Betwixt two seas, poems and ballads by Violet Fane baroness Mary Montgomerie Currie,1900 Under Cross and Crescent. Poems Violet FANE (pseud.),1896 The Anthem Anthology of Victorian Sonnets Michael J. Allen,2011-02-15 The Anthem Anthology of Victorian Sonnets is a comprehensive collection of three thousand sonnets written by poets between 1836 and the early years of the twentieth century The work contains a representative selection of sonnets for each individual poet in order to display the diversity and innovation brought to the sonnet form by Victorian poets The Women Aesthetes vol 1 Jane Spirit,Sue Asbee,Mary Joannou,Claire Nicholson,2024-08-07 The aesthetic movement dominated the closing decades of the nineteenth century It was significant for the role women played in it at a time when there were growing opportunities for them both artistically and professionally The material in this collection provides a representative selection of essays fiction poetry and drama by female authors Victorian Pets and Poetry Kevin Morrison,2021-05-09 Some of the most celebrated poets of the Victorian era wrote at times movingly or humorously about their pets They did so in a wider literary context for poetry about pets was ubiquitous in the period Animal welfare organizations utilized poems about canine and feline suffering in institutional publications to call attention to various abuses

Elegies and epitaphs over the loss of a beloved cat songbird or dog were printed on funeral cards tombstones and appeared in mass produced poetry collections as well as those intended for an intimate circle of friends Yet poems about pets as well as attendant issues such as breeding and overpopulation have not received the kind of critical analysis devoted to fictional works and short stories With an introduction afterword and eight essays offering new perspectives on significant as well as lesser known poems Victorian Pets and Poetry remedies this omission

Decadence and Orientalism in England and Germany, 1880-1920 Katharina Herold-Zanker, 2024-04-05 Decadence and Orientalism in England and Germany 1880 1920 examines the Orientalist portrayal of Middle Eastern cultures in Decadent Literatures in England and Germany at the turn of the century This book argues that the role of Orientalism in literary Decadence uniquely exposes its paradoxical engagement with other cultures In bringing together two fin de siècle European literatures this comparative study makes a case for the transnational if not imperial nature of Decadence The East emerges as an indispensable mediator between various versions of European Decadence The book examines the role of the East with specific reference to selected English and German authors starting from Oscar Wilde's Victorian vision of Egypt and Arthur Symonds's and Violet Fane's image of Constantinople it moves to Paul Scheerbart's and Else Lasker-Schöler's Decadent Babylon and Assyria and concludes by turning to Stefan George's exclusion of the East from his poetic practice The geographical reach of the East focuses on regions of the Eastern Mediterranean and Northern Africa The cultural translation of specifically the Middle East into different European national contexts gains new sometimes oppositional meanings avoiding a one-sided representation of both the East and the two national literatures that absorbed it In arguing for a Decadent cosmopolitanism as a model of heterogeneous inclusivity that reaches beyond the binaries established by Edward Said's Orientalism the present book brings twenty-first century theories of cosmopolitanism into dialogue with art history and literature to uncover striking synergies and interdependences between the different manifestations of Decadence in England and Germany

The Inequality of Pay Henry Phelps Brown, 1977 This book examines late nineteenth and early twentieth century literature written in England and Germany exploring the relationship between Orientalism Decadence and cosmopolitanism arguing that representations of the East played a critical role in the literary landscape of Decadence over this period

Betwixt Two Seas Violet Fane, 1900 Women Poets in the Victorian Era Fabienne Moine, 2016-03-09 Examining the place of nature in Victorian women's poetry Fabienne Moine explores the work of canonical and long neglected women poets to show the myriad connections between women and nature during the period At the same time she challenges essentialist discourses that assume innate affinities between women and the natural world Rather Moine shows Victorian women poets mobilised these alliances to defend common interests and express their engagement with social issues While well-known poets such as Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Christina Rossetti are well represented in Moine's study she pays particular attention to lesser known writers such as Mary Howitt or Eliza Cook who were popular during their lifetimes or Edith Nesbit whose verse has received scant critical attention so far

She also brings to the fore the poetry of many non professional poets Looking to their immediate cultural environments for inspiration these women reconstructed the natural world in poems that raise questions about the validity and the scope of representations of nature ultimately questioning or undermining social practices that mould and often fossilise cultural identities

Since the late twentieth century there has been a strategic campaign to recover the impact of Victorian women writers in the field of English literature However with the increased understanding of the importance of interdisciplinarity in the twenty first century there is a need to extend this campaign beyond literary studies in order to recognise the role of women writers across the nineteenth century a time that was intrinsically interdisciplinary in approach to scholarly writing and public intellectual engagement
