serve those who grieve with his writing and art Barren Fig-Tree A. Geyer, Brother Hermenegild, 2013-03-19 Although there is not a time not a day indeed I might say not an hour in human existence when man should not be working for his eternal salvation yet the holy season of Lent in particular is a time during which the Christian must think quite especially of his sanctification and the salvation of his immortal soul Behold I would exclaim with St Paul respecting this holy season now is the acceptable time now is the day of salvation II Cor vi 2 These are the days when looking upon the Son of God who fasted for our sins looking upon Christ crucified who gave up His blood and life for the sake of our offences we should fast perform works of penance die to our sins and thereby make sure of our eternal salvation To this great and holy end our holy Church who has the salvation of souls always in view has ordered us to fast according to the will of Jesus Christ She has chosen the period preceding the holy festival of Easter as a time for fasting because during this time our Divine Redeemer suffered for our sins and that we may do penance with Him for our own transgressions During this time does the Church put on the color of mourning to remind us to wail over our sins and errors and sincerely to repent for them During this time she orders doleful anthem to be sung during the Divine service instead of hymns of joy to make us feel the grievousness and misery of our sins Towards the end of Lent she demands of us to blot out our sins by tears of contrition and a perfect confession and penance as Christ blotted them out on the cross by His blood And finally our holy Church demands of us that when we have in union with our Lord done sufficient penance for our sins and have risen with Him to a new life we should intone a joyous Alleluiah on the day of the Resurrection after having gained victory over sin as He did over death and placed the salvation of our souls in safety during the holy season of Lent Behold the object of fasting And that the faithful should feel themselves more and more impelled to do their utmost to attain this object It is the sacred duty of the priest continually to urge them thereto and to keep before their souls the necessity of penance And the return to God is the necessity of saying their souls Well now I will fulfil this sacred duty by showing you that you are created for the purpose of making your souls happy everlastingly by truly serving God and not only during this holy season but during the whole of your lives living virtuously performing good works and by completely dying to your sins During this important season of the ecclesiastical year I shall endeavor to lay all these truths to your hearts by explaining to you in the order of its important contents the parable of the barren fig tree as Jesus Christ relates it to us in the Gospel of St Luke xiii 6 9 The Barren Fig-tree, 1887 Under the Fig Tree Rae E. Whitney, 2007 The Barren Fig-Tree A. Geyer, 2015-07-18 Excerpt from The Barren Fig Tree Spiritual Reading for Lent Preface Introduction Chapter I Man was created by God and destined for eternal happiness Chapter II Man was created by God and destined for eternal happiness Continued Chapter III Man must bring forth good and not evil fruit if he would fulfil the end for which he was created Chapter IV Man must bring forth good and not evil fruit if he would fulfil the end for which he was created Continued Chapter V What good fruit must man bring forth in order to fulfil the end for which he was created Chapter VI What good fruit must man bring forth in order to fulfil the end for which he was created Continued About the
