full color photographs maps and drawings The author cites the latest discoveries and analyses in archaeology and anthropology and discovers links to the past by examining how indigenous societies build today Encounters with Modernity sections examine some of the political issues that village life and its architectural traditions face in the modern world This fascinating and engaging tour of our architectural past Fills a gap in architectural education concerning early mankind the emergence of First Society people and the rise of early agricultural societies Presents the story of early architecture written by the coauthor of the acclaimed A Global History of Architecture Uses the most current research to develop a global picture of human interaction and migration Features color and black and white photos and drawings that show site conditions as well as huts houses and other buildings under construction in cultures that still exist today Highlights global relationships with color maps Analyzes topics ranging in scale from landscape and culture to building techniques Helps us come to terms with our own modern approaches to historical conditions and anthropological pasts Architecture of First Societies is ideal reading for anyone who seeks a deeper understanding of the strong relationships between geography ecology culture and architecture

When Norms Collide Karisa Cloward, 2016-02-02 When Norms Collide examines the conditions under which transnational activism leads individuals and communities to abandon local norms and embrace international ones It investigates the local dynamics of norm conflicts around female genital mutilation and early marriage

Building a Peaceful Nation Paul Bjerk, 2015 A compelling account of the establishment of Tanzania's stable and ambitious government in the face of external threats and internal turmoil
